Bob Kennedy Gets Okay

President Of WVU Kennedy Choice As Army Secretary

DESIGNATED — Elvis J. Stahr, 44, president of West Virginia University, Morgantown, W. Va., is the choice of President-elect Kennedy for Secretary of the Army congressional sources said yesterday. Announcement is expected today. (AP Photofax)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Formal announcement of the West Virginia University President Elvis J. Stahr Jr. as new secretary of the Army is expected today.

Stahr wouldn't confirm or deny the report, but other sources said the 43-year-old one - time Army secretary, had been tendered the appointment and had accepted.

President-elect John F. Kennedy is expected to make the announcement Saturday at Palm Beach, Fla.

The University Board of Governors will meet in Charleston Saturday and Stahr's status will be clarified at that time.

The fact that the board, which has the authority in hiring a president, is meeting at this time apparently is a coincidence. The meeting had been scheduled prior to the report that Stahr was leaving, sources said.

Assistant To Pace

There was no indication whether Stahr, who has been president of the University less than two years, might ask for a leave of absence or would resign outright.

Stahr served as special assistant to Frank Pace during the Korean War when the latter was secretary of the Army in the early '50s. He was appointed University president effective last Feb. 1, coming here from the University of Pittsburgh where he had been vice chancellor.

The first disclosure of Stahr's impending appointment was made in the Morgantown Dominion - News' Friday morning editions.

Stahr is a native of Hickman, Ky., and graduate from the University of Kentucky in 1936. He then studied for three years at Britain's Oxford University under a Rhodes scholarship and afterwards joined a large New York law firm before entering the Army.

He was an infantry officer in World War II, with two years of overseas service. He saw duty in China, North Africa and India.

Dean At 32

After the war, Stahr returned to the law firm for a brief time and in 1947 was appointed associate law professor at his alma mater, Kentucky.

A year later, at the age of 32, he was elevated to dean of the College of Law.

Stahr took a leave of absence from Kentucky to serve as assistant to Pace during the Korean War. He returned to the University and was made provost in 1954.

In 1956, he was named executive director of President Eisenhower's Committee on Higher Education and a year later was appointed vice chancellor at Pitt.

He was chosen as West Virginia University president Aug. 2, 1958, but agreed to remain at Pitt until the following February while a successor was being found.

USSR Moves On Belgium Challenged

By BRUCE W. MUNN

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The United States and Britain accused Russia Friday of attacking Belgium and its Ruanda-Urundi trusteeship solely to further the Kremlin campaign to wreck the United Nations.

"In typical Soviet fashion, an elephant gun has been trained on a mosquito," Ambassador James W Bargo, deputy chief ofthe U.S. delegation, told the Security Council. "To accuse Belgium of aggression is, to say the least, total distortion."

British Ambassador Sir Patrick Dean said he found the Soviet charges against Belgium "a regrettable commentary on the Soviet attitude to the United Nations — a blend of cynicism and contempt."

The Soviet's charges were based on a New Year's Day incident in which Belgium permitted Congolese troops to cross the border from Ruanda-Urundi, a Belgian-administered territory under the U.N. trusteeship system, into the pro-Lumumba Congo province of Kivu.

Presenting the Soviet charge that this constituted "fresh acts of aggression" by Belgium against the Congo, Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin demanded that the Belgians be stripped of Ruanda-Urundi, ordered to withdraw all civilian and military personnel from the Congo, and that ousted leftist Premier Patrice Lumumba be restored and the country restored to government by a parliament under his control. But the Russian offered no resolution.

The United Arab Republic, Ceylon and Liberia proposed a resoas administering authority of Ruanda - Urundi, "immediately to cease all action against the republic of the Congo." The measure also recommended that the General Assembly consider the New Year's incident as a violation of Belgium's trusteeship agreement on Ruanda-Urundi and called on Belgium to withdraw immediately from the Congo all "Belgian military and paramilitary personnel, advisers and technicians."

The council postponed action and adjourned until Saturday.

German Freighter Disappears In North

GOTEBERG, Sweden (UPI)—A German freighter disappeared and apparently sank in the North Sea off Sweden early Friday, leaving behind no trace of the nine crew members aboard.

Officials said 13 ships answered a distress call from the 427-ton freighter Muensterland. But by the time they converged on the scene, all they found was an oil slick, 10 empty lifeboats, a capsized raft and some wreckage believed to have come from the missing vessel.

There was no sign of any of the crew—which included one woman.

Officials said it was almost certain the Muensterland had sunk. But experts said they had no idea why, since the sea was relatively calm at the time.

House Of Correction Contraband

State Trooper M. H. Klos, Warden William Steiner of the Maryland House of Correction, and Alvin J. T. Zumbrun, managing director of the Maryland Crime Investigating Committee, examine contraband found at the prison in Jessup. Zumbrun said a pint of whisky and five medicinal inhalers were passed to two prison trustees on a work detail in Baltimore, to support his contention such items are being smuggled into Maryland correctional institutions. (Story on Page 2). (AP Photofax)

Former Head American Legion Named Administrator Of VA

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — John S. Gleason Jr., a Chicago banker and former national commander of the American Legion, was chosen Friday night by President - elect John F. Kennedy to head the Veterans Administration.

Gleason will succeed Sumner G. Whittier as administrator of the large agency which administers the varied federal programs of benefits for former members of the armed forces.

There also were strong indications Friday that George Docking, former Democratic governor of Kansas, would be named to the board of directors of the Export-Import Bank. Sources within the new administration said Docking was under "serious consideration."

Former Gov. Herschel Loveless of Iowa also remained under active consideration for a top federal post.

After protracted discussions here Friday with Secretary of State-designate Dean Rusk, Kennedy released the appointment of Gleason, and also, announced his decision to retain two technical experts of the Defense Department.

Lyle S. Garlock, who has been in the Defense Department for nine years, was retained as assistant Air Force secretary for financial management.

James H. Wakelin, a physicist with degrees from Dartmouth, Oxford and Yale, was selected for reappointment as assistant secretary of Navy for research and development, a post he has held since June, 1959. Garlock has been assistant Air Force secretary since 1954.

Gleason, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, was born in the same city Feb. 11, 1915. He is a Notre Dame graduate, but took post-graduate work at Harvard.

Rusk was with Kennedy for several hours. The secretary-designate reported that he and the president - elect discussed future foreign policy, as well as reaching agreement on the selection of a number of new State Department appointees to be announced next week.

Rusk later departed for New York aboard an Eastern Airlines jet airliner.

Royal Army Is Advancing On Rebel City

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The head of a royal army column advancing for the battle of north-central Laos is three miles south of the key rebel city of Xieng Khouang, a spokesman claimed Friday.

Information Minister Bouavan Norasang also said advance elements of a second column were 13 miles south of Xieng Khouang, eastern gateway to the strategic Plaine des Jarres.

Intelligence sources, however, said at the rate of progress now being made, a major offensive to oust the leftist rebels from the north - central plain still is at least two weeks away.

These sources said the four U.S.-supplied light planes, armed and flown by Laotians, strafed and rocketed enemy positions for the third day in a row. There was no report on their effectiveness.

The targets of the air strikes were said to be pro-Communist artillery positions in the hills 70 miles north of Vientiane, where skirmishing is in progress.

On this front, soldiers from Vientiane are trying to join up with other forces moving south from Luang Prabang, the royal capital 150 miles north of here.

Ike Prepares Record High Defense Dept. Budget

By CHARLES CORDDRY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower will send Congress a record peacetime defense budget of $42.9 billion, an increase of $1.4 billion over estimates for the current fiscal year.

Even so, it is about one billion less than the military forces wanted to carry out the stepped up defense program which Eisenhower ordered last year. The new funds are earmarked for the new fiscal year starting July 1.

Marked for cutbacks and stretch - outs are several aircraft, missile and space projects. Funds for daily operation and maintenance of the armed services also have been given what one official called a "harsh squeeze."

President-elect John F. Kenned, whose election campaign was based in part on claims that U.S. defenses are inadequate, will be under heavy pressure to increase the Eisenhower proposals.

As in the past, the Eisenhower budget would give about 45 per cent of the defense money to the Air Force, which has most of the top priority weapons.

Heavy emphasis is placed on intercontinental missiles and other massive retaliation weapons. But there also is an increase for modernized weapons and airlift for forces to prevent or counter limited aggression.

The division of money among the services is approximately this way:

Army—$10.4 billion; Navy—$11.9 billion; Air Force—$19.3 billion; Office of the Secretary of Defense—$1.3 billion.

The forces will start the new fiscal year with authorized manpower strength of 2,492,900. The Army will have 870,000; Navy—625,000; Marines—175,000; and Air Force—822,900.

Quake Rocks Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The greater Los Angeles area was jarred by a "sharp" local earthquake Friday night at 10:26 p.m. EST, but no damage or injuries were immediately reported.

Police and sheriff's office switch boards in Los Angeles, Glendale, and Pasadena were deluged with calls from persons who reported feeling the shock. The tremor also was felt as a jarring sensation in the Hollywood bureau of United Press International.

The seismograph at California Tech in Pasadena was not manned by scientists at the time of the shock at 10:26 p.m. EST. A student said the shock appeared "quite sharp," but he was unable to determine the intensity.

TORONTO (AP) — Mayor Nathan Phillips said Friday that when he made a speech for a job-creating, cleanup camaign his wife was listening.

Khrushchev-Mennon Meet To Air Laos

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev conferred in Moscow Friday with Indian Ambassador K. P. S. Menon on Laos amid signs that the powers are stepping up a search for a political solution of the crisis.

Moscow Radio announced the meeting but gave no details.

In London, officials reported the British government is intensifying diplomatic exchanges with other interested powers including the United States on the problem.

The Soviet Union and Britain share a special responsibility in insuring an end of the civil war. They were cochairmen of the 1954 Geneva conference that produced the Indochinese peace settlement.

India also has a key role as chairman of the international control commission which the powers want recalled to Laos in order to arrange a cease-fire.

Anti-Communist Nations Call Meeting In Manila

TOKYO (UPI) — Six strongly anti-Communist Asian nations will meet in Manila next week to prepare a united front against possible Communist aggression arising from the crisis in Laos, informed sources reported Friday.

The six nations are the Philippines, Nationalist China, Pakistan, Thailand, South Viet Nam and South Korea. Their foreign ministers are to discuss Laos in particular and the threat of Communist expansion in general, the sources said.

The diplomats also will re-examine their own regional security arrangements in the event the United States withdraws the bulk of its forces from the Far East, the sources said. Several nations have expressed fears this would happen. They based these fears on pronouncements of foreign policy advisers of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Calling of the six-nation conference pointed strongly to a deadlock in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. SEATO has held a dozen conferences in Bangkok in the last six weeks and each time the delegates have emerged with a wait-and-see attitude.

Reliable sources said the agenda would include the question of refusing to appease the Communist bloc in the southeast Asian jungle war. Opposition to re-establishment of the International Control Commission in Laos was indicated.

Court Order Reinstates Two Negroes

US Judge Tells University Of Ga. To Readmit Both

By AL KUETTNER

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — Two Negro students suspended from the University of Georgia because their presence sparked mob violence were ordered re-admitted Friday by a federal judge who suggested the rioting could have been averted.

Judge W. A. Bootle ruled at Macon, Ga., that the students, Charlayne Hunter, 18, and Hamilton Holmes, 19, must be allowed to re-enter the university by 8 a.m Monday.

It was expected that the two would wait until Monday before returning to the campus which they left under police escort Thursday morning, but Miss Hunter indicated she may return Saturday.

Told of Judge Bootle's ruling, she exclaimed, "Oh, but we have classes tomorrow." She refused further comment, saying she would have to consult with her attorneys, when pressed on whether she intended to return in advance of the deadline set by Bootle.

The judge voided suspension of the students saying that he did not "find or conclude that law and order in this state has broken down or that officials . . . are unwilling to enforce order."

Claims Force Adequate

Bootle said the happenings of the night of the riot demonstrated that the city of Athens had an adequate force to handle the demonstration.

Suggesting that the riot need never have occurred, the judge said he had been informed that adequate forces which were available had not been used and that therefore, in his opinion, law and order had not broken down.

This apparently was an obvious slap at state officials.

Following the rioting authorities of this college town charged that state police failed to cooperate during the demonstration and that there was a two hour delay between the time they requested

Uruguay Expels Cuban, Soviet Ambassadors

MONTEVIDEO (UPI) — Uruguay Friday night ordered the Cuban ambassador and a Soviet diplomat to leave the country within 48 hours.

The government delivered notes to the Cuban and Soviet embassies informing them the decision declaring Ambassador Mario Garcia Inchaustegui and Russian First Secretary Mijail K. Samoilov "perona non grata."

Unofficial reports said Samoilov, identified as the chief of Communist propaganda and agitation activities in Uruguay, may have left the country already. Both embassies declined comment.

A member of the ruling National Council, Cesar Batlle Pacheco, said he had voted for Garcia's expulsion because he represented "a Cuban government of thieves and bandits' and sought to subvert democracy in Uruguay.

Lumumba Fails To Gain Liberty At Thysville

By WILLIAM ANDERSON

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo—(UPI) — Strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu flew to the Thysville army camp Friday and personally put down unrest that threatened to lead to open revolt against him and to freedom for jailed leftist ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

After a day of wildfire rumors which said Lumumba had been freed and Mobutu himself jailed, it was disclosed that Lumumba still was behind bars at the Thysville camp. Mobutu remained in control in Leopoldville Province.

But a pro-Lumumba tide was spreading, fostered by Lumumba lieutenants in Stanleyville, Oriental Province, who were fanning out into neighboring Kivu and Equatorial provinces.

Two columns of pro-Lumumba troops were reported penetrating into Equatorial Province, the home territory of Mobutu.

(In Washington, diplomatic sources said pro-Lumumba factions might gain the upperhand by the time President-elect John F. Kennedy is inaugurated Jan. 20.).

Mobutu and President John Kasavuvu flew to Thysville after receiving word that the once-loyal paratroop garrison guarding Lumumba in a cell at Camp Hardy was on the verge of revolt.

Sources said the unrest was started by discontent over pay and of complaints of wives of troops Mobutu sent into Kivu Province on a abortive mission to smash the pro-Lumumba provincial government there. A number of the Mobutu troops were injured and taken captive.

The 2,000-man Thysville garrison could have led to Lumumba's return to power if it had rebelled.

But Mobutu turned the tide and flew back to Leopoldville Friday night.

Fighting was reported Friday in secessionist Katanga Province between forces of Katanga President Moise Tshombe and a pro-Lumumba force of 600 troops which invaded the Katangese town of Manono this week.

The U.N. command reported the situation at Manono was "very serious."

Two U.S. Navy Destroyers Collide Off Eastern Coast

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI)—Two Navy destroyers on maneuvers off the North Carolina coast collided Friday in the pre-dawn darkness. Both ships were damaged but all 460 crewmen aboard the two vessels escaped injury.

The collision was one of three sea mishaps reported Friday in the Atlantic and Caribbean.

A barge loaded with sulphur and carrying eight men broke up and sank off Palm Beach, Fla., and the Coast Guard in Miami reported that a Greek tanker, the Kissavos, was slowly sinking off Caribbean after being rocked by explosions.

Seven of the eight men involved in the barge incident were reported missing in rough seas. The other, a cook, was picked up by the ship which was towing the barge.

All 40 men aboard the tanker Kissavos were taken aboard the Panamanian motor vessel Sentinel. Four were reported suffering from burns.

The destroyers involved in the collision, which occurred at 4:20 a.m. EST, the Navy said, were the USS Johnston and the USS Keppler, both of the 2,420-ton class.

No details of the collision were available but the fact that the Johnston suffered bow damage indicated that she rammed the Keppler.

Senate Unit Also Favors Labor Choice

President-Elect Appointments Pass Congressional Quiz

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee Friday approved youthful Robert F. Kennedy to be attorney general, ignoring a Republican leader's suggestion that the president-elect's brother lacks legal background for the job.

Kennedy, 35, a millionaire, defended his experience in the law, promised an all-out attack on organized crime, and announced he has sold all his stocks to avoid any possibility of a conflict of interest.

At the same time, the Senate Labor Committee okayed former AFL-CIO lawyer Arthur J. Goldberg to be secretary of labor—with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., an old foe of the AFL-CIO, leading the cheers for Goldberg.

Three Others Favored

And three other Senate committees all but approved the nominations of Republican Douglas Dillon as secretary of the Treasury, Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut as secretary of welfare, former Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota as secretary of agriculture, and Rep. Stewart L. Udall, D-Ariz., as secretary of the interior.

These committees decided to wait for the formal nominations of Dillon, Ribicoff, Freeman and Udall after John F. Kennedy is inaugurated as president Jan. 20.

The Senate Finance Committee hearing on Ribicoff's nomination saw one odd note.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., lauded Ribicoff as "one of the ablest appointments made to the Cabinet in a long time" — this, even though Ribicoff is avowedly for two programs Byrd strongly opposes. These are a medical care for the aged plan tied to Social Security and federal aid to education.

Dean Rusk, designated secretary of state, was heard Thursday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which has not yet acted.

Three Choices Remain

Just three Kennedy Cabinet choices are yet to be considered by Senate committees — Robert V. McNamara to be secretary of defense, former Gov. Luther W. Hodges of North Carolina to be secretary of commerce and J. Edward Day to be postmaster general.

The entire Kennedy Cabinet is expected to win Senate confirmation without trouble, possibly a day after the new president takes over.

In general, Friday's hearings were marked by the kind of Republican-Democratic good feeling that usually prevails in the early days of a new administration — but often disappears in the heat of later party battles over legislation, budgets and the like.

Even the needling of Robert Kennedy by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and other GOP members was fairly gentle. And in the end, they joined the other committeemen in approving Kennedy's nomination.

Dirksen stressed he has no doubts about Robert Kennedy's character and that he "put no stock in the nepotism argument" — that is, the argument by some that the president-elect was showing favoritism for a relative in picking his brother for the Cabinet.

But while saying he thought Kennedy would do a top-flight job as administrator of the Justice Department, Dirksen said, "I think the country has always felt the attorney general should be a legal scholar."

Kennedy Unruffled

The Senate GOP chieftain noted that Kennedy never had practiced law privately but had worked in various government legal posts. The Kennedy appointment might set a precedent, Dirksen said, "if we depart now from someone who has had a long practice in the law."

Robert Kennedy, who appeared unruffled by Dirksen's line of questioning, recalled that he first went to work for the government in May 1951 as a Justice Department lawyer, held various staff legal jobs on Senate committees, and helped set up the Hoover Commission on government reorganization.

Missing Pilot Mystery Still Official Secret

Capt. Brace Walks Into FBI 10 Days After Plane Crash

QUANTICO, Va. (UPI)—Marine Corps and FBI investigators Friday kept a secrecy lid on the puzzling case of the missing pilot who reappeared 10 days after his $142,000 training plane crashed near the Choptank River on Maryland's eastern shore.

Capt. Ernest C. Brace, 29-year-old Korean veteran, reappeared at FBI headquarters in Baltimore early Friday morning. He had been feared dead after the wreckage of his T38 propeller plane had been found on Jan. 3.

FBI spokesmen said he offered no explanation for his vanishing act. Brace, married and the father of three sons, was returned to the Marine Corps base here for physical examination and informal questioning.

Quantico officials said a formal board of inquiry would be set up as soon as possible to investigate.

Brace's wife, Patricia, said from her home at nearby Dumphries, Va., that she had talked to her husband by phone. "He said he was all right and would see me as soon as he could," she reported.

Officials declined to speculate on why Brace failed to make his whereabouts known in the 10 days since his plane crashed after he took off from Quantico to "get in some flight time."

FBI spokesmen said Brace gave them this account:

After his plane developed trouble over Easton, Md., he bailed out and landed safely. He shucked his flying suit which he wore over civilian clothes and hitchhiked his way to Baltimore.

During his 10-day absence, Brace stayed in Baltimore hotels, agents reported.

1960 State Farmer Income Sets Record

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—An agricultural statistician said Friday gross cash income from farming in Maryland during 1960 is estimated at between $275 million and $280 million, a record for the state.

Creighton N. Guellow, in charge of the Maryland Crop Reporting Service here, said even though final figures on fall marketing were not available it "seems evident that gross cash receipts from farming in Maryland in 1960 were 5 to 6 per cent above 1959, and larger than any previous year."

He attributed the record gross largely to increased production along with an overall price level slightly higher than 1959. The previous record was $267 million in cash receipts in 1953.

Princess, Queen To See Sexy Film

LONDON (AP)—Britain's movie industry today picked a film dealing with sex and seduction for a royal screening before Princess Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth.

American-made, it stars Bob Hope and Lucille Ball and is titled "The Facts of Life."

The picture shows Hope spending calculating days and chaotic nights trying to seduce his wife's best friend. Such a risque theme is a sharp departure from the usually decorous and dignified movies selected for royal film premieres.

help from state police and the time it atcually arrived.

Miss Hunter and Holmes attended classes for the first time Wednesday and were quietly accepted by most of their fellow students.

There were a few jeers and shouted insults as they made their way to classes, accompanied by faculty members, but for the most part other students accepted the integration with detachment.

It wasn't until after a basketball game that night between the University of Georgia and arch rival Georgia Tech that rioting broke out.

Charge Klan Interference

Several students charged that Ku Klux Klansmen and race agitators who had no connection with the university caused the riot and egged on students.

Judge Bootle's ruling lifting the suspension was solemnly received at the university and officials refused comment pending an official study of the order.

It was expected they would be in touch with Attorney General Eugene Cook and other state officials to map plans for return of the two Negro students.

Bootle's orders left the matter of getting the students back on campus in state hands.

Ike To Spend Weekend On Farewell Talk

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — President Eisenhower, busy winding up eight years as chief executive, flew to his mountain retreat at Camp David Friday for a weekend of work on a farewell address to the nation.

After a day spent accepting government resignations and presiding over a final Cabinet meeting at which he refused to say goodbye, the President took a helicopter to the Maryland hideaway for two days of quiet among the trees and the snow.

He plans to return to Washington Sunday, and then speak to the nation on television and radio Tuesday night.

Exactly one week from the day when he will be succeeded in the White House by John F. Kennedy, Eisenhower presided over the final Cabinet meeting of his administration.

He told the group: "I just don't want to say goodbye. I wish you good luck. We'll be seeing each other from time to time."

The session lasted two and a half hours, and was a final summing-up. The conversation moved around the table with each member commenting on the work of his department, and the President and Vice President Richard M. Nixon speaking several times.

Only two members have been in office since Eisenhower took over in 1953. They are Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Agricultural Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

As a memento of the last eight years, the Cabinet members purchased the President's cabinet room chair from the government and presented it to Eisenhower. It will be placed in his office at Gettysburg College after he leaves the White House next week.

Curran Asks For Probe Of Md. Penal Institutions

BALTIMORE (AP) — The head of the Maryland Department of Correction, James W. Curran, Friday asked State Police to conduct a thorough investigation of the reported smuggling of contraband into State penal institutions.

Curran's request came after a pint of whisky and five medicinal inhalers were allegedly passed to a prison trusty working on an outside detail.

Alvin J. T. Zumbrun, managing director of the Maryland Crime Investigating Committee, said he initiated passage of the contraband to support his contention that such items are frequently smuggled into Maryland prisons.

While two trusties of the Maryland House of Correction were loading a truck at Baltimore's Market Place, Zumbrun reportedly had a young lady, identified as a member of his staff, engage a trusty in conversation, then pass him a brown paper bag containing the whisky and inhalers.

Zumbrun, accompanied by a reporter and photographer from the Baltimore Evening Sun, watched the action from a second - story window of a nearby building.

Under instructions from Zumbrun, the girl immediately went to a telephone and called Curran, telling him the contraband had been passed.

Curran called the House of Correction and told Warden William Steiner to notify State Police to intercept the vehicle.

When the truck entered the House of Correction grounds, it was halted by police and a search of the vehicle and the trusties was conducted. Police found the whisky beneath the seat in the truck cab and the five inhalers in trash cans in the truck. A search of the prisoners revealed nothing.

The guard who drove the truck denied any knowledge of the contraband. Prison officials began an immediate investigation to determine how long the prisoners had been on the detail, which is carried out daily.

The two prisoners are being "segregated" until the investigation is completed, Curran said.

In September, a Legislative Council committee studying Maryland prisons received from Zumbrun a list of persons he said could furnish information on the sale of contraband along with other illegal prison activities. The committee said it could not corroborate any of Zumbrun's information.

Meanwhile, Zumbrun said Friday's incident, "illustrates that marihuana and heroin could be sent in."

Zumbrun said the inhalers, containing mephentermine, are used by prisoners "to get high on."

SEC Investigates Endicott-Johnson

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Securities and Exchange Commission was reported Friday to be investigating dealings in stock of the Endicott - Johnson Corp., shoe manufacturing firm which is fighting against being taken over by a New York investment company.

The SEC refused to confirm or deny the report but a check of Wall Street brokerage houses disclosed they had received questionnaires from the government agency asking information on customer purchases and sales of Endicott-Johnson stock.

The stock has been active and strong in recent days. Its rise has been attributed partly to heavy stock purchases by citizens' groups in Endicott, Binghamton and Johnson City, N.Y., and company directors in an effort to head off a reported bid by the Glen Alden Co. a holding company, to take over the upstate firm.

Assembly Takes Step Toward Vote For DC Residents

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Maryland Legislature took another step Friday toward ratifying a constitutional amendment which would give District of Columbia residents the right to vote in federal elections.

The House and Senate passed resolutions originating in their respective chambers to ratify the amendment. If either chamber adopts the other's identical resolution, the Maryland ratification process will be completed.

There were no dissenting votes as the House acted on its resolution, but the Senate vote was 26-1 with one abstention.

Sen. Robert P. Dean, D-Queen Annes, said his vote against was based on a belief that a right to vote in local elections might later be granted to District residents. This would be unwise because government workers should remain above local politics, he said.

Sen. Frank E. Shipley, D-Howard, passed when his name was called on ratification.

"Because I still have a lot of faith in the wisdom of our forefathers," he explained.

Unemployment Total In U.S. Tops 4½ Million

Highest December Figure Since Great Depression

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Unemployment shot up to 4,540,000 last month, the greatest number for any December since the tail end of the great depression of the 1930's.

The Labor Department said the jobless total rose by 509,000 from November to December, three times the normal increase. The figure was considerably above the danger sign posted by most economists.

It was virtually certain that some 5.5 million would be out of work when President-elect John F. Kennedy takes office next Friday. Unemployment usually rises by about one million in January.

The department also disclosed in its monthly report that 3 million people were collecting unemployment insurance in the last week of December. This was the highest number ever for a post-Christmas week.

Inherits Serious Recession

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., outgoing chairman of the House-Senate Economic Committee told the Senate the figures showed the Kennedy administration is "inheriting a very serious recession."

With nearly all manufacturing industries hit by the slump, the average factory work week fell by 24 minutes to 38.8 hours. However, heavy snowstorms may have contributed to the larger than usual decline.

A rise in hourly earnings to $2.32 offset the dip in work time, so that the weekly earnings of the average factory worker were roughly unchanged at $90.02.

The big December increase in unemployment lifted the jobless rate to 6.8 per cent, compared to 6.3 per cent in November This means that 68 of every 1,000 men, women and teenagers in the labor force were looking for work.

Econimists consider a rate above 5 per cent a symptom of weakness in the economy.

Highest For Any December

The jobless total was the highest for any December since pre-World War II 1940, when 6.9 million persons were unemployed. Because of a smaller population then the 1940 jobless rate stood at 12.7 per cent.

The number of jobs declined in December in all 21 manufacturing industry groups surveyed by the Labor Department. Manufacturing employment last month totaled 15,846,000 down 238,000 from November and 638,000 from December, 1959.

Seymore Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of labor, said the "real brunt" of the rise in unemployment was borne by factory production workers. Since February the number of jobs in steel alone has dropped by 200,000.

Wolfbein said that with only normal, seasonal changes in unemployment and no further economic slippage, the unemployment totals would be 5.8 million in January, 5.6 million in February, 5.4 million in March and 4.9 million in April.

Bills Would Give Two US Plants To W. Va. Communities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bills designed to bring into use two surplus government plants in West Virginia are being offered in Congress.

The plants are the Naval Ordnance works in South Charleston and the Morgantown Ordnance Plant in Morgantown.

Rep. John M. Slack Jr., D-W.Va, introduced a bill in the House to give the South Charleston plant to the Business and Development Corp. of Kanawha Valley.

An aide to Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., said Staggers plans to offer Monday a bill to give the Morgantown plant to the Morgantown Community Association.

Both the corporation and the association are non-profit organizations.

Similar bills are being offered in the Senate by Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd, West Virginia Democrats.

The properties would be used for industrial development of the two areas and to relieve chronic unemployment.

AUTHOR DIES—Henry Morton Robinson, 62, of Tenafly, N. J., author of "The Cardinal" and other best-selling novels, died Friday in a New York hospital. Death followed burns suffered last month in a bathtub. (AP Photofax)

Noted Writer Dies Of Burns

NEW YORK (UPI)— Henry Morton Robinson, 62, author of the best-selling novel "The Cardinal," died Friday as a result of burns inflicted over his entire body when he fell asleep in a bathtub with the hot water running three weeks ago.

Robinson, of Tenafly, N.J., was admitted to University Hospital in critical condition Dec. 23 and lapsed into a coma a few hours before he died.

The author was born in Boston and received bachelor of arts and a master of arts degrees at Columbia University. He was an associate editor and a senior editor of Reader's Digest magazine from 1935 to 1945.

In addition to "The Cardinal" he wrote "Water of Life," "The Perfect Round," "Public Virtue, Private Good," "The Great Snow" and "Tale of Two Lovers."

Survivors include his widow, the former Vivian Wyndham, and three children by a previous marriage.

Arrest Made In Jewel Theft

NEW YORK (UPI)—FBI agents Friday arrested a 40-year-old convicted prostitute for stealing more than $7,000 in jewelry and cash from a jewelry salesman in a downtown Washington, D.C., hotel room.

New York FBI chief H.G. Foster said the woman, Paula Pilgrim, of (461 Central Park West) New York, took the jewelry and cash from William Sherman of New York in a Washington hotel (Dunbar).

Foster said the suspect, who has also been convicted in "numerous cities" throughout the United States on charges of grand larceny, and narcotics addition, would be arraigned Friday before U.S. Commissioner Earl Bishopp.

Glennan Says Soviet Ahead In Manned Missiles

Aeronautics Chief Believes US Gaining On Russian Lead

CHICAGO (UPI) — T. Keith Glennan, outgoing chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Friday that the Soviet Union was ahead of the United States in work on power to lift a manned missile into space, but this nation was rapidly gaining on the Russian lead.

He speculated that the Russians may already have attempted a manned flight, but did not elaborate.

"We are closing that gap rather rapidly now," he told newsmen at the opening of a scientific exhibit.

Glennan told educators at a luncheon session later that he is "convinced some day we will land a man on the moon and bring him back." But he said such a program will cost between $15 billion and $35 billion and "it's not going to be accomplished in a few years."

Space exploration, he said, will give man a chance to "learn perhaps something of the origin of the universe, perhaps even of life itself."

Glennan noted that Russia launched a missile carrying a dog into orbit in November, 1957, and said "it would be my guess they had been working at least two years" prior to that in developing the space vehicle. "They have had available to them thrust that we have not had," he said.

Any man-in-space beyond the present Mercury program, he said, "will depend on greater environmental knowledge and substantially increased thrust."

Glennan said he had been puzzled by the fact that the Russians had not attempted a man-in-space launching. "Perhaps they have," he added.

Glennan, whose agency is responsible for civilian aeronautics and space research, will leave office Jan. 20.

The exhibit, the first major U.S. display centered on space exploration, was opened at the Museum of Science and Industry.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 15 and a sophomore in a boy's high school. I work 2 hours a week after school and on Saturdays.

My problem is my parents who insist that I pay my own tuition ($250 a year) plus all school expenses, clothing, gifts and contributions. This means I don't have one penny left to save for a hi-fi set I've been wanting for three years. Of course I don't get any allowance because I'm told "you work."

When I see my friends getting from $3 to $8 a week spending money I get pretty mad. I get B's in school and think I do pretty well. When I tell them they are too hard on me and I'd like a little time to myself they say, "We're going to keep you so busy you won't have time to get into trouble."

Both my parents work and they make good money. Our home is paid for and we have a new car every two years. They think nothing of buying $40 worth of liquor at one time.

I am going to list my expenditures and I'd like your advice on where to cut down so I can save $75 a year toward a hi-fi set. I know this will take a lot of your time and I never expect to see this in the paper because it will take up too much space, but I DO need your help.

$250.00	tuition for one year
30.00	3 pairs of shoes for one year
21.00	school books
14.00	4 shirts and two ties
34.00	underclothing
65.00	overcoat, hat and gloves
22.00	jacket
2.80	7 pairs of socks
9.00	milk at school
30.00	Christmas gifts for Mom and Dad
25.00	Christmas gifts for other relatives
10.00	Christmas cards
4.00	postage for cards
50.00	Church donations ($1 every Sunday, sometimes only 75c)
$566.80

I made $600 last year. Not listed above is a $7.00 corsage for Mother's Day and a $10 plant for Easter.

You can see I have $39.80 not accounted for. With this I go to an occasional movie or ball game. I pay bus fare when I can't get a ride, and sometimes I buy dessert at school. (I carry my lunch.) I want a hi-fi more than anything in the world but I don't see how I'll be able to buy it.—BITTER 15

DEAR BITTER: You and all the teen-agers who read this are going to hate me, but I think your folks have done a simply marvelous job of raising a self-reliant, dependable, self-disciplined son. Your letter was so unusual I decided it justified devoting the whole column to it. You are growing up with an abundance of self-respect, personal integrity and the priceless experience of managing yourself — and you are doing it beautifully.

Your budget, however, raised a few questions: Why a $65 overcoat every year? And $34 a year for underwear . . . are you wearing mink shorts? Finally, where can you get seven pair of socks for $2.80?

As a reward for being a first-rate teen-ager I'm suggesting to your folks that they buy you a hi-fi set for your next birthday. You have earned it.—ANN LANDERS

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

To Win Popularity, Cultivate Warm Personality

Great or small famous or unlike, each of us has a basic need and desire: to be liked.

That is why having an outgoing nature is sure to put you ahead in the race for whatever it is you may be after. In your everyday manner, if you give others the feeling that you like them, you immediately have an advantage. A simple thing like a heart warming hello can give you a hold on the other person's heart. But if you greet people in a cool, imperious, stiff-arming fashion you make it easy for the other person to turn you and your interests aside.

You may say that your shyness or fear of another's rebuff is what governs your cool manner in meeting others. Examine your feeling a little more closely and determine whether it isn't merely a distrust. If that is the case, is your distrust firmly founded?

In that connection, I'd like to tell you about a conversation I had with the chairman of the board of one of America's large businesses. This company operates in most of the states of this country. A salesman knocks on the door of a prospective customer and places a premium—worth several dollars—in the customer's hand. She can have it and use it immediately; all she need do is buy an agreed amount of her groceries from the company in the future. The company advances the premium to her.

"Don't you worry about the money you have in these 'advanced' premiums," I asked.

"In a company as large as yours that totals up to a tremendous investment. You are giving credit to thousands and thousands indiscriminately — with no guarantee that they will ever complete the purchases necessary to pay for the premiums."

The famous business executive smiled. "Our company is founded on the belief in the honesty of people," he said. 'It has grown great on that belief. Our losses in trusting the people are so small that they can be disregarded all through the many years that we have been in operation."

So, don't you think you can trust others too? Invest a little more of yourself in your contacts. Be friendly. Be warm and outgiving with your nature and personality. The rewards you will reap in return will help you to grow and become as great a person as you may wish to be.

Psychiatry, Once Considered Enemy Of Religion, Now In Harmony With Church

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

The stranger at the gate was considered an enemy at first. But once he got inside the house, he seemed to belong there. In fact, he finally was recognized as a life-long, important member of the family.

That, in short, is the tale of psychiatry's entry into the household of religion.

Despite the cold reception, and psychiatry's own unfriendly attitude in the beginning, the field is widely regarded today not only as being in basic harmony with the church, but as having had its actual origins there.

Noted theologian - philosopher Paul J. Tillich, of Harvard University, has traced this strange relationship, pointing out that a fundamental of both Christianity and psychiatry is "the doctrine of acceptance" of imperfect man.

While this concept stemmed from Christ, he says its significance was neglected in much recent theology until psychiatry helped restore it.

"The good news that he who feels unworthy of being accepted by God can be certain that he is accepted had been buried under doctrinal rigidity and aridity," he says, even though it was at the heart of Jesus' teaching.

But then, he adds, along came the psychoanalytic pattern, with its non-judging "acceptance of the mentally disturbed" to jolt the weight of Christianity back to its basic emphasis.

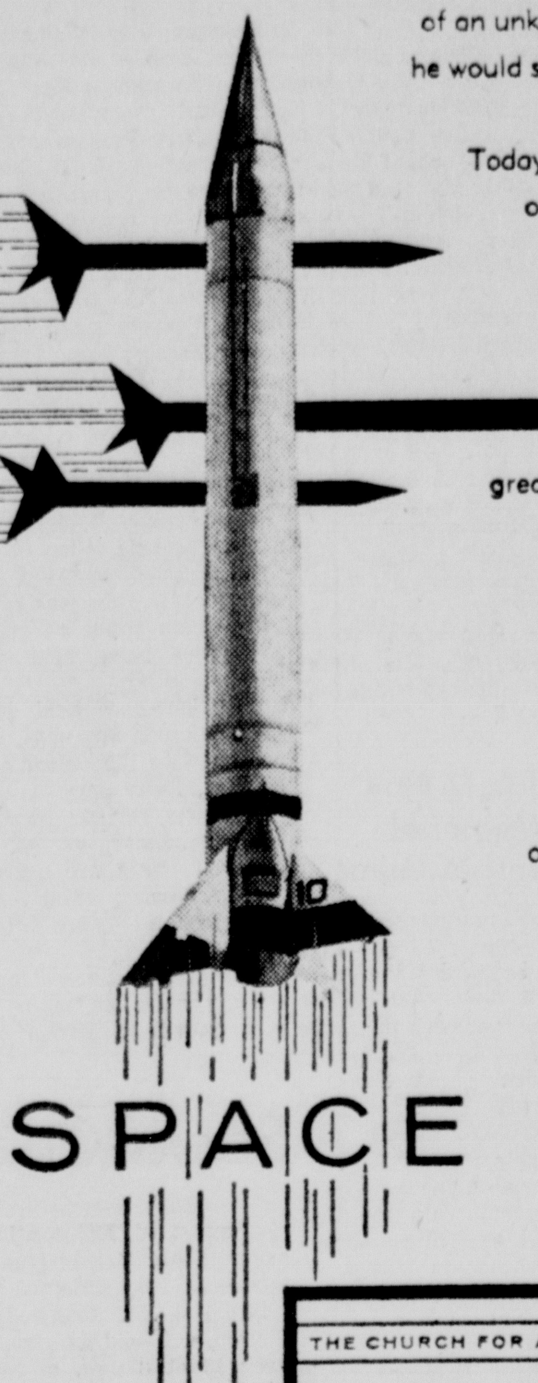
"Present theology can say again that acceptance by God of him who is not able to accept himself is the center of the Christian message," Dr. Tillich says.

Strangely, he notes, this rediscovery by the churches was stimulated by a man who spurned religion, Sigmund Freud, even though Freud carved psychoanalysis out of material intrinsic to the faith he disowned.

Not only theologians, but also many psychiatrists have noted this curious kinship.

Dr. Earl A. Loomis Jr., professor of psychiatry and religion at Union Theological Seminary, says that Freud, despite his jabs at religion, actually came close to the Bible's central teaching in stressing man's "psycho-somatic unity."

Freud saw, Dr. Loomis points out, that "man's whole life is of a piece," that "man lives with his whole being," that "inwardness, as opposed to outwardness, is important," that "rules and regulations are less significant than love and self-discipline."



When Christopher Columbus began his probe of an unknown ocean there were many who predicted he would soon reach the edge of the world . . . and fall off into nothingness.

Today we are probing that nothingness. The edge of the world is everywhere; and man eagerly reaches for whirling worlds that pioneers yet unborn may colonize. As we explore the vastness of God's creation we realize with greater awe His might and majesty. But greater, we know, is our need for understanding His Will, and His Love for man. For man can take to his new worlds tomorrow only the Truth and Faith and Life he discovers in this world today.

Therefore, while a few gifted scientists are building highways from the edge of the earth, the Church is offering everyone opportunity to probe the spiritual depths which shall determine our destiny.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—No Friday the 13th jinxes for Bobby Darin. Friday the singing bridegroom announced the formation of his independent movie company, Sandar Productions. Before there are any cracks about his planning to co-star with Sandra Dee — I can tell you, he isn't!

Bobby and his manager-partner Steve Blauner have bought "The Sound of Hell," an original by Richard Carr, to star young Darin. The actors already approached for the other top spots are Janet Leigh, Burl Ives and Sammy Davis, Jr. No "Mrs." Bobby.

Ever since young Darin fell in love with Sandra while making "Come September" in Rome, he has been movie-minded. He'll activate his picture in the late spring, after his singing tour.

Now that the battlin' Borgnines, Ernie and Katy Jurado, have forgiven and forgotten the battle wounds (How many times does this make?) I hear Ernie isn't nearly as eager to escape to Italy.

Ernie has been reading the script of "Cape Fear", Gregory Peck's next picture with Sy Bartlett producing at U-I, and he is interested in the role of the heavy. Well, Ernie used to specialize in heavies before "Marty."

The Peck movie is about ready to roll and if Ernie can get a postponement of the Italian picture he'd like to do this with Greg.

It wouldn't be fair to mention her name but one of the most beautiful and attractive women visitors to our town in years told me the only actor she wanted to meet was Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. The enthusiasm over the good-looking actor isn't confined to the opposite sex. The Mirisch Bros., for whom Zimbalist is co-starring with Lana Turner in "By Love Possessed" are so sold on him they have opened negotiations with Warner Bros. for another loanout. Could it be "Two For the Seesaw" with Shirley MacLaine?.

Mel Ferrer is also after Efrem for his "Nine Coaches Waiting" at Columbia in the spring. Of course, Warners have first dibs on Zimbalist for seven years.

Phyllis McGuire, of the singing McGuires, sounded like a happy girl when she called to say "hello" and to tell me that she and Dan Rowan had made up the argument which broke up their romance. She certainly spoke like a girl in love when she told me, "Dan and I talk two or three times a day over the 'phone. He and Dick Martin are at Harrah's Club at Lake Tahoe, you know."

You can just about make book that Phyllis and Dan will marry when his divorce from Phyllis Rowan (Yes, the same name) is final. Dan's ex-wife told me there will be no hitches on her part because she knows Dan and the pretty singer are very much in love.

The McGuires are all crazy about California and want to live here.

It's a tribute to Clark Gable's fine talents as an actor that the special showing of "The Misfits" in a Paramount projection room was not a sad affair. John Huston was the host and among the guests were Carl Sandburg and about 30 of Clark's old friends.

Kay Gable did not come to the screening—that's a little too much to expect. But she talked with John right after the picture and was delighted to hear that everyone thought this was Clark's finest performance in years.

When Ava Gardner was briefly in New York she didn't say "yes" or "no" to starring in "Sweet Bird of Youth" in Hollywood. She wants the picture but still hates Hollywood and working here.

But Ava did finalize engaging George Stacey, who recently redecorated Princess Grace's apartment in the Palace of Monaco to do her new apartment in Madrid. Ava has taken over the top floor of a four-story apartment house in the heart of Madrid and she plans to make it the most elaborate home she's ever occupied.

Educators Ask Coordinated W. Va. Program

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Education Association (WVEA) and the State Education Department Friday joined in calling for a coordinated program of economic and school improvements.

Their four-step plan, endorsed also by the State School Boards Association, is aimed at eventually pumping $60 million a year in new money into schools. Of this, $38 million would come from state funds.

WVEA Executive Secretary Phares E. Reeder said this amount would bring the level of West Virginia public education up to the national average.

During the first three years of the plan, a portion of the $38 million of new state money would go into economic development as Gov.-elect W. W. Barron and the legislature see fit.

By the fourth year, all the money would go for schools—plus "another $25 million (that) can be raised at the local level for support of our schools."

In the first year, as proposed by the groups, $23 million of the $38 million would go into the economic phase of the two-fold program, with $15 for schools. The second year, the amounts would be approximately reversed and the third year all but $6.2 million would be for schools.

'Back To Work,' Rev. Crowson Tells Solons

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Legislature was told Friday to "forget liquor-by-the-drink, quarrelling and bickering, and go to work on West Virginia's truly basic needs."

This advice came from the Rev. L. E. Crowson, Logan, chairman of the board of Christian Social Concerns of the West Virginia Methodist Conference.

Crowson, who also is legislative chairman of the West Virginia Temperance League, said that during a recent meeting of the board in Ripley, it was recommended that the legislature create an Alcohol Study Commission to rehabilitate alcoholics.

Crowson said the legislature should not "waste its time" on the controversial liquor-by-the-drink issue. A proposal to legalize bars is almost certain to come up at this session.

Crowson said the board also recommended that the legislature take "whatever steps are necessary to build a modern road system" and create a state voluntary arbitration board to promote "a sympathetic and understanding relationship between management and labor."

Dr. Moore To Repeat Hike Across U.S.

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Barbara Moore announced Friday she will hike across the United States a second time—in March or April—because John F. Kennedy won the presidency.

"I promised myself," she said, "that if Kennedy won I would walk again from the Pacific to the Atlantic. While he's in office, I'm sure we will have no war. He is a chap who was in the war himself and he knows what it is like."

Area Man, 53, Found Hanged

A 53-year-old Lake Gordon area man was found hanging in his bedroom yesterday afternoon, according to authorities, who said the man had been dead about 36 hours.

Neighbors found the body of Charles Reed Miller, and Pennsylvania State Police were notified by Ray Nixon, acting superintendent of the Lake Gordon filtration plant.

Deputy Coroner Ralph Mickle, Schellsburg, Pa., said the man committed suicide, and police said there was no foul play. Mr. Miller was unemployed.

He lived alone in a two-room dwelling. His body was taken to the Barefoot Funeral Home in Bedford, according to police, who said the man was found about 3:45 p. m. yesterday.

Police said he had not been seen around the house for a day or so, and the neighbors decided to investigate.

W.Va. Delegates Would Tighten Teen Licensing

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Seven bills were introduced in the West Virginia Legislature Friday, including one designed to tighten licensing of teen-age drivers.

Introduced by Dels. J. E. Watson, D-Marion, and Harry L. Buch, R-Ohio, the licensing measure would require a 16 or 17 year-old to get parental consent before obtaining license. The present minimum age is 16, but parental consent is not required.

Licenses issued to 16 or 17 year olds would be known as "junior drivers licenses," and regular operators or chauffers permits would be granted only when a person becomes 18.

Junior licenses could be revoked on conviction of certain traffic offenses or if parental consent were withdrawn.

An interim committee-sponsored bill modernizing the state's adoption laws was introduced in their respective chambers by House Speaker Julius Singleton and Senate President Howard Carson.

The bill would give judges more authority in adoption cases.

Meanwhile, a resolution presented to the Senate would set up a special interim committee to study regulatory statues, rules and regulations concerning West Virginia's public utilities.

Introduced by Sens. William Tompos, D-Hancock and Paul Moore, D-Jackson, the resolution would authorize expenditure of $50,000 for a two-year study to be presented to the 1963 Legislature.

The two sponsors said the study would recommend elimination of certain regulations that have made public utility rates "unfair, unjust and detrimental to the West Virginia consumer."

Two bills relating to education also were sponsored by Singleton. One would eliminate the filling of unexpired county board of education terms at general elections by holding such elections at primary election time when board members are chosen by the voters normally.

The other would wipe out of state law present qualification for county school superintendents and provide that the state board of education would set up new ones.

One Cent Boost In Sales Tax Is Approved

W. Va. Moves To Curb Unemployment

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Legislature rammed through an emergency one-cent increase in the state sales tax Friday, to take effect Sunday. The proceeds will provide public works jobs for some 5,000 of West Virginia's unemployed.

The temporary measure — hiking the tax rate from 2 to 3 per cent on sales over $1 — was approved overwhelmingly and sent to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood for his signature. He announced earlier that he would sign it.

The tax hike, first change in the hike since the levy was imposed by the 1933 Legislature, came only 48 hours after the 55th Legislature convened Wednesday and represented a modern record for speedy action on a major, controversial tax bill.

Along with a companion bill to be passed next week, it will raise an estimated $6 million in new revenue by next Aug. 31 for the public works program.

Gov.-elect W. W. Barron, who surprised legislative observers by proposing the tax increase on the eve of the session, called the lawmaker's quick action "wonderful."

For 'Crash' Program

The State Tax Department immediately began preparation of a schedule of payments it will require from retailers. It was to be made public Saturday after Underwood signs the bill in one of his final official acts.

"Now we can start to help alleviate the problems of some of our people," he said.

Friday's votes represented better than half-a-loaf for Barron who proposed the "crash program" for public works projects. The measure adopted extends the increased sales tax through June 30.

The companion measure — carrying it through the months of July and August — was derailed temporarily while the Senate wrangled over amendments. One of the proposed amendments was designed to make 3 per cent sales tax permanent, with exemption for grocery purchases.

The amendment was beaten on a 23-8 ballot with Sen. Ward Wylie, D-Wyoming, joining the seven Republican members in opposition.

An Automatic Defense System

Operation 73, an innocent sounding title, is the official name of the United States Navy's research section. It might also be called "retaliation anonymous" for its most energetic pursuit — development of a completely automatic defensive mechanism.

Typhon-Eagle is a protective system largely unpublicized as yet, but one which may fulfill the long held military ambition to produce an all-purpose weapons system.

As planned by U. S. Navy researchers, Typhon-Eagle is a complicated electronic operation involving computers, radar, aircraft, ships and missiles in a coordinated, split-second analysis of foreign images on radar screens, the automatic selection of the proper defensive weapon based on computer knowledge of the advancing object and the firing of a missile or a mass array of them at the target. All this is to be accomplished without a human eye ever seeing the target or a human hand aiding in the electronic cycle.

Computers located on ships scattered over the oceans will collect, analyze and memorize the identifying features and lethal characteristics of every known enemy aircraft, missile and ship. Radar screens strategically located to survey as much as possible of the earth's surface will continually filter reports of enemy activities through the computers with no reaction unless this surveillance reveals an aggressive action under way.

It may take the form of a sudden armada of enemy aircraft headed toward American territory or it may be a single missile. In either case, the computers will instantly analyze the situation, determine the critical point in the object's travel and select the appropriate weapon or weapons to counterattack.

At the predetermined point in the object's path, electronic firing stations, handed the reins of authority by the computers, will fire and guide a defensive missile until it has destroyed the invader. The entire chain of action may require no more than a few seconds.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Jumping Jupiter!

Now along comes a very sure person, Robert Welch, of The John Birch Society of Massachusetts, who wishes to impeach Earl Warren, Chief Justice of the United States. One may disagree with, dislike, oppose Earl Warren, but impeachment is another matter. It involves a bill of particulars, specific, clear-cut, subject to evidence and analysis. Welch does not provide that. He says:

". . . we believe that the impeachment of Warren would dramatize and crystallize the whole basic question of whether the United States remains an independent republic, or gradually becomes transformed into a province of the world-wide Soviet system."

But this is not the issue at all. This is a private opinion, not a fact. What is necessary is to indict Earl Warren for high crimes and misdemeanors that will stand up in a trial. Thus far, only one President of the United States has been impeached, and unsuccessfully, and no Chief Justice of the United States has been impeached. That does not mean that none ever should be. It does, however, mean that this is not a simple process for indicating opposition. Under our system, it is extremely difficult. Robert Welch thinks otherwise:

> "We further believe that it is entirely possible to bring about that impeachment in the present House of Representatives, through insistent enough demand by the American people, if even one-half of the known present conservative leaders will give their energetic support to this undertaking . . ."

Apparently, Welch has no conception of the procedure involved in an impeachment. The Constitution makes provision for it in Article 1, Section 2, Clause 5, which reads: "The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers; and shall have the sole power of impeachment." And in Article 1, Section 3, Clause 6, which reads: "The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two thirds of the members present."

Certainly in the present composition of our Congress, there is no possibility that the time will be allotted by the leadership of either party for such an impeachment. For what would have to be proved? The indictment could not show that the Chief Justice's views were unpleasant, for there are eight other Justices who could have voted him down. It would have to be shown that he was corrupt, that he accepted bribes, that he was subversive, that his conduct was opprobrious to the United States and the Court.

No matter what can be said of Earl Warren, it cannot be said that he has been corrupt, which means accepting bribes, or that he has been subversive, which means, in this context, that he is engaged in transactions to damage the United States in the interest of a foreign foe. No bill of particulars can be brought forth to prove such charges. Therefore to talk of impeachment is nonsense.

I call attention to this not because it is of any significance of itself but because conservatives need to use common sense in their agitations. There are things to be said and to be done but these need to be focussed on ideas, not on impractical proposals to impeach the Chief Justice because there is disagreement about his views or to discover an invisible government which has controlled all the administrations from Herbert Hoover to John Kennedy. It is nonsense. Why not impeach the entire Court and get over and done with it?

The conservatives of this country are numerous but not always coherent. Unless they find intelligent leadership that relates what they do and say to the realities of American life, they will make no greater progress in the new Democratic Administration than was made in the old Eisenhower Administration. American conservatives need a program and less talk.

One of the first points of a conservative program must be that the United States cannot tolerate the cost of unemployment or racial or creedal battles while this country is engaged in a life-struggle against the Soviet Universal State. And the one absolute essential is that the American dollar should again become hard money, well secured and safe. The conservatives need to decide whether they prefer to fight against Communism or against each other.

More About Ike's Farm Operations And His Connections With Oilmen

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It's very solicitous of kindly Congressmen Carl Vinson of Milledgeville, Ga., and John McCormack of Boston, both Democrats, to propose restoring President Eisenhower's pre-White House rank of five-star general. Before they get too worried over whether Ike can live in retirement on the $25,000 pension and the $50,000 tax-free expenses that he automatically gets anyway, they ought to take a good look at the estimates of Ike's wealth.

Part of them are official, because Ike made part of his income public during the 1952 campaign. It then became known that he was paid $635,000 by Doubleday for his postwar book, and only paid a capital gains tax—the last author, incidentally, so permitted.

Since then a careful survey by Fletcher Knebel of the Republican Des Moines Register put Ike's net worth in 1957 at $1,000,000.Col. John Eisenhower, it was estimated, would inherit $700,000 after taxes.

This is in happy contrast to the day when the President's mother said in 1946 that her son, a poor boy, had applied to West Point without quite knowing what West Point was all about because someone had told him it was a good place to get an education for nothing.

Since the 1957 estimate, however, the President's wealth has further increased by gifts and improvements to his Gettysburg farm; and in these days when Democratic oil leaders in Congress are jockeying for position and reshuffling Senate committees in order to protect the oil depletion allowance it's only fair to examine the background of the men who have contributed to the President's very complicated and unusual farming operation.

One of them, Billy Byars of Tyler, Texas, happens to be a big oilman. The other, George Allen, is a director of about 20 corporations, is also engaged in profitable oil operations with Maj. Louey Kung, nephew of Chiang Kai-shek.

Byars and Allen together pay the expenses and losses for the "Eisenhower farms," and maintain a joint bank account for this purpose in the Gettysburg National Bank. Since 1951 the chief outlays for the "Eisenhower farms" have been:

Construction of show barn $30,000; three smaller barns about $22,000, remodeling of schoolhouse for home for John Eisenhower $10,000, remodeling of Ike's main house $110,000; landscaping of ten acres around Eisenhower home $6,000; salary of Gen. Arthur S. Nevins, the farm manager (at $10,000 a year) $90,000; assistant manager's salary and expenses for six years $60,000; average for hired hands about $180,000. Total: around $508,000, of which a substantial portion has been traced by the York (Pa.) Gazette to oilmen Byars and Allen.

Under the laws of the United States, valuable gifts cannot be received by public officials, and when Harry Truman accepted one $1,200 deep freeze, he was castigated by most of the American press.

Therefore, at a time when Kennedy's new Secretary of Defense is being scrutinized by Senate Democrats for any possible conflict of interest, it's amazing that press associations and most major newspapers have taken such a lackadaisical attitude toward Eisenhower's unique farming operation. The New York Times, for instance, called General Nevins "a neighbor friend who supervises the work on the President's 500-acre farm." It completely glossed over the fact that Nevins' salary is paid by two silent partners, one of them a big Texas oilman.

Silent Partner Won't Talk

My attempts to reach silent partner Billy Byars in Tyler brought the response that he was out, or, when he appeared to be in, he would not come to the phone.

However, other Texas oilmen describe Byars as a highly successful independent operator, who has been close to the famed Clint Murchison and the late Sid Richardson whose attorney and estate manager, John Connally, is to be Kennedy's Secretary of the Navy.

Byars is reported to have an interest in the Murcain racing stables, owned by Mrs. Virginia Murchison and Mrs. Effie Cain, the latter being the wife of Wofford Cain, head of Southern Union Gas. It was they who gave an Irish stallion, Leslie Boy, sire of 1958 Preakness winner Royal Orbit, to Col. Gordon Moore, Mrs. Eisenhower's brother-in-law.

It was Richardson and Murchison who went to Paris in 1952 to back General Eisenhower for President. It has been repeatedly reported and never denied that Eisenhower made a commitment to Texas oilmen before his nomination that he would approve the ceding of the rich tidelands oil areas to Texas and other contiguous states. The Supreme Court had previously ruled this unconstitutional, and Truman successfully battled all Congressional attempts to overrule the court.

In order to make it clear that, if elected, he would reverse Truman, Eisenhower was induced to send the following telegram, just before the July 1952, Republican convention, to Houston oilman Jack Porter, GOP national committeeman from Texas: "I seen no conflict in this responsibility which interferes with the vesting of title of tidelands in the states."

Thereafter, as President, Ike did sign the Tidelands Oil Bill which reversed the Supreme Court and gave tidelands oil to Texas, Louisiana and California.

Filibuster Battle Is Pressure-Group Politics

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — All the talk about changing the rules to stop filibusters in the Senate, or to prevent committees from bottling up legislation in the House, might appear on the surface to be a part of a very weighty problem with deep-seated cleavages that reflect high purposes in the public interest. But, actually, back of the whole thing is a good deal of pressure-group politics and the desire of members of the Senate, for example, to make it appear back home, especially in the more populous states in the North, that they are battling hard for "civil rights."

The Senate has just voted—as it has done again and again in the past — to send the proposals for changing the rules on filibustering back to a committee for study. This means that, when it comes up at the end of the present session, the new idea is to require only a 60 per cent instead of 66⅔ per cent vote to cut off debate. Maybe there will be a compromise along these lines, but it is doubtful.

The reason for all the furor about changes in the filibustering rules is that there is an artificial pressure to get more "civil rights" legislation. The theory is that only the Southerners are blocking it. But there are Western Senators, many of them Republicans, who recognize the danger in enacting legislation that takes away from the states more and more of their rights.

The Republican Party has only 35 members in the Senate, and they were divided 18 to 15 in the vote just taken to send the new proposals back to a committee for study — just as were the Democrats, who voted 32 to 31 on the same issue. So it isn't a partisan matter.

The hullaballoo about filibustering is, on its face, rather hypocritical. It is made to appear, for example, that only the conservatives are interested in maintaining the rules that allow filibusters. Actually, many of the so-called "liberals" have used the filibustering privilege far more than their opponents. They would probably be very much distressed if unlimited debate were really abandoned and gag rule were imposed. The very essence of true liberalism is that free speech must be allowed to run its course.

In the House of Representatives, the situation is somewhat different. The powerful Rules Committee, for example, can for all practical purposes keep legislation from getting to the floor of the House, but a substantial majority can always discharge the committee from consideration of the bill and force it on to the floor for action. This has been done from time to time.

But in the House, as in the Senate, there is an effort being made to show the pressure groups that the champions of "civil rights" and big "welfare" spending are active and aggressive in their behalf.

The spectacular attack on Representative William Colmer of Mississippi, Democrat, who has been threatened with a "purge"—the loss of his committee post—because he supported independent Presidential electors, has not been approved by most of the members of the House. Indeed, Representative Adam Clayton Powell, who is to be chairman of the House Committee on Labor, bolted the Democratic ticket in 1956 and voted for President Eisenhower's re-election. Again and again, members have said they should not be punished on the floor of the House of Representatives for trying to reflect the views of their constituents.

But when it comes to the size of the committees, this is a matter over which the House has jurisdiction, and it is, in a sense, impersonal. The House can enlarge a committee and "pack" it with members favorable to the desires of the majority. That's what is now being proposed in the House of Representatives in order to override the chairman of the Rules Committee, Howard W. Smith, of Virginia. Mr. Smith is one of the ablest members of Congress, and the only objection that his opponents have to him is that he does not go along with radical proposals. It is ironical to find "liberals," who so often pride themselves on their interest in free speech, trying to punish a member who holds views opposite to theirs.

By "packing" the committees of the House with a majority who favor the point of view desired by a particular bloc, the objective in cutting the power of the committee chairman is, to a certain extent, achieved. But it is still unexplained why those who believe they have a majority in the House of Representatives appear to disregard their right to petition for a vote and override the rulings of the chairman of a committee.

The device of "packing the court" is not a new one in Washington, and it looks as if the pressure groups may be able this time to persuade a House majority to "pack" the House Rules Committee so as to permit certain legislation to move more quickly through that body. But, in the long run, the precedent will rise to plague the so-called "liberals," because the majority may not always be as friendly to some of the causes now being espoused, and what is done one year becomes an example for a majority to follow in another year. "Packing" committees is not a creditable performance, but evidently in this at least the pressure groups are to have their way.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

UNPREDICTABLE — The 87th Congress, which convened Jan. 3, appears in many ways to be the most unpredictable in modern times. This stems in part from Republican gains during the election of a Democratic President and the lack of a clearly defined program by the incoming administration.

The program of Sen. John F. Kennedy, as he outlined it during the political campaign, was precise and specific in many details. Kennedy seemed to have a five-point program for every question or issue that was raised.

However, his actions since winning the Presidency, particularly some of his White House and Cabinet appointments, have cast a long shadow of doubt over the vigor with which he will pursue some of his campaign objectives.

Large questions arise as to how soon and how strongly he will press for a broad liberalization in the field of civil rights, how determined he is to provide federal aid for teachers' salaries as well as for school construction, and of course his ability to keep the federal budget in balance.

Kennedy's program will become clear in the coming weeks, but lacking clear definition now, returning members of Congress are expressing their own ideas and convictions about the course of legislation.

Influential members of Congress, for instance, show a marked aversion to fight for a Senate rules change to curb filibusters. Having voiced their position on this matter, it is difficult for them to change should Kennedy press for action.

And, there is always the fact that the Republican - southern Democratic coalition has been strengthened — some are calling the group the Barry Goldwater party.

Word Of Advice

By John Crosby

Newton N. Minow, who comes from my own home town of Milwaukee, Wis., has been named chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and I think I may be forgiven if I give a fellow Milwaukee boy a word of advice. Actually, I have been handing this same word of advice to all the F.C.C. chairman, no matter where they hailed from. None has taken it. I have hopes that the ties of our mutual birth place might persuade Minow to take this word a little more seriously.

The word to ponder, Minow, is communications. (There's lots of Federals and lots of commissions but you got that word communications all to yourself.) The Federal Communications Act of 1934 clearly states that broadcast stations should be run only in the public interest, convenience, and necessity. Broadcasting might be said to have run its affairs in the public interest, only if you take that word in its narrowest sense, and almost never in the public's convenience or necessity.

Frederick W. Ford, your predecessor, proudly proclaimed that the Communications act meant that broadcasting must be maintained as a medium of freedom of speech and expression for the people of the nation as a whole. And having said that, he let the whole affair lie there. There is not now and never has been any freedom of speech and expression for the people as a whole. This bit was construed to mean ayone on Madison Avenue with the money to pay the price could put on the air anything that didn't offend the ministers. This may be the ultimate in salesmanship — though even that is debatable— but it has nothing to do with free speech or expression.

The phrase "freedom of speech," Minow, is used in broadcasting differently than anywhere else on the globe including Russia. It means freedom only to advertise. The only time any F.C.C. ever tried to insist that there be some free speech on the air (instead of an endless supply of soap operas), it was roundly denounced for interfering with free speech.

No F.C.C. has ever paid much attention to programs because it was considered that programs were none of its business. Yet how the devil can a broadcast service be regulated when the programs remain outside its jurisdiction? That's like asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate the railroads — with the proviso that passenger and freight service is outside its jurisdiction. What the hell's left to regulate?

Always the word censorship has been tossed about. But what, in my opinion, the F.C.C. ought to be doing is the very opposite of censorship; it would be demanding that the networks and the stations really use their air lanes for free expression and for all the people—rather than simply using them to make a buck. No one is asking the F.C.C. to step forward and say that "Rawhide" isn't good enough and get rid of it. But the F.C.C. not only is authorized but is duty bound to step forward when there are thirty-five "Rawhides" (or close facsimile) on the air while, at the same time, there is no good music, no education, no experiment, no serious drama on the air at all.

The first step in this direction is the licensing of the networks who provide most of the widely listened-to programs. The second step would be to demand that networks and stations alike comply explicitly to the promises they made in getting their licenses. These people have been granted enormously profitable frequencies at no cost to themselves. They have clear obligations to the public and there is not one of them who is discharging his obligations at all honorably.

But to police the networks — which is not such a problem as it sounds — the commission needs one member (whether a commissioner or a hired hand) who knows something about programs and about the broadcast business. All the stations keep program logs with delicious little items like "Course in Sanskrit" one hour a week, twenty-six weeks (educational public service program). A knowledgeable guy knows that the program is broadcast at 5:30 a. m. Sunday morning and consists of records they got free from the Ford Foundation. But the commissioners, who are all lawyers and rate experts, are either fooled by these sleazy tricks or close their eyes to them.

Programs are the heart of the matter, Minow. The commission will not be discharging its duties if the signal comes in loud and clear on the assigned channel— if the signal in question is a singing commercial selling cemetery lots in Queens.

Asthmatics Benefit From Modern Remedies

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Twenty-five years ago a person with severe asthma was given a shot of adrenalin. Within minutes, wheezing and coughing disappeared In many instances, the exhausted victim fell asleep. On awakening he was able to breathe in comfort. But all too often relief was temporary and the physician had to return again and again for additional injections.

Adrenalin still is given to control wheezing but we now have newer products that are easier to use. Inhaling epinephrine or Isuprel in aerosol mixtures often suppresses an attack quickly and for a long time. Some asthmatics obtain sufficient relief when the bout occurs in the early morning hours to permit falling asleep within a few minutes.

These products are administered in hand powered, rubber bulb nebulizers or power inhalers. Three or four deep inhalations, repeated 15 to 20 minutes later, are enough. Too much and too often will dry the membranes.

Lesser bouts may be controled with tablets containing ephedrine sulfate or drugs such as aminophylline, that dilate the bronchi. Combinations of an antihistaminic and a tranquilizer are available.

The chronic asthmatic has profited most from modern remedies. Many wheeze continuously and tend to develop severe attacks at night. The drugs previously mentioned are helpful for the latter but something more is needed to improve their breathing between the severe bouts. It is here the adrenal steroids such as cortisone, predisone, triamcinolone, or dexamethasone are valuable. Such products offer substantial relief during the day and prevent wheezing at night.

These hormones are potent and should not be used indiscriminately. The dose is tapered off after four or five days of relief and stopped entirely when wheezing fails to recur. But continuous medication is required by some to remain comfortable.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on bronchial asthma if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

LIVER AND ALCOHOL

H. S. writes: Is elimination of liquor sufficient to stop the progress of cirrhosis of the liver in an alcoholic?

REPLY

Yes, provided the individual eats a balanced diet. I assume the liver has a few healthy liver cells left.

MOLD ALLERGY

R. E. H. writes: Can a person be desensitized to molds?

REPLY

Yes, provided the proper mold extracts are used.

NONCOMPETITIVE

Mrs. S. C. writes: Do you approve of organized, competitive football and basketball in elementary schools?

REPLY

No. Football and basketball are not harmful to grade school children, provided there is no rigid schedule of games and the spot is not overemphasized.

GAP IN DIAPHRAGM

D. J. writes: Recently I have had to sleep in a sitting position because of a hiatus hernia. I'm 40 and hate to think of following this routine the rest of my life. Can anything be done about it?

REPLY

Consider surgery if the condition is this troublesome. In hiatus hernia, part of the stomach protrudes upward through an opening in the diaphragm. It slides down when sitting, and up when lying flat, coughing, or straining. The hole can be repaired but it means an operation. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on hiatus hernia.

To the limit of space questions pertinent to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

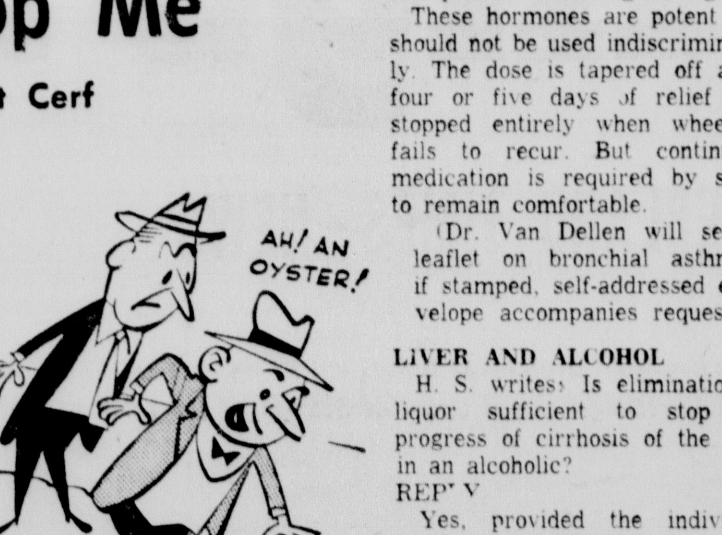
Two Scotchmen, sauntering along a beach at low tide, spotted an oyster simultaneously. Both grabbed for it and claimed it, and the dispute became so hot they decided to leave the decision to a third man on the beach.

He suggested that each claimant tell his story, and while they were orating, he opened the shell, extracted the oyster, with a grunt of satisfaction, then handed each of them a shell.

"The Court," he declared, "awards you each a shell. The oyster will cover the costs."



It took a snail exactly four years to cross a road. Just as it reached the bank a tree crashed to the ground, missing it by a scant six inches. "You see," observed the snail, "if I had been where I was six months ago that tree would have killed me. It pays to move fast."

Uncle Sam, your bank, and you

How this 20-year-old partnership helps keep America strong

Since May 1941, America's banks have sold nearly 2 billion separate U.S. Savings Bonds at no cost to the Government or the purchasers. To give you some idea of the time involved: if you merely handed out that many Bonds at the rate of 1 a second for 10 hours a day, it would take you 152 years to reach the bottom of the pile.

Why have the nation's banks and bankers carried on this vast project of information, service, and issuance of U.S. Savings Bonds?

A winning team. For one reason, the Bond Program and the Banking business have grown together. Hand in hand, they've helped make Americans the saving-est people in the world.

Folks who save Bonds get the thrift habit. They soon learn other forms of saving and investment. They become better all-around bank customers. And Bond owners are better credit risks.

Another thing bankers are interested in: Bond dollars help keep America strong. A good reason for the banking business or any business to get behind the Bond program.

What you buy at the Bond Window. When your banker advises you to buy U.S. Savings Bonds, he's recommending an investment guaranteed to grow: $18.75 becomes $25 in 7 years, 9 months, and grows to $36.25 in another 10 years. They can be cashed in anytime with interest. And if they're lost or destroyed, the Treasury Department replaces them free.

Why not take this advice offered by the nation's bankers. Buy and hold U.S. Savings Bonds—for the things you want, and the Peace to enjoy them.

"America's Banks are proud to be part of the Bond Program,"

says Carl A. Bimson, President, Valley National Bank, Phoenix, Arizona, and President, American Bankers Assn.

"We believe it is good for America, an economic stabilizer; it is good for the individual and the community; and it is good for banking. The promotion of Savings Bonds has helped to make savers out of non-savers, to revitalize the American tradition of thrift, and to build savings in all forms to record levels.

"The American Bankers Association congratulates the Nation and the public on the 20-year success story of the U.S. Savings Bonds Program, and pledges its vigorous continued support."

Valley	0	3	.000

Allegany High School's defending champions registered their third straight victory of the season in the W.M.I. League by trimming the Valley Knights last night on the latter's court by the score of 70-58.

Beall High School's Mountaineers knocked Fort Hill out of a tie for first place by whipping the Sentinels at Frostburg to the tune of 57-43 and Bruce High's Bulldogs tied Fort Hill for the runner-up spot by knocking off Mt. Savage at Westernport, 61-37.

Coach Chet Payne's Campers, trailing at 1-0 and 3-2 in the first period, grabbed a 15-8 lead as the quarter ended, held a 33-25 advantage at the halfway mark and retained that eight-point lead as the third stanza ended, 47-39.

Gaffney Scores 16

Bob Gaffney and Gary Mulligan sparked the Allegany attack with 16 and 13 points and Jerry Pentoney aided the winning cause by garnering 11 tallies. Tommy James and Danny Young with 13 markers each, Marvin Miller with 11 and Wayne Johnson with 10 were the chief point-getters for the Black Knights.

Allegany held a 28-24 edge in field goals and hooped 14 of 28 free throws against the losers' 10 out of 14.

Clarence Kimble of Valley exited on fouls in the third quarter and Jerry Winner went out in the final period.

The win enabled Allegany to even up the series on the Valley floor at 4-4. The Campers have won 6 of 7 games from the Black Knights at Campobello.

Beall Posts First Win

Beall scored its first win of the season at the expense of the Sentinels in a game that got rough at times and which saw Glen Shipway, Fort Hill center, banished in the third quarter after losing his temper.

Fort Hill took a 9-4 lead at the quarter and held a 22-17 edge at intermission, but the Mountaineers forged ahead at 25-24 on a fielder by Jim Evans in the third period and was never headed. When the third period ended Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's quint held a 37-32 lead.

Marshal Hamilton, Beall center, was the game's top scorer with 27 points on 11 field goals and 5-13 fouls. Jim Evans contributed 18 tallies by hitting on nine shots from the field. Allan Eisel fouled out in the final period.

Bill Colbert with 12 points and George Twigg and Ronnie Manges with 10 tallies each were Fort Hill's leading scorers.

Fort Hill's junior varsity quint downed Beall in the prelim, 44-30.

Bruce Takes "B" Lead

Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce Bulldogs took over the lead in the Allegany County Class B race by trimming Mt. Savage. Bruce is now 1-0, Mt. Savage 1-1 and Valley 0-1.

Bill Wiltison sparked the Bruce offensive with a 22-point performance. He dumped in eight shots from the field and meshed eight of nine free throws. Ronnie Emerick led Mt. Savage with 10 points, all of them coming in the final period.

Mt. Savage failed to score a field goal in the third period and was outpointed 15 to 2 in that stanza. John Lowery of the Indians fouled out in the final quarter.

Bruce High's Jayvees topped Mt. Savage in the preliminary game, 54-33.

Carmen Basilio Draws Suspension

NEW YORK (UPI) — Carmen Basilio, who made good in his comeback attempt against aggressive Gaspar Ortega last week, Friday paid the price for the huge weight advantage he enjoyed over the Mexican when the New York State Athletic Commission suspended him for 60 days.

The 33-year-old fighter from Chittenango, N. Y., weighed in for the fight at 159½ pounds, 4½ pounds heavier than the weight limit he had agreed to in his contract. The suspension was effective from the date of the Ortega fight, Jan. 7.

Canadians Set Pace At San Diego

Balding, Leonard Post 135s For 36

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Canada's Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C., shot a sensational 6-under-par 65 Friday to tie another Canadian, Al Balding of Toronto, and Eric Monti of Los Angeles for the lead at the halfway mark of the $20,000 San Diego Open.

Each had 36-hole scores of 135.

Monti, 42-year-old club professional, carded a 69 after leading in the first round with a 66.

Balding, among the last to finish, had a 66. But it was Leonard who shook up the house at the Mission Valley Country Club. He played the par 35-36—71 layout in 32-33—65 in a round highlighted by a 90-foot chip shot for an eagle 3 on the 493-yard 10th hole.

Young Gary Player of South Africa, former British Open champion, shot a 69 to lag one stroke behind the leaders.

Arnold Palmer, the hero of professional golf in 1960, remained in close contention with a 68 for 137. Tied with him were Bily Casper Jr., 68; Frank Stranahan, 68; Frank Boynton, 69, and Jerry Barber, 70.

Bob Goalby, winner of the recent Los Angeles Open, had 70 for 138 and a tie with three others, including Dow Finsterwad, who shot a 166.

Tornado Bows 68-52; Elk Garden Upset By Piedmont, 59-57

Petersburg High's unbeaten Vikings continued to roll along on the crest of the season's longest winning streak last night by downing Keyser High, 68-52, in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Petersburg. The win was the 10th in a row for Coach Carroll Michael's tossers and gave them an 8-0 conference record.

Elk Garden is now 8-3 for the season and 7-2 in the league.

In other PVC engagements Southern High's Highlanders captured their third loop win with an easy 87-57 verdict over Romney High's helpless Pioneers at Oakland, and Fort Ashby's Eagles trimmed the West Virginia School for Deaf cagers, 85-35, at Fort Ashby.

Lou Alt bombed the nets for 20 points before fouling out of the game in the third quarter for Petersburg. Harold Michael and Ernie Nelson chipped in with 15 and 16 points respectively for the winners.

Best for Keyser was Jim Courrier who contributed 19 points for the Tornado five before exiting on fouls with five minutes to play in the game.

Piedmont Rallies

Elk Garden, ahead by as much as 13 points in the third quarter, was rocked by Piedmont's late rally which caught the Elks with four minutes to play in the final stanza. Vincent Fagan's jump shot put the Lions ahead 48-47 and the winners quickly ran their lead up to 55-48.

With only seconds remaining Elk Garden scored to pull within one point at 58-57 but Paul Gates sank one of two foul chances to ice the verdict for Piedmont.

Fagan scored 28 points for Piedmont while Clifford Knotts tallied 21 for Elk Garden. Don Shillingburg chipped in with 18 in a losing cause for Coach Paul Kalbaugh's tossers.

At Oakland, Southern rang up its third conference victory and fifth win of the season, trouncing Romney for the second time this season and handing the Pioneers their sixth consecutive defeat.

Coach Carl Schoonover's quintet was paced in scoring by Ronnie Colaw with 24 points, followed by Dave Burdock's 18 and Dick Stuck's 15. John Blue sparked the Romney attack with 23 tallies.

The loss was the fourth PVC setback for the Romney quint. Accie Perry was the Deaf cagers' leading scorer with 12 points. Paul Price and Harold Kerns garnered 29 and 26 points respectively for Fort Ashby.

Pender Risks Title In Fight With Downes Tonight

Champion 9-5 Favorite In Boston Bout

Paul To Seek 13th Consecutive Win In Televised Contest

By JACK CUDDY

BOSTON (UPI)—Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass., co-holder of the world middleweight crown and master of the left jab, risks his title for the second time Saturday night against England's Terry Downes, slam-bang champion of the British Isles.

Their 15-rounder at the Boston Arena will be televised nationally by ABC at 10 p.m.

Because of two successive victories over Sugar Ray Robinson, 30-year-old Pender is recognized as 160-pound ruler in Europe, Massachusetts and New York. But the National Boxing Association recognizes Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah.

Rangy, dark-haired Paul is favored at 9-5 over the shorter, brown - haired challenger, Great Britain's most popular fighter in more than a decade. Pender, seeking his 13th straight victory, hasn't been beaten in four years.

Expect British Fans

More than 150 fans from across the Atlantic will be among the expected capacity 7,500, along with nine British sports writers, to see whether 24-year-old Terry can be the first fighter from the British Isles to win a world title on United States soil and return home with it.

Terry is a fair puncher with either fist. Going into his first professional American appearance, his record shows 21 knockouts in 32 fights. He suffered six defeats—four on "stops" because of facial cuts, one on a foul for a low punch and only one on a decision.

Despite the handicap of broken hands earlier in his career, Paul scored 19 knockouts in his 44 bouts. He suffered five defeats, including knockouts by Jimmy Beau and Eugene Hairston. And he had two draws. He hasn't been beaten since Feb. 14, 1955, when he lost a decision to Fullmer in Brooklyn.

Get $65,000 From TV

Promoter Silverman hopes for a gate of at least $50,000—with top tickets selling at $12. The television money is $65,000.

Pender gets 40 per cent of the net live gate and 60 per cent of the TV money. He may wind up with about $57,000. Terry, receiving 20 per cent of the net gate and only 15 per cent of the TV money, may get about $19,000—plus the chance at the title.

Should Downes win the title, he is contracted to grant Pender a return shot at it within 90 days; and Terry must place his entire purse—minus certain expenses—in escrow to guarantee the return bout.

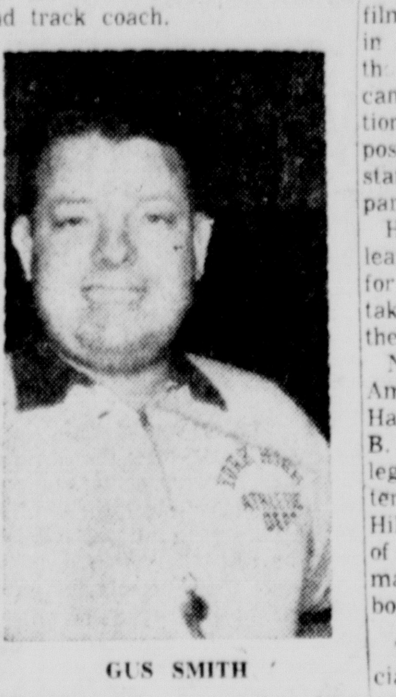
Smith At Yorktown Bossi, Rich To Split
"Mac" Gets New Post Spring Grid Drills

By C. V. BURNS

CURTIS "GUS" SMITH, former coach of all sports at Franklin (W. Va.) High School, is now the head basketball mentor at York High School in Yorktown, Va. He is also assistant football and track coach.



GUS SMITH

Yorktown is ten miles from Newport News where William "Honey" Crites, former Petersburg (W. Va.) High School coach, is assistant recreation director of city schools.

Three years ago York High School's enrollment was 365, last year it was 500 and this year it exceeds 1,200.

Gus teaches six physical education classes and all of the coaching is after school. It is Smith's ambition to make the college level in coaching and he believes he has a good opportunity inasmuch as many of the Atlantic Coast and South conference coaches have moved up from high schools in that area.

Last summer Smith played with Moorefield in the Pen-Mar Baseball League. Since taking over the basketball reins at York High his team has won five out of seven games.

Gus, whose Franklin High basketball teams won 59 and lost 28 games in four years, sends his best regards to all in the Potomac Valley Conference and to John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, Fort Hill High School baseball coach.

WEST VIRGINIA School of the Deaf lost one of its most faithful teachers last week when Malcolm "Mac" Norwood moved on to Washington, D. C., to become program specialist in the Captioned Films for the Deaf Department of the Office of Health, Education and Welfare.

During his seven years at the Romney school, Norwood won many friends who regretted to see him leave but they're all wishing him the best of luck in his new position.

We liked "Mac" because he always had the welfare of his boys at heart and numerous times during his seven years as head basketball coach of the Lions we received typewritten notes from him with information about certain players.

"Mac," as his friends knew him, came to Remney in January, 1953, and served as boys' housefather in the School for the Deaf until June 1, 1953. In the fall of 1953, he was appointed to the teaching staff in the school for the Deaf. In 1954, he was made Director of Curriculum Planning, a position he held until he was appointed supervising teacher of the Intermediate and Advanced Department for the Deaf.

He served as head basketball coach in the School for the Deaf from 1953 until June 1, this year.

Norwood's best team was his 1957 quint which copped 21 of 24 games, won the P.V.C. title with a 9-1 record and finished third in the Eastern Deaf Schools Tourney at White Plains, N. Y. This team was sparked by Gene Smith who dumped in 474 points and Charley Beumi who chalked up 403.

The 1956 team also was a good one with a 13-8 record and a 6-4 showing in the P.V.C. Beumi was the "big gun" on this quint with 536 points to his credit.

Captioning films for the benefit of the deaf is a new activity of the federal government. Films are procured from the producers and abbreviated titles written from the text of the dialogue and superimposed on the films. The films are then loaned to organizations of the deaf and schools for the deaf free of charge.

Norwood will be in charge of programming educational films which will be used in schools for the deaf. Movie films and film strips are especially valuable in the teaching of social studies.

In recent years only sound films have been available for use in schools. Most of the value of the film is lost when the students cannot hear the dialogue. Captions on the films will make it possible for the students to understand the lesson that is being imparted.

Hollywood producers are releasing films to the government for captioning when they are taken off the circuit of movie theaters.

Norwood is a graduate of the American School for the Deaf, Hartford, Conn., and received his B. A. degree from Gallaudet College in 1949. He received his Master of Education degree from Hillyer College of the University of Hartford in 1958. "Mac" is married and the father of two boys.

THE POPULAR basketball officiating team of William J. Bossi and Alex Rich, both of Windber, Pa., will split up after the current season.

This pair has been working on the hardwoods for the past 13 years and their careers have carried them to numerous playoffs in Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia.

Bossi now is undergoing a training period as a supervisor for the Peoples Natural Gas Company at Wilkinsburg, Pa. When he finishes his training March 1 he will be assigned by the company.

Bossi and Rich are honoring their officiating contracts for this season.

We believe Arthur G. Ramey first brought Bossi and Rich into Allegany county for important schoolboy games almost 10 years ago and they've always made a hit here. They've worked the district tournaments here and also games in Bedford, Hagerstown and Martinsburg and at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Their careers have run a parallel course. Each won letters in basketball at Windber High School, served in the army during World War II and are employed by the Peoples Natural Gas Company.

This is the 30th season for Rich as a PIAA basketball official. He plans to team up with Andy Baranik, Jr., another Windberite, who has been an official for 10 years. Bossi has been officiating since the 1947-48 season.

LARRY A. WARNICK, of Route 2, Box 46, Grantsville, Md., has made his predictions on the outcome of the major league races for 1961, and he requests that we publish same.

We don't know Larry Warnick but since most baseball fans can pick 'em better than the so-called "experts" we are glad to let our readers know how Larry rates the teams. So here goes:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

1. PITTSBURGH.
Great pitching, good hitting, fair power, can't be beat.
2. MILWAUKEE.
Good power. Needs pitching.
3. SAN FRANCISCO.
Kuenn to help out.
4. ST. LOUIS.
They keep trying.
5. LOS ANGELES.
Needs pitching and hitting.
6. CINCINNATI.
Can't go higher.
7. CHICAGO.
Banks and Thomas, that's all.
8. PHILADELPHIA.
The Eagles were the champions in football but not the Phillies in baseball.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

2. CHICAGO.
The old ones can't go.
3. CLEVELAND.
Gets stronger pitching.
4. DETROIT.

5. MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL.
The move will help the ex-Washington club.
6. BALTIMORE.
The rookies can't come through.
7. BOSTON.
The ten teams keeps them from the cellar.
8. KANSAS CITY.
Joe Gordon and Frank Lane are not ready to trade yet.
9. LOS ANGELES.
Not up to date with other teams yet.
10. WASHINGTON.
Mickey Vernon is managing a last place club but is not coaching a first place team.

DANA "HORSE" LOUGH, the venerable coach of Potomac State College basketball and football teams, reports that the Catamounts will have spring football practice this year and that the only new team on the Cats' 1961 schedule will be Frostburg State Teachers College which will replace the Concord College Mountain Lions.

Spring practice was taboo last year but will be legal this year, the one-time Ironton tank informs us.

Frostburg State, incidentally, will have its first football team this year and the Bobcats plan to start spring drills the second or third week in March with an intra-squad game billed in May.

Coach Ron Van Ryswyk reports that Frostburg State is planning a six-game schedule and will open at Shepherd College, Sept. 23. Other home games are with Bridgewater, Waynesburg and Potomac State while D. & E. and Gallaudet will be met away from home.

Seventy candidates are expected to report for football at Frostburg.

Shepherd Plays At Frostburg State Tonight

Ridgeley To Host Moorefield Quint

Shepherd College's Rams, fresh from a prized 88-83 victory over Shippensburg (Pa.) State Teachers College, invade Frostburg tonight to do battle with Coach Ron Van Ryswyk's Frostburg State Bobcats in the opener of a two-game series between the teams.

Coach Flavius Smith's quint squared its series with Shippensburg Thursday night and is now 4-6 for the campaign. Shippensburg holds 71-61 and 54-37 decisions over the Bobcats who hit the century mark for the first time this season by whipping Coppin Junior College of Baltimore on Wednesday by the score of 100-55.

Frostburg State (4-5) could move into the .500 circle with a victory tonight.

Potomac State winds up a two-day road trip tonight by playing Montgomery Junior College.

Two high school basketball games are on tap for tonight.

Moorefield High's Yellowjackets (7-2) battle the Ridgeley High Blackhawks (4-6) at Ridgeley and the West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney (2-3) opposes Kendall School for the Deaf at Washington, D.C.

The Moorefield-Ridgeley game is a Potomac Valley Conference affair. Moorefield is 5-1 in the league and Ridgeley is 4-5.

Coaches Of Sunday School Teams Honored At Dinner

Mentors Presented "Y" Memberships

The Optimists Club of Cumberland and the Central YMCA staff combined to honor coaches of the Sunday School Basketball League teams last night at a dinner program held in the Community Room of the local Y.

Following the dinner a basketball game between the YMCA varsity team and members of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Recreation Association was played on the Y court. The coaches and members of their Sunday School basketball teams were guests at the contest.

The coaches were introduced and presented memberships to the YMCA in brief ceremonies prior to the start of the basketball game.

The dinner program, in recognition of the 33rd year of the church loop, was highlighted by the reading of a letter from J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, to the coaches and staff of the YMCA. It was read by Robert E. Hesse, Somerville, Ky., commissioner of basketball for the federal organization.

Letter From Hoover

The letter said in part "It is indeed a pleasure to extend greetings to the coaches of the YMCA Church Basketball League of Cumberland. Please accept my congratulations and best wishes for continued success in teaching our young boys the ideals of honesty, integrity and fair play. x x x

"They must be imbued with the highest principles of liberty and justice on which our great country was founded. One hour spent with our youth is an hour invested in the future of America.

"The coaches of the YMCA dedicated to the guidance and training of youth deserve the ardent support of all citizens."

Each of the 31 coaches in the league received a duplicate copy of Mr. Hoover's letter.

Robert Moore, vice president of the YMCA and chairman of the membership committee, was toastmaster at the dinner. Greetings from the Cumberland Ministerial Association were extended by Rev. Russell Fink, St. John's Lutheran Church, and Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney and president of the local Optimists club, spoke briefly.

Approximately 35 persons attended the dinner which was served by the YMCA auxiliary. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moreland lead the group in singing several songs at the completion of the dinner.

A majority of the team coaches were present at the dinner. Others who attended included Rev. and Mrs. W. Randolph Keefe of Grace Baptist Church, Rev. H. W. Nommensen of Trinity Lutheran Church; Robert Williams, general secretary of the YMCA and his two sons, Jeff and Doug; Earl Nonnenmann, president of the YMCA; Wallace Dow, program secretary of the Y; and members of the FBI.

Philley And Busby To Rejoin Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles moved to strengthen their outfield reserves Friday by signing veterans Jim Busby and Dave Philley, both of whom were released by the club last fall.

Philley, who hit .265 in 14 games with Baltimore last season, and Busby, who batted .258 in 80 games, were dropped last Oct. 13 before plans for expanding the American League with two new franchises were announced.

In helping stock the rosters of the two new clubs, the Orioles lost seven men on their major league list and two minor league farm players. Among them were four outfielders.

Dodgers Land Don Newcombe

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — All-time pitching star Don Newcombe will return to the Los Angeles Dodgers this spring — but only with the assurance of a spot with one of the Dodger farm teams.

Earlier Friday, Newcombe was made a free agent by the Cleveland Indians.

Dodger General Manager and Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi said Newcombe, last 20-game winner for the Dodgers, would go to Vero Beach, Fla., with other farmhands in the spring.

QUITS TULSA—Bobby Dodds quit as head football coach at Tulsa yesterday to take a similar job with the professional Calgary Stampeders of Canada's western inter-provincial football union. (AP Photofax)

West Virginia Plays Wildcats

Villanova Host At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A strong bench, steadily improving sophomores and a balanced scoring attack. That's the combination Coach George King has hit on as his West Virginia basketball squad has reeled off eight wins in a row.

And King & Co. will need all three aspects of that offensive punch when the Mountaineers take on Villanova here Saturday night.

Fred Schaus had a similar combination when he brought the Mountaineers here in 1957. The WVU cagers defeated the Wildcats 76-75 in the last three seconds of the game and the Villanova fans are still talking about that one.

Schaus had his Jerry West in that game and King has his Rod Thorn, who is proving an able successor to West.

Four WVU cagers are averaging in double figures with Thorn's 21.3-point average leading the way. Lee Patrone is hitting at a 16-point-per game clip followed by Jim Ritchie and Jim McCormick at 11 each.

The West Virginia - Villanova game will start at about 9:30 p.m., following a Penn - Brown game at the Palestra.

William B. MacDonald's Royal Native earned $223,995 during 17 starts in 1960. The 4-year-old chestnut filly was unplaced only twice.

Pro Bowl Game Set For Sunday At Los Angeles

70,000 Will Attend NFL All-Star Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sunny skies, a 70,000 crowd and aerial fireworks from quarterbacks Johnny Unitas and Norm Van Brocklin are expected for Sunday's annual pro bowl game at the Coliseum.

Kickoff for the annual war between National Football League All-Stars is set for 1 p.m. PST. The game will be televised nationally over NBC.

Unitas will be looking for his second straight victory. He was voted player of the game last year after leading the Western division to a rousing 38-21 victory.

The Baltimore quarterback will be able to deploy a varied running game to keep the Eastern pass defenders honest. In the backfield with Unitas will be Jon Arnett of the Los Angeles Rams, Jim Taylor of Green Bay and Unitas' Baltimore teammate, Lenny Moore.

Sunday's game may be the swan song for Van Brocklin, who announced that he plans to retire after leading the Philadelphia Eagles to the league championship.

The East running attack features four-time NFL rushing leader Jim Brown of Cleveland, Jim David of St. Louis and Ray Renfro and Bobby Mitchell of Cleveland.

To Coach Canadians

Fast Buying Spree Gives Stock Market More Gains

NEW YORK (UPI) — A whirlwind buying spree at the close Friday gave the stock market a decisive capper on a full week of rising prices.

Volume mounted to 4,520,000 shares from 4,270,000 on Thursday for the sixth consecutive session that turnover topped 4 million.

Several hefty gains prodded the Dow-Jones industrial average 5.15 points higher to 633.65. DuPont rolled up 3, Procter & Gamble 2 and General Electric 2, checking its recent sharp decline.

Fractional movements dominated the rails that were ahead 0.31 to 139.63 at the close. Utilities gained 0.28 to 102.62 with Panhandle up 2 points following news of a big gas field discovery.

The market opened with an enthusiasm that swamped the ticker for the first half hour. Prices reached a temporary peak before noon, settled down to a drift until the final minutes when a sharp upswing left no question which way the market was headed.

The number of issues crossing the tape ran to a whopping 1,292, the most in recent history. These included 646 gainers, 81 to new highs and 414 losers, only 4 to new lows for 1960-61.

International Business Machines soared 14¾ points to 622¼, an all-time high, as the company reported 1960 earnings of 9.18 a share against $7.97 in 1959.

Steels and motors did little despite reports of better production in both sections. Jones & Laughlin lost 1⅛.

Despite higher prices for the metal in London, gold shares dropped. Homestake 1⅜.

Ling-Temco Electronics was the most actively traded stock with 127,600 shares, up 1⅞ to 30¾.

Stocks on the American Exchange moved irregularly higher. Fairchild Camera, settling the strike which has plagued it in recent months, climbed 14⅜ points to 144⅝.

Equity Suits Filed

Five new equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Joseph Acre vs. Mary T. Acre, Joseph Noonan vs. Lula Noonan, Dorothy Mae Shanholtzer, a minor, by Elizabeth Fishell, mother and next friend, vs. James William Shanholtzer, Julia E. Garlitz vs. Gilbert T. Garlitz, and Maud Mae Heilman vs. Charles C. Heilman.

Most sugar comes from sugar cane and beets.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Grain futures found a variety of inspirations Friday to stage a strong general advance on the Board of Trade.

Wheat closed up ⅝ to 1⅝, corn ¾ to 2⅝, oats ⅜ to 1, rye ⅞ to 1½, soybeans 1¼ to 2⅝, and drummed lard 17 to 28 points.

Soybeans gained support from by-products, most of which climbed to new highs for the season. Pending export trade helped wheat, oats and rye.

Corn jumped more than 2 cents a bushel on a report the new administration is preparing a plan to boost price supports. Speculators were active buyers in deferred contracts of most gains.

Commercial and commission interests bought wheat. No export sales were reported, but about a dozen countries showed interest in wheat.

Corn advanced despite larger receipts and a mixed commercial trade. Mild weather apparently encouraged farmers to ship corn. July contracts found an active demand. Spot basis held steady.

Export subsidies were granted on 3,489,000 bushels of corn, 200,000 bushels of oats and 100,000 bushels of rye.

Oats and rye advanced in quiet dealings. Northwest brokers bought March oats.

Traders were more cautious than recently in soybeans, but the market continued active. Prices were less erratic, and many dealers showed less inclination to follow bulges. Commission houses were on both sides.

Drummed lard futures reached new seasonal highs on stop order buying and firmer vegetable oil futures.

Outside markets were mostly higher.

Johnson Will Be Powerful In New Role

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In Churchillian terms, Lyndon B. Johnson didn't seek the vice presidency to preside over the liquidation of his political future.

And President-elect John F. Kennedy already has made it clear he intends to use his running-mate extensively — probably more fully than President Eisenhower utilized the talents of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Actually, the outgoing Senate Democratic leader may assume duties beyond those constitutionally assigned him only as the new President invites or approves.

Kennedy met that situation in a pre-Christmas announcement that Johnson will take over chairmanship of the President's Advisory Council on Space, oversee work of the Government Contract Committee which checks on job discrimination, and help out on security, defense and international relations problems.

The vice president's basic responsibility is the routine one of presiding over the Senate, where he may vote only in the case of a tie. Otherwise, the tasks of the office are largely ceremonial.

Nixon was given new and broadened duties by Eisenhower. He traveled overseas as the President's good will ambassador, participated in high-level cabinet and National Security Council meetings, and chaired the Government Contracts Committee. He also worked on legislative strategy.

Johnson as vice president will not let himself be tied to the presiding officer's chair. An active and restless man despite his 1955 heart attack, he'll more likely be found in areas where trouble-shooting is required.

That will include liaison with the White House, Speaker Sam Rayburn, his fellow Texan, and GOP congressional leaders as the need arises. s

There have been signs that Kennedy may ask Johnson to represent him in some face-to-face negotiations abroad.

But Johnson's real value to Kennedy on Capitol Hill will be his personal influence with members of Congress. The Texan's ability to "wheel and deal" in close vote situations and to work out compromise agreements will stand the new President in good stead.

As Democratic leader Johnson has been responsible for committee assignments and other favors which have gone to Democratic senators in recent years. As vice president, he may be able to strengthen such influence because of his link with the White House and the new vista of patronage and political opportunity this unveils.

There is every prospect for greater rapport between the new President and his vice president than existed between Eisenhower and Nixon.

Attorneys On State Committees

A number of appointments on committees of the Maryland State Bar Association have been made by William J. McWilliams, president.

Earl E. Manges, Cumberland, has been named to represent the Fourth Judicial Circuit on the standing committee on legal education.

William C. Walsh, this city, former attorney general and judge of the Maryland Court of Appeals, has been appointed again on the committee to consider changes in the law to deal with widespread disaster.

It was this committee that set up legislation which was passed in the 1960 session of the General Assembly providing for succession of office for governor of Maryland in the event of widespread disaster.

Frederick A. Thayer, Oakland, was appointed to the young lawyers' committee.

On the committee for federal judiciary appointments is William B. Somerville, Baltimore, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Somerville, 110 Washington Street.

Representing Allegany, Washington and Garrett Counties on the same committee is Henry Holzafel III, Hagerstown.

Frank C. Wachter, Hagerstown, represents the fourth Judicial Circuit on the standing committee on legal biography.

David W. Byron, of Hagerstown, will serve until 1963 on the special committee on continuing education of the bar.

Gov. Tawes takes the place of Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut on the executive committee. Ribicoff will be the new secretary of health, education and welfare.

River Report Release Date Set In April

Recommendations of the Corps of Army Engineers on water supply and flood control projects to be constructed on the Upper Potomac River area will be released in April.

The announcement was made by Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Maryland, Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia and Reps Charles McC. Mathias of Maryland and Harley O. Staggers of West Virginia after a meeting attended by Col. John Allen, district engineer of the Corps of Army Engineers.

Among projects which will be discussed in the April recommendations—which will be known as the North Branch Report of the Potomac River Survey—will be proposed Savage River Dam No. 2 in Garrett County and Stony River Dam in nearby West Virginia.

Sen. Beall said he hopes that positive action on the projects will be possible shortly after the report is released.

Included in the Army engineers findings will be an analysis of the degree to which the federal and local government will profit from the projects.

Water Pressure Increase Sought

Several owners of property located on Bedford Road who are interested in developing home tracts met with city officials today concerning an increase in water pressure in the area.

Water Commissoiner G. Ray Light said the property involved covers about 100 acres and is located on a hill. Because of the terrain, the present 12-inch pipeline cannot adequately serve the additional area, which extends near the city limits.

Light said he is definitely interested in developing the section and getting it on the tax books.

As a result of the meeting yesterday, Light said he would request Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, and Simon K. Carroll, maintenance superintendent, to look into the matter.

Cost will be a major factor, Light said, adding if something can be done without spending a fortune, his department is definitely interested.

B&O Furloughs 25 Workers At Rowlesburg

The B&O Railroad has furloughed 25 workers at the Rowlesburg shops effective yesterday.

Included are machinists and electricians and helpers. Known as M&K Shops, the facility has been operated for about 100 years and comprises the major segment of the economy of the town.

IT&T Set To Bounce Signals Off Moon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nutley, N.J., laboratories of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. were authorized by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Thursday to bounce signals off the moon as a part of their space program.

The commission allocated certain frequencies to the IT&T laboratories for one year to conduct experiments in space communications.

In advising the IT&T laboratories of the grant, the commission stressed that the "no determination has been made either nationally or internationally as to what portion or portions of the radio spectrum ultimately may become available for use by operational space communication systems."

Aid Offered To Taxpayers

Representatives of the Office of the Comptroller, Maryland Income Tax Division, will visit cities and towns in the area to assist taxpayers in preparation of their returns for 1960.

The itinerary for Western Maryland includes:

Cumberland, 9 Market Street, February 14 to April 17; Frostburg, Fidelity Savings Bank, February 23-24; Westernport, City Building, February 16-17; Lonaconing, Liberty Trust Company, February 21; Barton, First National Bank, February 20; Luke, Devon Club, February 27-28 and March 1, 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10.

Representatives will be at Oakland in the Garrett County Court House on February 15.

A permanent office is located at 9 Market Street, Cumberland.

Van Zandt Urges Job Aid Bill Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James E. Van Zandt of Pennsylvania Thursday urged House support for his distressed areas bill.

The Altoona Republican's measure would provide federal aid on a matching-fund basis.

He had planned to make a speech on the subject, but the House adjourned shortly after President Eisenhower's State of the Union message was read. As a result, Van Zandt placed his remarks in the congressional record.

Under Van Zandt's proposal, economically depressed communities would provide 10 per cent of the money that would be available as loans to help finance the establishment of new industry in their areas. The remainder would be provided on a 50-50 basis by the state and federal governments.

All payments on the loans would remain in the state, the federal share thus becoming a grant to the state.

PTA Meeting Set Tomorrow

The Parent-Teacher Association of SS. Peter and Paul Parochial School will meet Sunday at 2 p.m. in the parish hall, according to P. Raymond Shaffer, president.

The meeting will be featured by reports on upcoming activities, Shaffer said. Mrs. Marguerite Sloan, chairman, will present a progress report on the covered dish supper the PTA will hold on Sunday, January, 29, and Edward Rider, chairman, will report on plans for the organization's prelenten dance which will be held next month.

Classroom visitation will be held following the meeting, Shaffer said.

Beer License Is Transferred

A Class D beer license held by Mrs. Jean Twigg on premises at 620 Columbia Avenue has been transferred to Lawrence V. Lowery.

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners approved the transfer yesterday pending receipt of the bulk sales permit from the state.

Cold Airwaves War

LONDON (AP)—The cold airwaves war is on again because, Moscow radio contends, the British Broadcast Corp. Russian language programs insult Soviet leaders. Moscow commentator Mikhail Volgin reminded BBC that Soviet jamming had been suspended for three months last year and said it got crackling again when BBC "resumed the cold war."

DEVELOPING SERIES

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The former executive director of "The Untouchables" is developing a new hour-long television series, "The New Breed," based on activities of Los Angeles' select Metropolitan Police Squad.

Quincy Martin said the new series will be filmed entirely on Los Angeles streets and show how the squad of 75 high-trained men operate under new police techniques. The series is being developed for ABC.

WINS ROLE

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Erika Peters will co-star in "Die Hochstapliren" (The Con Woman) to be filmed in Germany.

Teachers May Get Bigger Pay Hike

Tawes Insists On Sound Plan

BY HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. Tawes Frida opened up prospects of a general pay raise for school teachers but indicated it would have to be limited in scope and backed up by a tax program.

The question of replacing the James Committee proposals for aid to education, costing $6.4 million but including school construction money as well as salary aid, was raised at a morning conference between the governor and legislative leaders.

Tawes said later he had told backers of a general salary bill to see what they could work up and submit it for further consideration. "If it's a reasonable program, I would agree to it," Tawes told newsmen. "But if anybody wants to go on a spending spree it would be a different matter."

The governor indicated he hopes to take up the proposals again before he submits his budget to the legislature Jan. 24.

Differing Views

Legislative leaders are widely split on whether it would be better to give school teachers a specific pay raise or whether to funnel the money to subdivisions as aid to education and let local governments decide how best to use it.

The James Committee recommends that $3.4 million go to subdivisions as state aid under school operation costs and $3 million as an incentive fund for school construction. It proposed an additional $2.5 million in welfare aid for local governments, of which $2.3 million would go to hard-pressed Baltimore City.

When Tawes endorsed the report on aid to subdivisions, by the Legislative Council Committee on Taxation and Fiscal Matters, he said he would propose a tax increase of about $10 million to finance it and salary adjustments for state employes.

"I endorsed the James Committee report because it seemed to be the unanimous opinion of the Legislative Council that it was needed for aid to subdivisions," the governor said.

Would Not Resist Change

"If they want to change it and don't go too far afield I would not have objections."

There is no firm indication as yet, however, that the program will be scrapped. Tawes said tables must be prepared showing how local governments would fare under both proposals, what kind of tax would be needed, and then a decision made as to which would be better.

Legislative leaders themselves are split on the issue. Sen. William S. James, D-Harford, chairman of the fiscal committee which bears his name, thinks it would be a big mistake to tamper with the distribution pattern worked out by the committee over the course of the summer. Sen. Edward S. Northrop, majority floor leader and chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee, also is against changing it.

Alternate Plan Backed

House leaders, principally majority floor leader Gordon Boone, D-Balto County, are sparking the move for an alternate plan. There are also a number of legislators on both sides of the hall who believe if the administration is to raise taxes this year it would be better to do it for a program that would do more to satisfy the demand for teacher pay.

A final figure is yet to be arrived at. The teachers are asking for general pay raises which would boost salaries by an average of more than $400 and raise minimum scales from $4,000 to $6,000. This would cost $13 million.

Weatherholt Heads Heart Fund Campaign

Drive Will Open On February 1

F. Allan Weatherholt, trial magistrate for Allegany County and local newspaperman, will serve as general chairman for the 1961 Heart Fund campaign, the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association announced yesterday.

Mr. Weatherholt, who is one of two charter members still active in heart association work, has served as a director and as vice president, and was a two-term president.

He was active in forming the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association, extending activities of the Allegany County Rheumatic Fever and Heart Association to embrace the two counties.

The Heart Fund campaign, which commences February 1, will climax on Heart Sunday, February 26, when hundreds of volunteers in all of the area's residential districts will call on residents for contributions.

Contributions make possible the support of cardiovascular research in Maryland, and aid scientists in clinics and university laboratories throughout the nation. The Allegany-Garrett association is a chapter of the American Heart Association.

Research Has Priority

Research has top priority in the heart program, and in the past 12 years has been responsible for progress in saving hearts through new methods of diagnosis, treatment and prevention. Dollars also support broad programs of public and professional education.

According to Chairman Weatherholt, "The heart and blood vessel diseases are still the nation's Number One health enemy."

Mr. Weatherholt, who has been serving as magistrate in Trial Magistrate's Court here since his two-year appointment by Governor Tawes, takes over the general chairmanship from George R. Hughes Jr., who filled the position two years.

A resident of 419 Fairmont Lane, Mr. Weatherholt is a native of Kitzmiller, Garrett County. He graduated from Allegany County High School in 1926.

Beall Seeks Meeting On Pinto Bridge

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall said here yesterday that he is arranging a conference with several federal agencies in connection with the needs of a new bridge across the Potomac River at Pinto.

Attending the conference will be officials of the Navy's procurement and yards and docks divisions, the Federal Bureau of Public Works and the Defense Department.

Senator Beall said he believes something can be worked out.

Efforts toward the construction of the span are also being pushed on the state and county levels.

Thomas B. Finan, who yesterday assumed his post as attorney general of Maryland, and Russell McCain, administrative assistant in the governor's office and former chairman of the State Roads Commission have been requested by Gov. Tawes to check into the proposal for a new Pinto bridge.

The two men were asked by the governor to compile as much data as possible on procedures and ways of handling the matter, according to Commissioner John J. Rowan, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Rowan said the governor gave assurances of his full support for the proposal at a meeting Thursday afternoon in Annapolis. County Commissioner John T. Mason also attended the session.

Pumping Unit Planned At Lake Gordon

Light Is Awaiting Estimate Of Costs

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said yesterday he is considering recommending the installation of a low-lift pumping station at Lake Gordon.

He said the Robert T. Regester Associates firm has advised it is mailing a breakdown of costs of installing the pumping facility which is needed to tap a 40-50-day supply of water which will not flow into the city's filtration plant by gravity.

Mr. Light said he will urge immediate action on the pumping station if the cost is not too great and funds are on hand.

Termed Protection

Citing the present water levels in Lake Gordon and Lake Koon, he said the city "should protect itself."

He said officials of the Baltimore consulting engineer firm advised that the project could be started right away.

Mr. Light said the pumping station will probably be needed later this year when rehabilitation of the Lake Gordon gate chamber begins.

After an inspection of the gate chamber late last fall, W. E. Bartles, project engineer for the firm, recommended that the dam's control chamber be taken out of service and that all gate valves and equipment necessary for the operation of the valves be replaced with new equipment.

Was Deferred

In his report, Mr. Bartles advised that before the gate chamber can be rehabilitated, it will be necessary to install low-lift pumps and have them in operation, as the gate chamber will be out of service for several months while it is being rehabilitated.

Mr. Light termed the pumping station a "very important step" in the modernization of the water treatment plant.

The pumping station was included in the original recommendations of the Regester firm for modernizing the city's water treatment and storage facilities.

It was deferred, however, as the construction of the six new filter units and the rehabilitation of the 12 original units were considered more urgent.

Local Couple Sues Railway For $7,500

A local man and his wife, who have filed two separate damage suits in Allegany County Circuit Court, are suing the Western Maryland Railway Company for a total of $7,500 as the result of an accident on a crossing here two years ago.

Evelyn B. Stitcher, wife of J. Henry Stitcher, 508 Dilley Street, who was hurt in the accident on January 15, 1958, is claiming damages of $5,000 for her injuries and medical expenses.

About 6:40 p. m. that day she was driving her husband's car across the railroad tracks near Franklin Street and was traveling west toward Centre Street.

The barrier gates on the crossing had not been lowered, according to the papers, which indicated that the car was hit on the driver's side by the rear end of a string of railroad cars being backed across the crossing.

The woman was injured and the car damaged beyond further use.

Mr. Stitcher filed a suit for $2,500 for being deprived of the services of his wife. Frederick A. Puderbaugh and Matthew J. Mullaney are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Finan Takes Office

Simpkins of Princess Anne, Mr. Finan's successor as secretary of state, looks on at left. GOP On Rise Rep. Mathias Tells Club

FREDERICK (AP) — Rep. Charles McC. Mathias, Maryland's only Republican congressman, said Friday night many factors in last November's general election show the GOP is on the rise across the nation.

Mathias cited three of the factors which he said indicate a broadening of the base of the Republican party which will permit it to regain the White House. They are:

1. A gain of 20 seats for Republicans in the House of Representatives, unprecedented in the year of a Democratic presidential victory.

2. A gain of 280 GOP seats in state legislatures.

3. The large number of student polls and elections which showed "support of youth for Republican policies."

Mathias made his remarks in a speech before some 100 members of the Frederick County Young Republican Club and the executive board of the Maryland Federation of Republican Clubs. The board met at the Francis Scott Key Hotel to accept the new Frederick group into the federation.

Mathias predicted "the basic health of the American economy will show an increase within the next six months unless the economic tinkerers with fuzzy fiscal philosophies place an obstacle in the path of this progress which sound economists now foresee."

"But it is not enough for us simply to denounce these Democratic policies," Mathias said. "We must recognize problems which do arise and find solutions for them ourselves in accord with our principles."

The Frederick attorney, who defeated incumbent John R. Foley to break a solid Democratic front in the House, called for expressions of grass-roots sentiment on all issues.

"With national leaders of our party dispersed, it is only the active members of our party, like you young Republicans, who can formulate these wise, constructive and positive policies and solutions," he said.

"We in Congress ask you to send us your suggestions, thoughts and opinions of all current legislation."

Parsons Couple Thwarts Holdup At Restaurant

Gunfire Exchanged; Intruders Captured

A couple who lives near Parsons, W.Va., thwarted an attempted robbery at their motel-restaurant near that community yesterday and also captured the two would-be thieves after an exchange of gunfire.

Mrs. Clara Purnell said she and her husband, Earl, were awakened about 2 a.m. by the sound of glass breaking in the front door of the restaurant. Their living quarters are back of the restaurant.

The woman said she and her husband each grabbed a shotgun and waited in the darkness inside a door looking out into the restaurant. Presently, she said, a hand reached inside the broken glass door to unlock it.

Purnell then switched on the lights and ordered the thieves to throw up their hands.

His command was answered by three quick shots, and one bullet whistled by the wife's head.

Undaunted, she let go a blast from her 16-gauge shotgun. The two thieves dived for cover, surrendered, and were held at gunpoint until Tucker County Sheriff James Phillips and Deputy Warren Nicely arrived.

The captives were identified as Floyd Kyle, 27, of Elkins, and a 16-year-old boy, also of Elkins. A third person was waiting for them in a car and sped away when the companions were caught.

Neither the thieves nor the Purnells were wounded. Both intruders were armed, one with a .45 caliber pistol and the other with a .32 caliber revolver.

'Monster' Sighted In County Areas

There is talk of a "monster" lurking around the Frostburg area, and LaVale.

Thursday night Maryland State Police received a call from a hysterical woman in Woodlawn, LaVale, who said she saw the monster but was unable to furnish a description.

Later they received a phone call that the monster was moving about the Finzel and Eckhart sections. It is reported to have green hair, and rumors have placed it in just about every small village around Frostburg.

A similar monster was reported recently in southern West Virginia. It supposedly invaded that state last year and put in another appearance approximately, around New Year's.

Winning Democrat Team Is Voluntarily Dissolved

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The winning Democratic team of J. Millard Tawes and C. Ferdinand Sybert was broken up voluntarily Friday.

As governor, Tawes swore in Sybert as an associate judge of The Maryland Court of Appeals.

Both took note that each had won statewide office under a Republican governor in 1954. Tawes was comptroller and Sybert attorney general under Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

Tawes then won election as governor in 1958 and Sybert was reelected attorney general.

Sybert's removal to the bench started a chain reaction of Democratic administrative changes.

Tawes later swore in Thomas B. Finan of Cumberland as the new attorney general and Lloyd L. Simpkins of Princess Anne as secretary of state.

Finan, the state Democratic chairman, has been secretary of state and Simpkins executive assistant to Tawes.

"It has been a team that has been working pretty well," Tawes said in commenting on the wholesale changes. "I hate to see it broken up."

"I recall our many contacts of the past," said Sybert to Tawes upon relinquishing the attorney general's post to don a judicial robe.

"I am sure we can continue our close association, although not in political affairs which I must eschew from this moment. As an old political war horse, I must admit to some wrench at getting out of that arena."

Sybert had been considered a possible candidate for governor himself in 1962.

Tawes was able to appoint him to the Court of Appeals after the voters last November approved increasing the number of judges from five to seven.

The close personal friendship between Tawes and Sybert was evident to the spectators packed into the big House of Delegates chamber when the governor in addressing him said "Ferd — I mean judge."

Sybert quipped during the ceremony "It was poetic justice for me to be sworn in this chamber, the scene of so many crimes when I was speaker of the House."

After being speaker, Sybert also served one term in the State Senate from Howard County before running for attorney general.

After he was sworn in, Finan expressed the hope "I can do half as well" as attorney general as one of his predecessors, William C. Walsh.

Finan is a law partner of Walsh, who attended the ceremonies with scores of other Democratic leaders from throughout the state.

Finan said the date of his becoming attorney general had double significance. He nodded toward his wife in a front row seat and said it was the same date he married her.

Local Youth Named Soldier Of Month

Pfc. Glen O. Shaffer, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tonie L. Shaffer, RFD 5, city, recently was named Soldier of the Month for the Army Storage Detachment in Metz, France.

A supply handler in the detachment, Pfc. Shaffer was selected for his soldierly appearance, knowledge and performance of duties, and military courtesy.

He entered the Army in June 1959 and arrived overseas in November of that year. He is a 1959 graduate of South Hagerstown High School.

Zoning Board Makes Changes In LaVale Law

The area bounded by Maryland Route 36 and the Western Maryland Railway at LaVale has been designated as "Commercial B" by the LaVale Zoning Board which held a public hearing this week.

Lloyd H. Buchanan, chairman of the board, said eight changes were made to the zoning ordinance which will be reprinted and available to persons who will be required to pay a printer's cost and mailing charges.

Mr. Buchanan said the board, which is responsible for enforcing the ordinance, has the authority to impose fines ranging from one to $100 for each day of violation.

He said trailers are known to be located in the community in violation with the ordinance, and some homes are known to be underway without permits.

These individuals must get in touch with the board immediately and comply with the ordinance, or fines will be imposed, he said.

No building permits were issued at the public meeting, according to Mr. Buchanan, who said T. L. Smith, David Whitworth and a representative of the LaVale Taxi Cab Company were among those who appeared before the board for information on projects under way or contemplated.

Mathias Has Breakfast At White House

Rep. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md. 6th, was among a group of 38 new members of Congress who had breakfast with President Eisenhower at the White House yesterday.

The President makes a practice of inviting groups of new Republican Congressmen to the White House for informal gatherings.

Later in the day, Rep. Mathias met with representatives of the Washington County Economic Development Commission who were in Washington to see him about Western Maryland's economic problems.

Rep. Mathias said he is studying possible legislation to help solve the problems.

On Thursday, he met with leaders of the Maryland Farm Bureau in Baltimore. About 35 farm leaders from places in the Sixth District were present.

CAB Explains Regulation On Plane Subsidy

Algonquin Files For Certificate

Algonquin Airways will have to hold a certificate authorizing the transportation of mail to become eligible for a subsidy, the Civil Aeronautics Board has advised Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

The information was contained in a letter from John W. Dregge, chief of the CAB's Routes Division, in reply to the mayor's telegram urging immediate action on a mail subsidy application of Algonquin Airways.

The CAB official said Montgomery Air Charter Service, Inc., trading as Algonquin Airways, filed a request with the CAB on January 4 for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to engage in air transportation of passengers, property and mail on a route between Cumberland and Washington.

Cites Federal Act

Mr. Dregge explained that as an air taxie operator, Algonquin may provide air service for passengers and property with aircraft not exceeding a take-off weight of 12,500 pounds.

He said that under Section 406 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, the board's authority to fix mail rates, which consists of compensation for the carriage of mail plus a subsidy element where required for the development objectives of the act, is limited to holders of certificates authorizing the carriage of mail.

He said the board could issue such a certificate only after formal proceedings, including a public hearing, is conducted.

Algonquin's application, he said, has been placed on the board's pending docket but has not been set for a hearing.

He added that Algonquin may, of course, continue to provide passenger and property service as an air taxi operator.

Suggests Mail Route

It was suggested that in addition to seeking authority to carry mail and become eligible for a subsidy as a certificate holder, Algonquin might wish to investigate the possibility of a grant of a star air mail route, but that it would not carry with it eligibility to receive a subsidy.

Mr. Dregge also advised that the issue of the possible renewal of Allegheny's certificate authority at Cumberland is pending, and that a copy of the decision will be sent. Allegheny halted service here in 1959 when its certificate authority expired.

Algonquin Airways began scheduled service between Cumberland and Washington early in November. It recently discontinued morning flights due to lack of patronage.

Plaintiff Wins Lawsuit Over Clay Payment

An Allegany County Circuit Court petit jury yesterday reached a verdict favoring the plaintiff in a case stemming from a dispute over payment for clay which was furnished to the Mt. Savage Refractories.

Philip Jenkins, of 101 Wood Street, Frostburg, was awarded $3,877.44 by the jurors who deliberated for about an hour. The plaintiff, through his attorneys, Milton Gerson and John Sullivan, sought $5,000 damages.

In the suit, Mr. Jenkins claimed that on September 1, 1959, he and A. J. Rost, president of the company, had entered into a verbal agreement whereby the plaintiff was retained by the company to buy clay for the defendant's factory at Mt. Savage.

In return for the services the plaintiff was to receive a broker's commission on every ton of clay that he purchased for the company.

From September 30, 1959 to January 15, 1960 the plaintiff had purchased 18,464 tons of clay, and was entitled to receive a commission of 25 cents per ton or a total of $4,616 which, according to the papers filed in court, the defendant refused to pay.

Papers filed in the case indicated that defendant had paid the commission on 858 tons of clay.

The company was represented by Hugh A. McMullen. The case was heard by the jury with Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris presiding.

Those who have been associated with him for many years will confirm the face that he never fails to amaze his friends not only with his mild mannerisms, but with his uncanny knack for unexpected statements or actions.

Perry Como

Known as "Mr. Nice Guy" not only to his fans but to the over 248 associates—actors, stage-hands, writers, dancers and clerical workers — who go into the production of his weekly show, Perry has more than earned this appellation.

If you've seen him on television, you can consider yourself as having met him personally: unassuming, soft spoken, warm, talented with a natural sense of humor. He's relaxed and easy-going, although he once told a newspaperman, "I'm not relaxed, I'm just tired."

His patience and true fondness for his fans provide the key to the man's personality. He'd rather be late for rehearsal or an appointment than fluff them off; they snap their cameras and press him for autographs at the stage door.

Despite the stature he has attained in the entertainment field, he still finds time to afford the press interviews. In our particular case an original interview had to be cancelled because of sickness in the family. He not only gracefully accepted our excuse but set a new time immediately, and sent a telegram wishing speedy recovery.

Fame hasn't tarnished Perry's sense of values. His contributions of time and money to benefits and charities are great but infrequently publicized—he prefers it that way.

A man of great faith, Perry admits: "I have the things money can buy now, but the things money can't buy, I've always had."

Borge Serious Type

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — A comedian's life isn't all one big joke. Neither is it the "laugh-clown-laugh" idea of the essentially sad man who manages a happy exterior.

Great comedians are human beings; to them, comedy is simply another trade. There are both good and bad things about the job.

Victor Borge, concert pianist as well as comedian, is saddled with one problem that perhaps is unique.

"They won't take me seriously," he groans. "I would like to conduct—that's my secret ambition. And I'm a good conductor, if you'll pardon my immodesty. They want me always to be funny."

That, of course, is understandable. He is very successful at being funny. And the humor is in him; it bubbles out at almost every provocation.

Obviously, it would be difficult to suppress a sense of humor so near the surface. And Borge doesn't want to suppress it entirely.

"When I go to a party, they expect me to be funny, and I usually am funny. I like it, I enjoy it.

"But when I'm not in the mood to be funny, I don't go to the party. I couldn't go and then just sit in the corner. We are what we are and we shouldn't try to avoid it.

"There are many things I could have been, but I chose to be a pianist and humorist. So why try to be anything else."

But he does hunger for a chance to be recognized as a serious musician—he'd like it if the audience didn't laugh when he sat down at the piano.

"When I fall off the piano bench," he says, "I am not doing slapstick. I am doing a satire on a pianist who is so carried away with his music that he falls off the bench. If I wanted to do slapstick, I could just let my trousers fall down."

These are, of course, relatively minor matters. Basically, he's content with his lot; you could easily mistake him for a happy man.

"Happy? What is happiness? I am not happy because I am a comedian, but I am happy because of other things entirely.

"I am happy because I have five children who are healthy so far, a wife I like and because I missed the gas chambers in World War II. These are what make me happy. They have nothing to do with the fact that I am a comedian."

Bob Kennedy Gets Okay

President Of WVU Kennedy Choice As Army Secretary

DESIGNATED — Elvis J. Stahr, 44, president of West Virginia University, Morgantown, W. Va., is the choice of President-elect Kennedy for Secretary of the Army congressional sources said yesterday. Announcement is expected today. (AP Photofax)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Formal announcement of the West Virginia University President Elvis J. Stahr Jr. as new secretary of the Army is expected today.

Stahr wouldn't confirm or deny the report, but other sources said the 43-year-old one-time Army secretary, had been tendered the appointment and had accepted.

President-elect John F. Kennedy is expected to make the announcement Saturday at Palm Beach, Fla.

The University Board of Governors will meet in Charleston Saturday and Stahr's status will be clarified at that time.

The fact that the board, which has the authority in hiring a president, is meeting at this time apparently is a coincidence. The meeting had been scheduled prior to the report that Stahr was leaving, sources said.

Assistant To Pace

There was no indication whether Stahr, who has been president of the University less than two years, might ask for a leave of absence or would resign outright.

Stahr served as special assistant to Frank Pace during the Korean War when the latter was secretary of the Army in the early '50s. He was appointed University president effective last Feb. 1, coming here from the University of Pittsburgh where he had been vice chancellor.

The first disclosure of Stahr's impending appointment was made in the Morgantown Dominion-News' Friday morning editions.

Stahr is a native of Hickman, Ky., and graduate from the University of Kentucky in 1936. He then studied for three years at Britain's Oxford University under a Rhodes scholarship and afterwards joined a large New York law firm before entering the Army.

He was an infantry officer in World War II, with two years of overseas service. He saw duty in China, North Africa and India.

Dean At 32

After the war, Stahr returned to the law firm for a brief time and in 1947 was appointed associate law professor at his alma mater, Kentucky.

A year later, at the age of 32, he was elevated to dean of the College of Law.

Stahr took a leave of absence from Kentucky to serve as assistant to Pace during the Korean War. He returned to the University and was made provost in 1954.

In 1956, he was named executive director of President Eisenhower's Committee on Higher Education and a year later was appointed vice chancellor at Pitt.

He was chosen as West Virginia University president Aug. 2, 1958, but agreed to remain at Pitt until the following February while a successor was being found.

House Of Correction Contraband

State Trooper M. H. Klos, Warden William Steiner of the Maryland House of Correction, and Alvin J. T. Zumbrun, managing director of the Maryland Crime Investigating Committee, examine contraband found at the prison in Jessup. Zumbrun said a pint of whisky and five medicinal inhalers were passed to two prison trustees on a work detail in Baltimore, to support his contention such items are being smuggled into Maryland correctional institutions. Former Head American Legion Named Administrator Of VA

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — John S. Gleason Jr., a Chicago banker and former national commander of the American Legion, was chosen Friday night by President-elect John F. Kennedy to head the Veterans Administration.

Gleason will succeed Sumner G. Whittier as administrator of the large agency which administers the varied federal programs of benefits for former members of the armed forces.

There also were strong indications Friday that George Docking, former Democratic governor of Kansas, would be named to the board of directors of the Export-Import Bank. Sources within the new administration said Docking was under "serious consideration."

Former Gov. Herschel Loveless of Iowa also remained under active consideration for a top federal post.

After protracted discussions here Friday with Secretary of State-designate Dean Rusk, Kennedy released the appointment of Gleason, and also, announced his decision to retain two technical experts of the Defense Department.

Lyle S. Garlock, who has been in the Defense Department for nine years, was retained as assistant Air Force secretary for financial management.

James H. Wakelin, a physicist with degrees from Dartmouth, Oxford and Yale, was selected for reappointment as assistant secretary of Navy for research and development, a post he has held since June, 1959. Garlock has been assistant Air Force secretary since 1954.

Gleason, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, was born in the same city Feb. 11, 1915. He is a Notre Dame graduate, but took post-graduate work at Harvard.

Rusk was with Kennedy for several hours. The secretary-designate reported that he and the president-elect discussed future foreign policy, as well as reaching agreement on the selection of a number of new State Department appointees to be announced next week.

Rusk later departed for New York aboard an Eastern Airlines jet airliner.

Royal Army Is Advancing On Rebel City

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The head of a royal army column advancing for the battle of north-central Laos is three miles south of the key rebel city of Xieng Khouang, a spokesman claimed Friday.

Information Minister Bouavan Norasang also said advance elements of a second column were 13 miles south of Xieng Khouang, eastern gateway to the strategic Plaine des Jarres.

Intelligence sources, however, said at the rate of progress now being made, a major offensive to oust the leftist rebels from the north-central plain still is at least two weeks away.

These sources said the four U.S.-supplied light planes, armed and flown by Laotians, strafed and rocketed enemy positions for the third day in a row. There was no report on their effectiveness.

The targets of the air strikes were said to be pro-Communist artillery positions in the hills 70 miles north of Vientiane, where skirmishing is in progress.

On this front, soldiers from Vientiane are trying to join up with other forces moving south from Luang Prabang, the royal capital 150 miles north of here.

Ike Prepares Record High Defense Dept. Budget

By CHARLES CORDDRY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower will send Congress a record peacetime defense budget of $42.9 billion, an increase of $1.4 billion over estimates for the current fiscal year.

Even so, it is about one billion less than the military forces wanted to carry out the stepped up defense program which Eisenhower ordered last year. The new funds are earmarked for the new fiscal year starting July 1.

Marked for cutbacks and stretch-outs are several aircraft, missile and space projects. Funds for daily operation and maintenance of the armed services also have been given what one official called a "harsh squeeze."

President-elect John F. Kennedy, whose election campaign was based in part on claims that U.S. defenses are inadequate, will be under heavy pressure to increase the Eisenhower proposals.

As in the past, the Eisenhower budget would give about 45 per cent of the defense money to the Air Force, which has most of the top priority weapons.

Heavy emphasis is placed on intercontinental missiles and other massive retaliation weapons. But there also is an increase for modernized weapons and airlift for forces to prevent or counter limited aggression.

The division of money among the services is approximately this way:

Army—$10.4 billion; Navy—$11.9 billion; Air Force—$19.3 billion; Office of the Secretary of Defense—$1.3 billion.

The forces will start the new fiscal year with authorized manpower strength of 2,492,900. The Army will have 870,000; Navy—625,000; Marines—175,000; and Air Force—822,900.

Quake Rocks Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The greater Los Angeles area was jarred by a "sharp" local earthquake Friday night at 10:26 p.m. EST, but no damage or injuries were immediately reported.

Police and sheriff's office switch boards in Los Angeles, Glendale, and Pasadena were deluged with calls from persons who reported feeling the shock. The tremor also was felt as a jarring sensation in the Hollywood bureau of United Press International.

The seismograph at California Tech in Pasadena was not manned by scientists at the time of the shock at 10:26 p.m. EST. A student said the shock appeared "quite sharp," but he was unable to determine the intensity.

Speech Cost $700

TORONTO (AP) — Mayor Nathan Phillips said Friday that when he made a speech for a job-creating, cleanup camaign his wife was listening.

"The next day," he said, "I came home to find decorators and painters redoing my house. The darn speech will cost me between $600 and $700."

Khrushchev-Mennon Meet To Air Laos

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev conferred in Moscow Friday with Indian Ambassador K. P. S. Menon on Laos amid signs that the powers are stepping up a search for a political solution of the crisis.

Moscow Radio announced the meeting but gave no details.

In London, officials reported the British government is intensifying diplomatic exchanges with other interested powers including the United States on the problem.

The Soviet Union and Britain share a special responsibility in insuring an end of the civil war. They were cochairmen of the 1954 Geneva conference that produced the Indochinese peace settlement.

India also has a key role as chairman of the international control commission which the powers want recalled to Laos in order to arrange a cease-fire.

Anti-Communist Nations Call Meeting In Manila

TOKYO (UPI) — Six strongly anti-Communist Asian nations will meet in Manila next week to prepare a united front against possible Communist aggression arising from the crisis in Laos, informed sources reported Friday.

The six nations are the Philippines, Nationalist China, Pakistan, Thailand, South Viet Nam and South Korea. Their foreign ministers are to discuss Laos in particular and the threat of Communist expansion in general, the sources said.

The diplomats also will re-examine their own regional security arrangements in the event the United States withdraws the bulk of its forces from the Far East, the sources said. Several nations have expressed fears this would happen. They based these fears on pronouncements of foreign policy advisers of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Calling of the six-nation conference pointed strongly to a deadlock in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. SEATO has held a dozen conferences in Bangkok in the last six weeks and each time the delegates have emerged with a wait-and-see attitude.

Reliable sources said the agenda would include the question of refusing to appease the Communist bloc in the southeast Asian jungle war. Opposition to re-establishment of the International Control Commission in Laos was indicated.

USSR Moves On Belgium Challenged

By BRUCE W. MUNN

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The United States and Britain accused Russia Friday of attacking Belgium and its Ruanda-Urundi trusteeship solely to further the Kremlin campaign to wreck the United Nations.

"In typical Soviet fashion, an elephant gun has been trained on a mosquito," Ambassador James W. Bargo, deputy chief ofthe U.S. delegation, told the Security Council. "To accuse Belgium of aggression is, to say the least, total distortion."

British Ambassador Sir Patrick Dean said he found the Soviet charges against Belgium "a regrettable commentary on the Soviet attitude to the United Nations — a blend of cynicism and contempt."

The Soviet's charges were based on a New Year's Day incident in which Belgium permitted Congolese troops to cross the border from Ruanda-Urundi, a Belgian-administered territory under the U.N. trusteeship system, into the pro-Lumumba Congo province of Kivu.

Presenting the Soviet charge that this constituted "fresh acts of aggression" by Belgium against the Congo, Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin demanded that the Belgians be stripped of Ruanda-Urundi, ordered to withdraw all civilian and military personnel from the Congo, and that ousted leftist Premier Patrice Lumumba be restored and the country restored to government by a parliament under his control. But the Russian offered no resolution.

The United Arab Republic, Ceylon and Liberia proposed a reso- as administering authority of Ruanda-Urundi, "immediately to cease all action against the republic of the Congo." The measure also recommended that the General Assembly consider the New Year's incident as a violation of Belgium's trusteeship agreement on Ruanda-Urundi and called on Belgium to withdraw immediately from the Congo all "Belgian military and paramilitary personnel, advisers and technicians."

The council postponed action and adjourned until Saturday.

German Freighter Disappears In North

GOTEBERG, Sweden (UPI)—A German freighter disappeared and apparently sank in the North Sea off Sweden early Friday, leaving behind no trace of the nine crew members aboard.

Officials said 13 ships answered a distress call from the 427-ton freighter Muensterland. But by the time they converged on the scene, all they found was an oil slick, 10 empty lifeboats, a capsized raft and some wreckage believed to have come from the missing vessel.

There was no sign of any of the crew—which included one woman.

Officials said it was almost certain the Muensterland had sunk. But experts said they had no idea why, since the sea was relatively calm at the time.

Court Order Reinstates Two Negroes

US Judge Tells University Of Ga. To Readmit Both

By AL KUETTNER

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — Two Negro students suspended from the University of Georgia because their presence sparked mob violence were ordered re-admitted Friday by a federal judge who suggested the rioting could have been averted.

Judge W. A. Bootle ruled at Macon, Ga., that the students, Charlayne Hunter, 18, and Hamilton Holmes, 19, must be allowed to re-enter the university by 8 a.m Monday.

It was expected that the two would wait until Monday before returning to the campus which they left under police escort Thursday morning, but Miss Hunter indicated she may return Saturday.

Told of Judge Bootle's ruling, she exclaimed, "Oh, but we have classes tomorrow." She refused further comment, saying she would have to consult with her attorneys, when pressed on whether she intended to return in advance of the deadline set by Bootle.

The judge voided suspension of the students saying that he did not "find or conclude that law and order in this state has broken down or that officials . . . are unwilling to enforce order."

Claims Force Adequate

Bootle said the happenings of the night of the riot demonstrated that the city of Athens had an adequate force to handle the demonstration.

Suggesting that the riot need never have occurred, the judge said he had been informed that adequate forces which were available had not been used and that therefore, in his opinion, law and order had not broken down.

This apparently was an obvious slap at state officials.

Following the rioting authorities of this college town charged that state police failed to cooperate during the demonstration and that there was a two hour delay between the time they requested

RUMORED FREED—Patrice Lumumba, imprisoned ex-Premier of The Congo, was reported freed in wild rumors which swept Leopoldville Friday. The rumors were set off by reports Congolese troops had mutinied at Thysville camp where Lumumba was being held. The rumors were denied. (AP Photofax)

Lumumba Fails To Gain Liberty At Thysville

By WILLIAM ANDERSON

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo—(UPI) — Strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu flew to the Thysville army camp Friday and personally put down unrest that threatened to lead to open revolt against him and to freedom for jailed leftist ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

After a day of wildfire rumors which said Lumumba had been freed and Mobutu himself jailed, it was disclosed that Lumumba still was behind bars at the Thysville camp. Mobutu remained in control in Leopoldville Province.

But a pro-Lumumba tide was spreading, fostered by Lumumba lieutenants in Stanleyville, Oriental Province, who were fanning out into neighboring Kivu and Equatorial provinces.

Two columns of pro-Lumumba troops were reported penetrating into Equatorial Province, the home territory of Mobutu.

Mobutu and President John Kasavuvu flew to Thysville after receiving word that the once-loyal paratroop garrison guarding Lumumba in a cell at Camp Hardy was on the verge of revolt.

Sources said the unrest was started by discontent over pay and of complaints of wives of troops Mobutu sent into Kivu Province on a abortive mission to smash the pro-Lumumba provincial government there. A number of the Mobutu troops were injured and taken captive.

The 2,000-man Thysville garrison could have led to Lumumba's return to power if it had rebelled.

But Mobutu turned the tide and flew back to Leopoldville Friday night.

Fighting was reported Friday in secessionist Katanga Province between forces of Katanga President Moise Tshombe and a pro-Lumumba force of 600 troops which invaded the Katangese town of Manono this week.

The U.N. command reported the situation at Manono was "very serious."

Uruguay Expels Cuban, Soviet Ambassadors

MONTEVIDEO (UPI) — Uruguay Friday night ordered the Cuban ambassador and a Soviet diplomat to leave the country within 48 hours.

The government delivered notes to the Cuban and Soviet embassies informing them the decision declaring Ambassador Mario Garcia Inchaustegui and Russian First Secretary Mijail K. Samoilov "perona non grata."

Unofficial reports said Samoilov, identified as the chief of Communist propaganda and agitation activities in Uruguay, may have left the country already. Both embassies declined comment.

A member of the ruling National Council, Cesar Batlle Pacheco, said he had voted for Garcia's expulsion because he represented "a Cuban government of thieves and bandits' and sought to subvert democracy in Uruguay.

France Still Finds Many War Bombs

LILLE, France (AP)—In Flanders Fields the poppies still grow, and danger lurks. The French demining service reports in the past year it answered 2,170 appeals for help in digging out bombs and projectiles, many of them duds but others still lethal. They were from fighting in both world wars.

Two U.S. Navy Destroyers Collide Off Eastern Coast

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI)—Two Navy destroyers on maneuvers off the North Carolina coast collided Friday in the pre-dawn darkness. Both ships were damaged but all 460 crewmen aboard the two vessels escaped injury.

The collision was one of three sea mishaps reported Friday in the Atlantic and Caribbean.

A barge loaded with sulphur and carrying eight men broke up and sank off Palm Beach, Fla., and the Coast Guard in Miami reported that a Greek tanker, the Kissavos, was slowly sinking off Caribbean after being rocked by explosions.

Seven of the eight men involved in the barge incident were reported missing in rough seas. The other, a cook, was picked up by the ship which was towing the barge.

All 40 men aboard the tanker Kissavos were taken aboard the Panamanian motor vessel Sentinel. Four were reported suffering from burns.

The destroyers involved in the collision, which occurred at 4:20 a.m. EST, the Navy said, were the USS Johnston and the USS Keppler, both of the 2,420-ton class.

No details of the collision were available but the fact that the Johnston suffered bow damage indicated that she rammed the Keppler.

Senate Unit Also Favors Labor Choice

President-Elect Appointments Pass Congressional Quiz

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee Friday approved youthful Robert F. Kennedy to be attorney general, ignoring a Republican leader's suggestion that the president-elect's brother lacks legal background for the job.

Kennedy, 35, a millionaire, defended his experience in the law, promised an all-out attack on organized crime, and announced he has sold all his stocks to avoid any possibility of a conflict of interest.

At the same time, the Senate Labor Committee okayed former AFL-CIO lawyer Arthur J. Goldberg to be secretary of labor—with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., an old foe of the AFL-CIO, leading the cheers for Goldberg.

Three Others Favored

And three other Senate committees all but approved the nominations of Republican Douglas Dillon as secretary of the Treasury, Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut as secretary of welfare, former Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota as secretary of agriculture, and Rep. Stewart L. Udall, D-Ariz., as secretary of the interior.

These committees decided to wait for the formal nominations of Dillon, Ribicoff, Freeman and Udall after John F. Kennedy is inaugurated as president Jan. 20.

The Senate Finance Committee hearing on Ribicoff's nomination saw one odd note.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., lauded Ribicoff as "one of the ablest appointments made to the Cabinet in a long time" — this, even though Ribicoff is avowedly for two programs Byrd strongly opposes. These are a medical care for the aged plan tied to Social Security and federal aid to education.

Dean Rusk, designated secretary of state, was heard Thursday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which has not yet acted.

Three Choices Remain

Just three Kennedy Cabinet choices are yet to be considered by Senate committees — Robert V. McNamara to be secretary of defense, former Gov. Luther W. Hodges of North Carolina to be secretary of commerce and J. Edward Day to be postmaster general.

The entire Kennedy Cabinet is expected to win Senate confirmation without trouble, possibly a day after the new president takes over.

In general, Friday's hearings were marked by the kind of Republican-Democratic good feeling that usually prevails in the early days of a new administration — but often disappears in the heat of later party battles over legislation, budgets and the like.

Even the needling of Robert Kennedy by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and other GOP members was fairly gentle. And in the end, they joined the other committeemen in approving Kennedy's nomination.

Dirksen stressed he has no doubts about Robert Kennedy's character and that he "put no stock in the nepotism argument" — that is, the argument by some that the president-elect was showing favoritism for a relative in picking his brother for the Cabinet.

But while saying he thought Kennedy would do a top-flight job as administrator of the Justice Department, Dirksen said, "I think the country has always felt the attorney general should be a legal scholar."

Kennedy Unruffled

The Senate GOP chieftain noted that Kennedy never had practiced law privately but had worked in various government legal posts. The Kennedy appointment might set a precedent, Dirksen said, "if we depart now from someone who has had a long practice in the law."

Robert Kennedy, who appeared unruffled by Dirksen's line of questioning, recalled that he first went to work for the government in May 1951 as a Justice Department lawyer, held various staff legal jobs on Senate committees, and helped set up the Hoover Commission on government reorganization.

Missing Pilot Mystery Still Official Secret

Capt. Brace Walks Into FBI 10 Days After Plane Crash

QUANTICO, Va. (UPI)—Marine Corps and FBI investigators Friday kept a secrecy lid on the puzzling case of the missing pilot who reappeared 10 days after his $142,000 training plane crashed near the Choptank River on Maryland's eastern shore.

Capt. Ernest C. Brace, 29-year-old Korean veteran, reappeared at FBI headquarters in Baltimore early Friday morning. He had been feared dead after the wreckage of his T38 propeller plane had been found on Jan. 3.

FBI spokesmen said he offered no explanation for his vanishing act. Brace, married and the father of three sons, was returned to the Marine Corps base here for physical examination and informal questioning.

Quantico officials said a formal board of inquiry would be set up as soon as possible to investigate.

Brace's wife, Patricia, said from her home at nearby Dumphries, Va., that she had talked to her husband by phone. "He said he was all right and would see me as soon as he could," she reported.

Officials declined to speculate on why Brace failed to make his whereabouts known in the 10 days since his plane crashed after he took off from Quantico to "get in some flight time."

FBI spokesmen said Brace gave them this account:

After his plane developed trouble over Easton, Md., he bailed out and landed safely. He shucked his flying suit which he wore over civilian clothes and hitchhiked his way to Baltimore.

During his 10-day absence, Brace stayed in Baltimore hotels, agents reported.

1960 State Farmer Income Sets Record

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—An agricultural statistician said Friday gross cash income from farming in Maryland during 1960 is estimated at between $275 million and $280 million, a record for the state.

Creighton N. Guellow, in charge of the Maryland Crop Reporting Service here, said even though final figures on fall marketing were not available it "seems evident that gross cash receipts from farming in Maryland in 1960 were 5 to 6 per cent above 1959, and larger than any previous year."

He attributed the record gross largely to increased production along with an overall price level slightly higher than 1959. The previous record was $267 million in cash receipts in 1953.

Princess, Queen To See Sexy Film

LONDON (AP)—Britain's movie industry today picked a film dealing with sex and seduction for a royal screening before Princess Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth.

American-made, it stars Bob Hope and Lucille Ball and is titled "The Facts of Life."

The picture shows Hope spending calculating days and chaotic nights trying to seduce his wife's best friend. Such a risque theme is a sharp departure from the usually decorous and dignified movies selected for royal film premieres.

help from state police and the time it atcually arrived.

Miss Hunter and Holmes attended classes for the first time Wednesday and were quietly accepted by most of their fellow students.

There were a few jeers and shouted insults as they made their way to classes, accompanied by faculty members, but for the most part other students accepted the integration with detachment.

It wasn't until after a basketball game that night between the University of Georgia and arch rival Georgia Tech that rioting broke out.

Charge Klan Interference

Several students charged that Ku Klux Klansmen and race agitators who had no connection with the university caused the riot and egged on students.

Judge Bootle's ruling lifting the suspension was solemnly received at the university and officials refused comment pending an official study of the order.

It was expected they would be in touch with Attorney General Eugene Cook and other state officials to map plans for return of the two Negro students.

Bootle's orders left the matter of getting the students back on campus in state hands.

Ike To Spend Weekend On Farewell Talk

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — President Eisenhower, busy winding up eight years as chief executive, flew to his mountain retreat at Camp David Friday for a weekend of work on a farewell address to the nation.

After a day spent accepting government resignations and presiding over a final Cabinet meeting at which he refused to say goodbye, the President took a helicopter to the Maryland hideaway for two days of quiet among the trees and the snow.

He plans to return to Washington Sunday, and then speak to the nation on television and radio Tuesday night.

Exactly one week from the day when he will be succeeded in the White House by John F. Kennedy, Eisenhower presided over the final Cabinet meeting of his administration.

He told the group: "I just don't want to say goodbye. I wish you good luck. We'll be seeing each other from time to time."

The session lasted two and a half hours, and was a final summing-up. The conversation moved around the table with each member commenting on the work of his department, and the President and Vice President Richard M. Nixon speaking several times.

Only two members have been in office since Eisenhower took over in 1953. They are Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Agricultural Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

As a memento of the last eight years, the Cabinet members purchased the President's cabinet room chair from the government and presented it to Eisenhower. It will be placed in his office at Gettysburg College after he leaves the White House next week.

Trial Date Is Set In Fatal Stabbing

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (AP) — The trial of a 17-year-old Annapolis girl charged with the fatal stabbing of George Cooley has been postponed until Jan. 30.

The case, moved to Howard County on a change of venue, originally was scheduled to being next Monday. A conflict of court schedules for defense attorney Daniel Murray was given for the delay.

The defendant, Linda Marie Heavener, is accused of slaying the 20-year-old Annapolis man in the kitchen of her home last summer. She has been free on bail pending trial.

Ike Nominates Marylander To FPC

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday formally nominated Paul A. Sweeney of Chevy Chase, Md., to be a member of the Federal Power Commission for the remainder of a term ending June 22, 1963.

Sweeney, a native of Washington, Pa., now is serving on the commission under a recess appointment.

Curran Asks For Probe Of Md. Penal Institutions

BALTIMORE (AP) — The head of the Maryland Department of Correction, James W. Curran, Friday asked State Police to conduct a thorough investigation of the reported smuggling of contraband into State penal institutions.

Curran's request came after a pint of whisky and five medicinal inhalers were allegedly passed to a prison trusty working on an outside detail.

Alvin J. T. Zumbrun, managing director of the Maryland Crime Investigating Committee, said he initiated passage of the contraband to support his contention that such items are frequently smuggled into Maryland prisons.

While two trusties of the Maryland House of Correction were loading a truck at Baltimore's Market Place, Zumbrun reportedly had a young lady, identified as a member of his staff, engage a trusty in conversation, then pass him a brown paper bag containing the whisky and inhalers.

Zumbrun, accompanied by a reporter and photographer from the Baltimore Evening Sun, watched the action from a second-story window of a nearby building.

Under instructions from Zumbrun, the girl immediately went to a telephone and called Curran, telling him the contraband had been passed.

Curran called the House of Correction and told Warden William Steiner to notify State Police to intercept the vehicle.

When the truck entered the House of Correction grounds, it was halted by police and a search of the vehicle and the trusties was conducted. Police found the whisky beneath the seat in the truck cab and the five inhalers in trash cans in the truck. A search of the prisoners revealed nothing.

The guard who drove the truck denied any knowledge of the contraband. Prison officials began an immediate investigation to determine how long the prisoners had been on the detail, which is carried out daily.

The two prisoners are being "segregated" until the investigation is completed, Curran said.

In September, a Legislative Council committee studying Maryland prisons received from Zumbrun a list of persons he said could furnish information on the sale of contraband along with other illegal prison activities. The committee said it could not corroborate any of Zumbrun's information.

Meanwhile, Zumbrun said Friday's incident, "illustrates that marihuana and heroin could be sent in."

SEC Investigates Endicott-Johnson

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Securities and Exchange Commission was reported Friday to be investigating dealings in stock of the Endicott-Johnson Corp., shoe manufacturing firm which is fighting against being taken over by a New York investment company.

The SEC refused to confirm or deny the report but a check of Wall Street brokerage houses disclosed they had received questionnaires from the government agency asking information on customer purchases and sales of Endicott-Johnson stock.

The stock has been active and strong in recent days. Its rise has been attributed partly to heavy stock purchases by citizens' groups in Endicott, Binghamton and Johnson City, N.Y., and company directors in an effort to head off a reported bid by the Glen Alden Co. a holding company, to take over the upstate firm.

The Underground Railroad, in the northern section of the nation, produced numerous Negro and white anti-slavery partisans dedicated to helping Negroes escape from southern masters or erecting legal and extra-legal blocks to their return to bondage.

Assembly Takes Step Toward Vote For DC Residents

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Maryland Legislature took another step Friday toward ratifying a constitutional amendment which would give District of Columbia residents the right to vote in federal elections.

The House and Senate passed resolutions originating in their respective chambers to ratify the amendment. If either chamber adopts the other's identical resolution, the Maryland ratification process will be completed.

There were no dissenting votes as the House acted on its resolution, but the Senate vote was 26-1 with one abstention.

Sen. Robert P. Dean, D-Queen Annes, said his vote against was based on a belief that a right to vote in local elections might later be granted to District residents. This would be unwise because government workers should remain above local politics, he said.

Sen. Frank E. Shipley, D-Howard, passed when his name was called on ratification.

"Because I still have a lot of faith in the wisdom of our forefathers," he explained.

UNEMPLOYMENT INCREASES

Unemployment jumped more than 400,000 in December — almost three times the normal seasonal increase—to 4.4 million. Exceptionally bad weather was only partly to blame, government officials said.

The publishing business is having an explosive growth because of population increase and more diversified reading tastes on the part of the public, general manager Roger Fawcett of Fawcett Publications said.

Auto production this week will be 112,224 units, up 51.2 per cent from last week's short week mark.

Unemployment Total In U.S. Tops 4½ Million

Highest December Figure Since Great Depression

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Unemployment shot up to 4,540,000 last month, the greatest number for any December since the tail end of the great depression of the 1930's.

The Labor Department said the jobless total rose by 509,000 from November to December, three times the normal increase. The figure was considerably above the danger sign posted by most economists.

It was virtually certain that some 5.5 million would be out of work when President-elect John F. Kennedy takes office next Friday. Unemployment usually rises by about one million in January.

The department also disclosed in its monthly report that 3 million people were collecting unemployment insurance in the last week of December. This was the highest number ever for a post-Christmas week.

Inherits Serious Recession

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., outgoing chairman of the House-Senate Economic Committee told the Senate the figures showed the Kennedy administration is "inheriting a very serious recession."

With nearly all manufacturing industries hit by the slump, the average factory work week fell by 24 minutes to 38.8 hours. However, heavy snowstorms may have contributed to the larger than usual decline.

A rise in hourly earnings to $2.32 offset the dip in work time, so that the weekly earnings of the average factory worker were roughly unchanged at $90.02.

The big December increase in unemployment lifted the jobless rate to 6.8 per cent, compared to 6.3 per cent in November. This means that 68 of every 1,000 men, women and teenagers in the labor force were looking for work.

Econimists consider a rate above 5 per cent a symptom of weakness in the economy.

Highest For Any December

The jobless total was the highest for any December since pre-World War II 1940, when 6.9 million persons were unemployed. Because of a smaller population then the 1940 jobless rate stood at 12.7 per cent.

The number of jobs declined in December in all 21 manufacturing industry groups surveyed by the Labor Department. Manufacturing employment last month totaled 15,846,000 down 238,000 from November and 638,000 from December, 1959.

Seymore Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of labor, said the "real brunt" of the rise in unemployment was borne by factory production workers. Since February the number of jobs in steel alone has dropped by 200,000.

Wolfbein said that with only normal, seasonal changes in unemployment and no further economic slippage, the unemployment totals would be 5.8 million in January, 5.6 million in February, 5.4 million in March and 4.9 million in April.

Bills Would Give Two US Plants To W. Va. Communities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bills designed to bring into use two surplus government plants in West Virginia are being offered in Congress.

The plants are the Naval Ordnance works in South Charleston and the Morgantown Ordnance Plant in Morgantown.

Rep. John M. Slack Jr., D-W.Va., introduced a bill in the House to give the South Charleston plant to the Business and Development Corp. of Kanawha Valley.

An aide to Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., said Staggers plans to offer Monday a bill to give the Morgantown plant to the Morgantown Community Association.

Both the corporation and the association are non-profit organizations.

Similar bills are being offered in the Senate by Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd, West Virginia Democrats.

The properties would be used for industrial development of the two areas and to relieve chronic unemployment.

AUTHOR DIES—Henry Morton Robinson, 62, of Tenafly, N. J., author of "The Cardinal" and other best-selling novels, died Friday in a New York hospital. Death followed burns suffered last month in a bathtub. (AP Photofax)

Noted Writer Dies Of Burns

NEW YORK (UPI)— Henry Morton Robinson, 62, author of the best-selling novel "The Cardinal," died Friday as a result of burns inflicted over his entire body when he fell asleep in a bathtub with the hot water running three weeks ago.

Robinson, of Tenafly, N.J., was admitted to University Hospital in critical condition Dec. 23 and lapsed into a coma a few hours before he died.

The author was born in Boston and received bachelor of arts and a master of arts degrees at Columbia University. He was an associate editor and a senior editor of Reader's Digest magazine from 1935 to 1945.

In addition to "The Cardinal" he wrote "Water of Life," "The Perfect Round," "Public Virtue, Private Good," "The Great Snow" and "Tale of Two Lovers."

Survivors include his widow, the former Vivian Wyndham, and three children by a previous marriage.

Arrest Made In Jewel Theft

NEW YORK (UPI)—FBI agents Friday arrested a 40-year-old convicted prostitute for stealing more than $7,000 in jewelry and cash from a jewelry salesman in a downtown Washington, D.C., hotel room.

New York FBI chief H.G. Foster said the woman, Paula Pilgrim, of (461 Central Park West) New York, took the jewelry and cash from William Sherman of New York in a Washington hotel (Dunbar).

Foster said the suspect, who has also been convicted in "numerous cities" throughout the United States on charges of grand larceny, and narcotics addition, would be arraigned Friday before U.S. Commissioner Earl Bishopp.

Glennan Says Soviet Ahead In Manned Missiles

Aeronautics Chief Believes US Gaining On Russian Lead

CHICAGO (UPI) — T. Keith Glennan, outgoing chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Friday that the Soviet Union was ahead of the United States in work on power to lift a manned missile into space, but this nation was rapidly gaining on the Russian lead.

He speculated that the Russians may already have attempted a manned flight, but did not elaborate.

"We are closing that gap rather rapidly now," he told newsmen at the opening of a scientific exhibit.

Glennan told educators at a luncheon session later that he is "convinced some day we will land a man on the moon and bring him back." But he said such a program will cost between $15 billion and $35 billion and "it's not going to be accomplished in a few years."

Space exploration, he said, will give man a chance to "learn perhaps something of the origin of the universe, perhaps even of life itself."

Glennan noted that Russia launched a missile carrying a dog into orbit in November, 1957, and said "it would be my guess they had been working at least two years" prior to that in developing the space vehicle. "They have had available to them thrust that we have not had," he said.

Any man-in-space beyond the present Mercury program, he said, "will depend on greater environmental knowledge and substantially increased thrust."

Glennan said he had been puzzled by the fact that the Russians had not attempted a man-in-space launching. "Perhaps they have," he added.

Glennan, whose agency is responsible for civilian aeronautics and space research, will leave office Jan. 20.

The exhibit, the first major U.S. display centered on space exploration, was opened at the Museum of Science and Industry.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 15 and a sophomore in a boy's high school. I work 2 hours a week after school and on Saturdays.

My problem is my parents who insist that I pay my own tuition ($250 a year) plus all school expenses, clothing, gifts and contributions. This means I don't have one penny left to save for a hi-fi set I've been wanting for three years. Of course I don't get any allowance because I'm told "you work."

When I see my friends getting from $3 to $8 a week spending money I get pretty mad. I get B's in school and think I do pretty well. When I tell them they are too hard on me and I'd like a little time to myself they say, "We're going to keep you so busy you won't have time to get into trouble."

Both my parents work and they make good money. Our home is paid for and we have a new car every two years. They think nothing of buying $40 worth of liquor at one time.

I am going to list my expenditures and I'd like your advice on where to cut down so I can save $75 a year toward a hi-fi set. I know this will take a lot of your time and I never expect to see this in the paper because it will take up too much space, but I DO need your help.

$250.00	tuition for one year
30.00	3 pairs of shoes for one year
21.00	school books
14.00	4 shirts and two ties
34.00	underclothing
65.00	overcoat, hat and gloves
22.00	jacket
2.80	7 pairs of socks
9.00	milk at school
30.00	Christmas gifts for Mom and Dad
25.00	Christmas gifts for other relatives
10.00	Christmas cards
4.00	postage for cards
50.00	Church donations ($1 every Sunday, sometimes only 75c)
$566.80

I made $600 last year. Not listed above is a $7.00 corsage for Mother's Day and a $10 plant for Easter.

You can see I have $39.80 not accounted for. With this I go to an occasional movie or ball game. I pay bus fare when I can't get a ride, and sometimes I buy dessert at school. (I carry my lunch.) I want a hi-fi more than anything in the world but I don't see how I'll be able to buy it.—BITTER 15

DEAR BITTER: You and all the teen-agers who read this are going to hate me, but I think your folks have done a simply marvelous job of raising a self-reliant, dependable, self-disciplined son. Your letter was so unusual I decided it justified devoting the whole column to it. You are growing up with an abundance of self-respect, personal integrity and the priceless experience of managing yourself — and you are doing it beautifully.

Your budget, however, raised a few questions: Why a $65 overcoat every year? And $34 a year for underwear ... are you wearing mink shorts? Finally, where can you get seven pair of socks for $2.80?

As a reward for being a first-rate teen-ager I'm suggesting to your folks that they buy you a hi-fi set for your next birthday. You have earned it.—ANN LANDERS

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

To Win Popularity, Cultivate Warm Personality

Great or small famous or unlike, each of us has a basic need and desire: to be liked.

That is why having an outgoing nature is sure to put you ahead in the race for whatever it is you may be after. In your everyday manner, if you give others the feeling that you like them, you immediately have an advantage. A simple thing like a heart warming hello can give you a hold on the other person's heart. But if you greet people in a cool, imperious, stiff-arming fashion you make it easy for the other person to turn you and your interests aside.

You may say that your shyness or fear of another's rebuff is what governs your cool manner in meeting others. Examine your feeling a little more closely and determine whether it isn't merely a distrust. If that is the case, is your distrust firmly founded?

In that connection, I'd like to tell you about a conversation I had with the chairman of the board of one of America's large businesses. This company operates in most of the states of this country. A salesman knocks on the door of a prospective customer and places a premium—worth several dollars—in the customer's hand. She can have it and use it immediately; all she need do is buy an agreed amount of her groceries from the company in the future. The company advances the premium to her.

"Don't you worry about the money you have in these 'advanced' premiums," I asked.

"In a company as large as yours that totals up to a tremendous investment. You are giving credit to thousands and thousands indiscriminately — with no guarantee that they will ever complete the purchases necessary to pay for the premiums."

The famous business executive smiled. "Our company is founded on the belief in the honesty of people," he said. 'It has grown great on that belief. Our losses in trusting the people are so small that they can be disregarded all through the many years that we have been in operation."

So, don't you think you can trust others too? Invest a little more of yourself in your contacts. Be friendly. Be warm and outgiving with your nature and personality. The rewards you will reap in return will help you to grow and become as great a person as you may wish to be.

Psychiatry, Once Considered Enemy Of Religion, Now In Harmony With Church

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

The stranger at the gate was considered an enemy at first. But once he got inside the house, he seemed to belong there. In fact, he finally was recognized as a life-long, important member of the family.

That, in short, is the tale of psychiatry's entry into the household of religion.

Despite the cold reception, and psychiatry's own unfriendly attitude in the beginning, the field is widely regarded today not only as being in basic harmony with the church, but as having had its actual origins there.

Noted theologian - philosopher Paul J. Tillich, of Harvard University, has traced this strange relationship, pointing out that a fundamental of both Christianity and psychiatry is "the doctrine of acceptance" of imperfect man.

While this concept stemmed from Christ, he says its significance was neglected in much recent theology until psychiatry helped restore it.

"The good news that he who feels unworthy of being accepted by God can be certain that he is accepted had been buried under doctrinal rigidity and aridity," he says, even though it was at the heart of Jesus' teaching.

But then, he adds, along came the psychoanalytic pattern, with its non-judging "acceptance of the mentally disturbed" to jolt the weight of Christianity back to its basic emphasis.

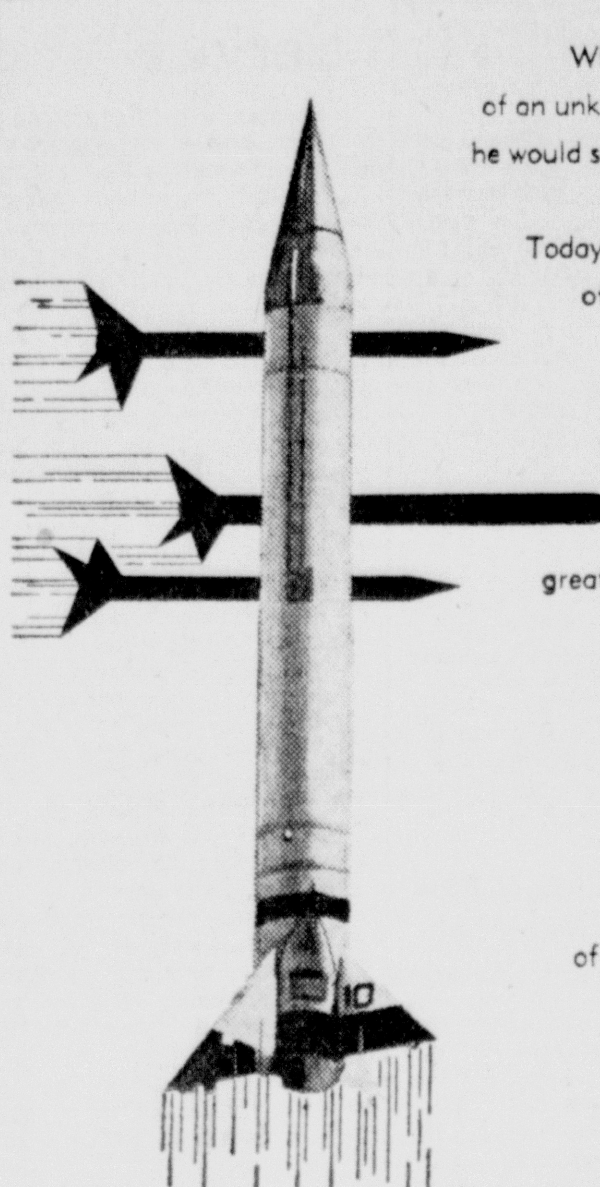
"Present theology can say again that acceptance by God of him who is not able to accept himself is the center of the Christian message," Dr. Tillich says.

Strangely, he notes, this rediscovery by the churches was stimulated by a man who spurned religion, Sigmund Freud, even though Freud carved psychoanalysis out of material intrinsic to the faith he disowned.

Not only theologians, but also many psychiatrists have noted this curious kinship.

Dr. Earl A. Loomis Jr., professor of psychiatry and religion at Union Theological Seminary, says that Freud, despite his jabs at religion, actually came close to the Bible's central teaching in stressing man's "psycho-somatic unity."

Freud saw, Dr. Loomis points out, that "man's whole life is of a piece," that "man lives with his whole being," that "inwardness, as opposed to outwardness, is important," that "rules and regulations are less significant than love and self-discipline."



When Christopher Columbus began his probe of an unknown ocean there were many who predicted he would soon reach the edge of the world . . . and fall off into nothingness.

Today we are probing that nothingness. The edge of the world is everywhere; and man eagerly reaches for whirling worlds that pioneers yet unborn may colonize.

As we explore the vastness of God's creation we realize with greater awe His might and majesty. But greater, we know, is our need for understanding His Will, and His Love for man.

For man can take to his new worlds tomorrow only the Truth and Faith and Life he discovers in this world today.

Therefore, while a few gifted scientists are building highways from the edge of the earth, the Church is offering everyone opportunity to probe the spiritual depths which shall determine our destiny.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—No Friday the 13th jinxes for Bobby Darin. Friday the singing bridegroom announced the formation of his independent movie company, Sandar Productions. Before there are any cracks about his planning to co-star with Sandra Dee — I can tell you, he isn't!

Bobby and his manager-partner Steve Blauner have bought "The Sound of Hell," an original by Richard Carr, to star young Darin. The actors already approached for the other top spots are Janet Leigh, Burl Ives and Sammy Davis, Jr. No "Mrs." Bobby.

Ever since young Darin fell in love with Sandra while making "Come September" in Rome, he has been movie-minded. He'll activate his picture in the late spring, after his singing tour.

Now that the battlin' Borgnines, Ernie and Katy Jurado, have forgiven and forgotten the battle wounds (How many times does this make?) I hear Ernie isn't nearly as eager to escape to Italy.

Ernie has been reading the script of "Cape Fear", Gregory Peck's next picture with Sy Bartlett producing at U-I, and he is interested in the role of the heavy. Well, Ernie used to specialize in heavies before "Marty."

The Peck movie is about ready to roll and if Ernie can get a postponement of the Italian picture he'd like to do this with Greg.

It wouldn't be fair to mention her name but one of the most beautiful and attractive women visitors to our town in years told me the only actor she wanted to meet was Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. The enthusiasm over the good-looking actor isn't confined to the opposite sex. The Mirisch Bros., for whom Zimbalist is co-starring with Lana Turner in "By Love Possessed" are so sold on him they have opened negotiations with Warner Bros. for another loanout. Could it be "Two For the Seesaw" with Shirley MacLaine?.

Mel Ferrer is also after Efrem for his "Nine Coaches Waiting" at Columbia in the spring. Of course, Warners have first dibs on Zimbalist for seven years.

Phyllis McGuire, of the singing McGuires, sounded like a happy girl when she called to say "hello" and to tell me that she and Dan Rowan had made up the argument which broke up their romance. She certainly spoke like a girl in love when she told me, "Dan and I talk two or three times a day over the 'phone. He and Dick Martin are at Harrah's Club at Lake Tahoe, you know."

You can just about make book that Phyllis and Dan will marry when his divorce from Phyllis Rowan (Yes, the same name) is final. Dan's ex-wife told me there will be no hitches on her part because she knows Dan and the pretty singer are very much in love.

The McGuires are all crazy about California and want to live here.

It's a tribute to Clark Gable's fine talents as an actor that the special showing of "The Misfits" in a Paramount projection room was not a sad affair. John Huston was the host and among the guests were Carl Sandburg and about 30 of Clark's old friends.

Kay Gable did not come to the screening—that's a little too much to expect. But she talked with John right after the picture and was delighted to hear that everyone thought this was Clark's finest performance in years.

When Ava Gardner was briefly in New York she didn't say "yes" or "no" to starring in "Sweet Bird of Youth" in Hollywood. She wants the picture but still hates Hollywood and working here.

But Ava did finalize engaging George Stacey, who recently re-decorated Princess Grace's apartment in the Palace of Monaco to do her new apartment in Madrid. Ava has taken over the top floor of a four-story apartment house in the heart of Madrid and she plans to make it the most elaborate home she's ever occupied.

Educators Ask Coordinated W. Va. Program

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Education Association (WVEA) and the State Education Department Friday joined in calling for a coordinated program of economic and school improvements.

Their four-step plan, endorsed also by the State School Boards Association, is aimed at eventually pumping $60 million a year in new money into schools. Of this, $38 million would come from state funds.

WVEA Executive Secretary Phares E. Reeder said this amount would bring the level of West Virginia public education up to the national average.

During the first three years of the plan, a portion of the $38 million of new state money would go into economic development as Gov.-elect W. W. Barron and the legislature see fit.

By the fourth year, all the money would go for schools—plus "another $25 million (that) can be raised at the local level for support of our schools."

In the first year, as proposed by the groups, $23 million of the $38 million would go into the economic phase of the two-fold program, with $15 for schools. The second year, the amounts would be approximately reversed and the third year all but $6.2 million would be for schools.

'Back To Work,' Rev. Crowson Tells Solons

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Legislature was told Friday to "forget liquor-by-the-drink, quarrelling and bickering, and go to work on West Virginia's truly basic needs."

This advice came from the Rev. L. E. Crowson, Logan, chairman of the board of Christian Social Concerns of the West Virginia Methodist Conference.

Crowson, who also is legislative chairman of the West Virginia Temperance League, said that during a recent meeting of the board in Ripley, it was recommended that the legislature create an Alcohol Study Commission to rehabilitate alcoholics.

Crowson said the legislature should not "waste its time" on the controversial liquor-by-the-drink issue. A proposal to legalize bars is almost certain to come up at this session.

Crowson said the board also recommended that the legislature take "whatever steps are necessary to build a modern road system" and create a state voluntary arbitration board to promote "a sympathetic and understanding relationship between management and labor."

Area Man, 53, Found Hanged

A 53-year-old Lake Gordon area man was found hanging in his bedroom yesterday afternoon, according to authorities, who said the man had been dead about 36 hours.

Neighbors found the body of Charles Reed Miller, and Pennsylvania State Police were notified by Ray Nixon, acting superintendent of the Lake Gordon filtration plant.

Deputy Coroner Ralph Mickle, Schellsburg, Pa., said the man committed suicide, and police said there was no foul play. Mr. Miller was unemployed.

He lived alone in a two-room dwelling. His body was taken to the Barefoot Funeral Home in Bedford, according to police, who said the man was found about 3:45 p. m. yesterday.

Police said he had not been seen around the house for a day or so, and the neighbors decided to investigate.

W.Va. Delegates Would Tighten Teen Licensing

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Seven bills were introduced in the West Virginia Legislature Friday, including one designed to tighten licensing of teen-age drivers.

Introduced by Dels. J. E. Watson, D-Marion, and Harry L. Buch, R-Ohio, the licensing measure would require a 16 or 17 year-old to get parental consent before obtaining license. The present minimum age is 16, but parental consent is not required.

Licenses issued to 16 or 17 year olds would be known as "junior drivers licenses," and regular operators or chauffers permits would be granted only when a person becomes 18.

Junior licenses could be revoked on conviction of certain traffic offenses or if parental consent were withdrawn.

An interim committee-sponsored bill modernizing the state's adoption laws was introduced in their respective chambers by House Speaker Julius Singleton and Senate President Howard Carson.

The bill would give judges more authority in adoption cases.

Meanwhile, a resolution presented to the Senate would set up a special interim committee to study regulatory statues, rules and regulations concerning West Virginia's public utilities.

Introduced by Sens. William Tompos, D-Hancock and Paul Moore, D-Jackson, the resolution would authorize expenditure of $50,000 for a two-year study to be presented to the 1963 Legislature.

The two sponsors said the study would recommend elimination of certain regulations that have made public utility rates "unfair, unjust and detrimental to the West Virginia consumer."

Two bills relating to education also were sponsored by Singleton. One would eliminate the filling of unexpired county board of education terms at general elections by holding such elections at primary election time when board members are chosen by the voters normally.

The other would wipe out of state law present qualification for county school superintendents and provide that the state board of education would set up new ones.

One Cent Boost In Sales Tax Is Approved

W. Va. Moves To Curb Unemployment

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Legislature rammed through an emergency one-cent increase in the state sales tax Friday, to take effect Sunday. The proceeds will provide public works jobs for some 5,000 of West Virginia's unemployed.

The temporary measure — hiking the tax rate from 2 to 3 per cent on sales over $1 — was approved overwhelmingly and sent to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood for his signature. He announced earlier that he would sign it.

The tax hike, first change in the hike since the levy was imposed by the 1933 Legislature, came only 48 hours after the 55th Legislature convened Wednesday and represented a modern record for speedy action on a major, controversial tax bill.

Along with a companion bill to be passed next week, it will raise an estimated $6 million in new revenue by next Aug. 31 for the public works program.

Gov.-elect W. W. Barron, who surprised legislative observers by proposing the tax increase on the eve of the session, called the lawmaker's quick action "wonderful."

For 'Crash' Program

The State Tax Department immediately began preparation of a schedule of payments it will require from retailers. It was to be made public Saturday after Underwood signs the bill in one of his final official acts.

"Now we can start to help alleviate the problems of some of our people," he said.

Friday's votes represented better than half-a-loaf for Barron who proposed the "crash program" for public works projects. The measure adopted extends the increased sales tax through June 30.

The companion measure — carrying it through the months of July and August — was derailed temporarily while the Senate wrangled over amendments. One of the proposed amendments was designed to make 3 per cent sales tax permanent, with exemtion for grocery purchases.

The amendment was beaten on a 23-8 ballot with Sen. Ward Wylie, D-Wyoming, joining the seven Republican members in opposition.

An Automatic Defense System

Operation 73, an innocent sounding title, is the official name of the United States Navy's research section. It might also be called "retaliation anonymous" for its most energetic pursuit — development of a completely automatic defensive mechanism.

Typhon-Eagle is a protective system largely unpublicized as yet, but one which may fulfill the long held military ambition to produce an all-purpose weapons system.

As planned by U. S. Navy researchers, Typhon-Eagle is a complicated electronic operation involving computers, radar, aircraft, ships and missiles in a coordinated, split-second analysis of foreign images on radar screens, the automatic selection of the proper defensive weapon based on computer knowledge of the advancing object and the firing of a missile or a mass array of them at the target. All this is to be accomplished without a human eye ever seeing the target or a human hand aiding in the electronic cycle.

Computers located on ships scattered over the oceans will collect, analyze and memorize the identifying features and lethal characteristics of every known enemy aircraft, missile and ship. Radar screens strategically located to survey as much as possible of the earth's surface will continually filter reports of enemy activities through the computers with no reaction unless this surveillance reveals an aggressive action under way.

It may take the form of a sudden armada of enemy aircraft headed toward American territory or it may be a single missile. In either case, the computers will instantly analyze the situation, determine the critical point in the object's travel and select the appropriate weapon or weapons to counterattack.

At the predetermined point in the object's path, electronic firing stations, handed the reins of authority by the computers, will fire and guide a defensive missile until it has destroyed the invader. The entire chain of action may require no more than a few seconds.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Jumping Jupiter!

Now along comes a very sure person, Robert Welch, of The John Birch Society of Massachusetts, who wishes to impeach Earl Warren, Chief Justice of the United States. One may disagree with, dislike, oppose Earl Warren, but impeachment is another matter. It involves a bill of particulars, specific, clear-cut, subject to evidence and analysis. Welch does not provide that. He says:

". . . we believe that the impeachment of Warren would dramatize and crystallize the whole basic question of whether the United States remains an independent republic, or gradually becomes transformed into a province of the world-wide Soviet system."

But this is not the issue at all. This is a private opinion, not a fact. What is necessary is to indict Earl Warren for high crimes and misdemeanors that will stand up in a trial. Thus far, only one President of the United States has been impeached, and unsuccessfully, and no Chief Justice of the United States has been impeached. That does not mean that none ever should be. It does, however, mean that this is not a simple process for indicating opposition. Under our system, it is extremely difficult. Robert Welch thinks otherwise:

> "We further believe that it is entirely possible to bring about that impeachment in the present House of Representatives, through insistent enough demand by the American people, if even one-half of the known present conservative leaders will give their energetic support to this undertaking . . ."

Apparently, Welch has no conception of the procedure involved in an impeachment. The Constitution makes provision for it in Article 1, Section 2, Clause 5, which reads: "The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers; and shall have the sole power of impeachment." And in Article 1, Section 3, Clause 6, which reads: "The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two thirds of the members present."

Certainly in the present composition of our Congress, there is no possibility that the time will be allotted by the leadership of either party for such an impeachment. For what would have to be proved? The indictment could not show that the Chief Justice's views were unpleasant, for there are eight other Justices who could have voted him down. It would have to be shown that he was corrupt, that he accepted bribes, that he was subversive, that his conduct was opprobrious to the United States and the Court.

No matter what can be said of Earl Warren, it cannot be said that he has been corrupt, which means accepting bribes, or that he has been subversive, which means, in this context, that he is engaged in transactions to damage the United States in the interest of a foreign foe. No bill of particulars can be brought forth to prove such charges. Therefore to talk of impeachment is nonsense.

I call attention to this not because it is of any significance of itself but because conservatives need to use common sense in their agitations. There are things to be said and to be done but these need to be focussed on ideas, not on impractical proposals to impeach the Chief Justice because there is disagreement about his views or to discover an invisible government which has controlled all the administrations from Herbert Hoover to John Kennedy. It is nonsense. Why not impeach the entire Court and get over and done with it?

The conservatives of this country are numerous but not always coherent. Unless they find intelligent leadership that relates what they do and say to the realities of American life, they will make no greater progress in the new Democratic Administration than was made in the old Eisenhower Administration. American conservatives need a program and less talk.

One of the first points of a conservative program must be that the United States cannot tolerate the cost of unemployment or racial or creedal battles while this country is engaged in a life-struggle against the Soviet Universal State. And the one absolute essential is that the American dollar should again become hard money, well secured and safe. The conservatives need to decide whether they prefer to fight against Communism or against each other.

Filibuster Battle Is Pressure-Group Politics

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — All the talk about changing the rules to stop filibusters in the Senate, or to prevent committees from bottling up legislation in the House, might appear on the surface to be a part of a very weighty problem with deep-seated cleavages that reflect high purposes in the public interest. But, actually, back of the whole thing is a good deal of pressure-group politics and the desire of members of the Senate, for example, to make it appear back home, especially in the more populous states in the North, that they are battling hard for "civil rights."

The Senate has just voted—as it has done again and again in the past — to send the proposals for changing the rules on filibustering back to a committee for study. This means that, when it comes up at the end of the present session, the new idea is to require only a 60 per cent instead of 66⅔ per cent vote to cut off debate. Maybe there will be a compromise along these lines, but it is doubtful.

The reason for all the furor about changes in the filibustering rules is that there is an artificial pressure to get more "civil rights" legislation. The theory is that only the Southerners are blocking it. But there are Western Senators, many of them Republicans, who recognize the danger in enacting legislation that takes away from the states more and more of their rights.

The Republican Party has only 35 members in the Senate, and they were divided 18 to 15 in the vote just taken to send the new proposals back to a committee for study — just as were the Democrats, who voted 32 to 31 on the same issue. So it isn't a partisan matter.

The hullaballoo about filibustering is, on its face, rather hypocritical. It is made to appear, for example, that only the conservatives are interested in maintaining the rules that allow filibusters. Actually, many of the so-called "liberals" have used the filibustering privilege far more than their opponents. They would probably be very much distressed if unlimited debate were really abandoned and gag rule were imposed. The very essence of true liberalism is that free speech must be allowed to run its course.

In the House of Representatives, the situation is somewhat different. The powerful Rules Committee, for example, can for all practical purposes keep legislation from getting to the floor of the House, but a substantial majority can always discharge the committee from consideration of the bill and force it on to the floor for action. This has been done from time to time.

But in the House, as in the Senate, there is an effort being made to show the pressure groups that the champions of "civil rights" and big "welfare" spending are active and aggressive in their behalf.

The spectacular attack on Representative William Colmer of Mississippi, Democrat, who has been threatened with a "purge"—the loss of his committee post—because he supported independent Presidential electors, has not been approved by most of the members of the House. Indeed, Representative Adam Clayton Powell, who is to be chairman of the House Committee on Labor, bolted the Democratic ticket in 1956 and voted for President Eisenhower's re-election. Again and again, members have said they should not be punished on the floor of the House of Representatives for trying to reflect the views of their constituents.

But when it comes to the size of the committees, this is a matter over which the House has jurisdiction, and it is, in a sense, impersonal. The House can enlarge a committee and "pack" it with members favorable to the desires of the majority. That's what is now being proposed in the House of Representatives in order to override the chairman of the Rules Committee, Howard W. Smith, of Virginia. Mr. Smith is one of the ablest members of Congress, and the only objection that his opponents have to him is that he does not go along with radical proposals. It is ironical to find "liberals," who so often pride themselves on their interest in free speech, trying to punish a member who holds views opposite to theirs.

By "packing" the committees of the House with a majority who favor the point of view desired by a particular bloc, the objective in cutting the power of the committee chairman is, to a certain extent, achieved. But it is still unexplained why those who believe they have a majority in the House of Representatives appear to disregard their right to petition for a vote and override the rulings of the chairman of a committee.

The device of "packing the court" is not a new one in Washington, and it looks as if the pressure groups may be able this time to persuade a House majority to "pack" the House Rules Committee so as to permit certain legislation to move more quickly through that body. But, in the long run, the precedent will rise to plague the so-called "liberals," because the majority may not always be as friendly to some of the causes now being espoused, and what is done one year becomes an example for a majority to follow in another year. "Packing" committees is not a creditable performance, but evidently in this at least the pressure groups are to have their way.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

UNPREDICTABLE — The 87th Congress, which convened Jan. 3, appears in many ways to be the most unpredictable in modern times. This stems in part from Republican gains during the election of a Democratic President and the lack of a clearly defined program by the incoming administration.

The program of Sen. John F. Kennedy, as he outlined it during the political campaign, was precise and specific in many details. Kennedy seemed to have a five-point program for every question or issue that was raised.

However, his actions since winning the Presidency, particularly some of his White House and Cabinet appointments, have cast a long shadow of doubt over the vigor with which he will pursue some of his campaign objectives.

Large questions arise as to how soon and how strongly he will press for a broad liberalization in the field of civil rights, how determined he is to provide federal aid for teachers' salaries as well as for school construction, and of course his ability to keep the federal budget in balance.

Kennedy's program will become clear in the coming weeks, but lacking clear definition now, returning members of Congress are expressing their own ideas and convictions about the course of legislation.

Influential members of Congress, for instance, show a marked aversion to fight for a Senate rules change to curb filibusters. Having voiced their position on this matter, it is difficult for them to change should Kennedy press for action.

And, there is always the fact that the Republican - southern Democratic coalition has been strengthened — some are calling the group the Barry Goldwater party.

Asthmatics Benefit From Modern Remedies

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Twenty-five years ago a person with severe asthma was given a shot of adrenalin. Within minutes, wheezing and coughing disappeared. In many instances, the exhausted victim fell asleep. On awakening he was able to breathe in comfort. But all too often relief was temporary and the physician had to return again and again for additional injections.

Adrenalin still is given to control wheezing but we now have newer products that are easier to use. Inhaling epinephrine or Isuprel in aerosol mixtures often suppresses an attack quickly and for a long time. Some asthmatics obtain sufficient relief when the bout occurs in the early morning hours to permit falling asleep within a few minutes.

These products are administered in hand powered, rubber bulb nebulizers or power inhalers. Three or four deep inhalations, repeated 15 to 20 minutes later, are enough. Too much and too often will dry the membranes.

Lesser bouts may be controled with tablets containing ephedrine sulfate or drugs such as aminophylline, that dilate the bronchi. Combinations of an antihistaminic and a tranquilizer are available.

The chronic asthmatic has profited most from modern remedies. Many wheeze continuously and tend to develop severe attacks at night. The drugs previously mentioned are helpful for the latter but something more is needed to improve their breathing between the severe bouts. It is here the adrenal steroids such as cortisone, predisone, triamcinolone, or dexamethasone are valuable. Such products offer substantial relief during the day and prevent wheezing at night.

These hormones are potent and should not be used indiscriminately. The dose is tapered off after four or five days of relief and stopped entirely when wheezing fails to recur. But continuous medication is required by some to remain comfortable.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on bronchial asthma if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

LIVER AND ALCOHOL

H. S. writes: Is elimination of liquor sufficient to stop the progress of cirrhosis of the liver in an alcoholic?

REPLY

Yes, provided the individual eats a balanced diet. I assume the liver has a few healthy liver cells left.

MOLD ALLERGY

R. E. H. writes: Can a person be desensitized to molds?

REPLY

Yes, provided the proper mold extracts are used.

NONCOMPETITIVE

Mrs. S. C. writes: Do you approve of organized, competitive football and basketball in elementary schools?

REPLY

No. Football and basketball are not harmful to grade school children, provided there is no rigid schedule of games and the spot is not overemphasized.

GAP IN DIAPHRAGM

D. J. writes: Recently I have had to sleep in a sitting position because of a hiatus hernia. I'm 40 and hate to think of following this routine the rest of my life. Can anything be done about it?

REPLY

Consider surgery if the condition is this troublesome. In hiatus hernia, part of the stomach protrudes upward through an opening in the diaphragm. It slides down when sitting, and up when lying flat, coughing, or straining. The hole can be repaired but it means an operation. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on hiatus hernia.

To the limit of space questions pertinent to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

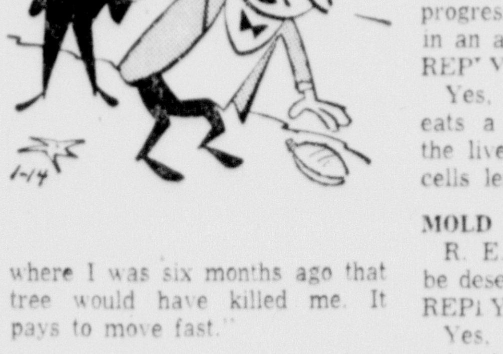
Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Two Scotchmen, sauntering along a beach at low tide, spotted an oyster simultaneously. Both grabbed for it and claimed it, and the dispute became so hot they decided to leave the decision to a third man on the beach.

He suggested that each claimant tell his story, and while they were orating, he opened the shell, extracted the oyster, with a grunt of satisfaction, then handed each of them a shell.

"The Court," he declared, "awards you each a shell. The oyster will cover the costs."



It took a snail exactly four years to cross a road. Just as it reached the bank a tree crashed to the ground, missing it by a scant six inches. "You see," observed the snail, "if I had been where I was six months ago that tree would have killed me. It pays to move fast."

More About Ike's Farm Operations And His Connections With Oilmen

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It's very solicitous of kindly Congressmen Carl Vinson of Milledgeville, Ga., and John McCormack of Boston, both Democrats, to propose restoring President Eisenhower's pre-White House rank of five-star general. Before they get too worried over whether Ike can live in retirement on the $25,000 pension and the $50,000 tax-free expenses that he automatically gets anyway, they ought to take a good look at the estimates of Ike's wealth.

Part of them are official, because Ike made part of his income public during the 1952 campaign. It then became known that he was paid $635,000 by Doubleday for his postwar book, and only paid a capital gains tax—the last author, incidentally, so permitted.

Since then a careful survey by Fletcher Knebel of the Republican Des Moines Register put Ike's net worth in 1957 at $1,000,000. Col. John Eisenhower, it was estimated, would inherit $700,000 after taxes.

This is in happy contrast to the day when the President's mother said in 1946 that her son, a poor boy, had applied to West Point without quite knowing what West Point was all about because someone had told him it was a good place to get an education for nothing.

Since the 1957 estimate, however, the President's wealth has further increased by gifts and improvements to his Gettysburg farm; and in these days when Democratic oil leaders in Congress are jockeying for position and reshuffling Senate committees in order to protect the oil depletion allowance it's only fair to examine the background of the men who have contributed to the President's very complicated and unusual farming operation.

One of them, Billy Byars of Tyler, Texas, happens to be a big oilman. The other, George Allen, is a director of about 20 corporations, is also engaged in profitable oil operations with Maj. Louey Kung, nephew of Chiang Kai-shek.

Byars and Allen together pay the expenses and losses for the "Eisenhower farms," and maintain a joint bank account for this purpose in the Gettysburg National Bank. Since 1951 the chief outlays for the "Eisenhower farms" have been:

Construction of show barn $30,000; three smaller barns about $22,000, remodeling of schoolhouse for home for John Eisenhower $10,000, remodeling of Ike's main house $110,000; landscaping of ten acres around Eisenhower home $6,000; salary of Gen. Arthur S. Nevins, the farm manager (at $10,000 a year) $90,000; assistant manager's salary and expenses for six years $60,000; average for hired hands about $180,000. Total: around $508,000, of which a substantial portion has been traced by the York (Pa.) Gazette to oilmen Byars and Allen.

Under the laws of the United States, valuable gifts cannot be received by public officials, and when Harry Truman accepted one $1,200 deep freeze, he was castigated by most of the American press.

Therefore, at a time when Kennedy's new Secretary of Defense is being scrutinized by Senate Democrats for any possible conflict of interest, it's amazing that press associations and most major newspapers have taken such a lackadaisical attitude toward Eisenhower's unique farming operation. The New York Times, for instance, called General Nevins "a neighbor friend who supervises the work on the President's 500-acre farm." It completely glossed over the fact that Nevins' salary is paid by two silent partners, one of them a big Texas oilman.

Silent Partner Won't Talk

My attempts to reach silent partner Billy Byars in Tyler brought the response that he was out, or, when he appeared to be in, he would not come to the phone.

However, other Texas oilmen describe Byars as a highly successful independent operator, who has been close to the famed Clint Murchison and the late Sid Richardson whose attorney and estate manager, John Connally, is to be Kennedy's Secretary of the Navy.

Byars is reported to have an interest in the Murcain racing stables, owned by Mrs. Virginia Murchison and Mrs. Effie Cain, the latter being the wife of Wofford Cain, head of Southern Union Gas. It was they who gave an Irish stallion, Leslie Boy, sire of 1958 Preakness winner Royal Orbit, to Col. Gordon Moore, Mrs. Eisenhower's brother-in-law.

It was Richardson and Murchison who went to Paris in 1952 to back General Eisenhower for President. It has been repeatedly reported and never denied that Eisenhower made a commitment to Texas oilmen before his nomination that he would approve the ceding of the rich tidelands oil areas to Texas and other contiguous states. The Supreme Court had previously ruled this unconstitutional, and Truman successfully battled all Congressional attempts to overrule the court.

In order to make it clear that, if elected, he would reverse Truman, Eisenhower was induced to send the following telegram, just before the July 1952 Republican convention, to Houston oilman Jack Porter, GOP national committeeman from Texas: "I seen no conflict in this responsibility which interferes with the vesting of title of tidelands in the states."

Thereafter, as President, Ike did sign the Tidelands Oil Bill which reversed the Supreme Court and gave tidelands oil to Texas, Louisiana and California.

Word Of Advice

By John Crosby

Newton N. Minow, who comes from my own home town of Milwaukee, Wis., has been named chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and I think I may be forgiven if I give a fellow Milwaukee boy a word of advice. Actually, I have been handing this same word of advice to all the F.C.C. chairman, no matter where they hailed from. None has taken it. I have hopes that the ties of our mutual birth place might persuade Minow to take this word a little more seriously.

The word to ponder, Minow, is communications. (There's lots of Federals and lots of commissions but you got that word communications all to yourself.) The Federal Communications Act of 1934 clearly states that broadcast stations should be run only in the public interest, convenience, and necessity. Broadcasting might be said to have run its affairs in the public interest, only if you take that word in its narrowest sense, and almost never in the public's convenience or necessity.

Frederick W. Ford, your predecessor, proudly proclaimed that the Communications act meant that broadcasting must be maintained as a medium of freedom of speech and expression for the people of the nation as a whole. And having said that, he let the whole affair lie there. There is not now and never has been any freedom of speech and expression for the people as a whole. This bit was construed to mean ayone on Madison Avenue with the money to pay the price could put on the air anything that didn't offend the ministers. This may be the ultimate in salesmanship — though even that is debatable—but it has nothing to do with free speech or expression.

The phrase "freedom of speech," Minow, is used in broadcasting differently than anywhere else on the globe including Russia. It means freedom only to advertise. The only time any F.C.C. ever tried to insist that there be some free speech on the air (instead of an endless supply of soap operas), it was roundly denounced for interfering with free speech.

No F.C.C. has ever paid much attention to programs because it was considered that programs were none of its business. Yet how the devil can a broadcast service be regulated when the programs remain outside its jurisdiction? That's like asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate the railroads — with the proviso that passenger and freight service is outside its jurisdiction. What the hell's left to regulate?

Always the word censorship has been tossed about. But what, in my opinion, the F.C.C. ought to be doing is the very opposite of censorship; it would be demanding that the networks and the stations really use their air lanes for free expression and for all the people—rather than simply using them to make a buck. No one is asking the F.C.C. to step forward and say that "Rawhide" isn't good enough and get rid of it. But the F.C.C. not only is authorized but is duty bound to step forward when there are thirty-five "Rawhides" (or close facsimile) on the air while, at the same time, there is no good music, no education, no experiment, no serious drama on the air at all.

The first step in this direction is the licensing of the networks who provide most of the widely listened-to programs. The second step would be to demand that networks and stations alike comply explicitly to the promises they made in getting their licenses. These people have been granted enormously profitable frequencies at no cost to themselves. They have clear obligations to the public and there is not one of them who is discharging his obligations at all honorably.

But to police the networks — which is not such a problem as it sounds — the commission needs one member (whether a commissioner or a hired hand) who knows something about programs and about the broadcast business. All the stations keep program logs with delicious little items like "Course in Sanskrit" one hour a week, twenty-six weeks (educational public service program). A knowledgeable guy knows that the program is broadcast at 5:30 a. m. Sunday morning and consists of records they got free from the Ford Foundation. But the commissioners, who are all lawyers and rate experts, are either fooled by these sleazy tricks or close their eyes to them.

Programs are the heart of the matter, Minow. The commission will not be discharging its duties if the signal comes in loud and clear on the assigned channel—if the signal in question is a singing commercial selling cemetery lots in Queens.

Uncle Sam, your bank, and you

How this 20-year-old partnership helps keep America strong

Since May 1941, America's banks have sold nearly 2 billion separate U.S. Savings Bonds at no cost to the Government or the purchasers. To give you some idea of the time involved: if you merely handed out that many Bonds at the rate of 1 a second for 10 hours a day, it would take you 152 years to reach the bottom of the pile.

Why have the nation's banks and bankers carried on this vast project of information, service, and issuance of U.S. Savings Bonds?

A winning team. For one reason, the Bond Program and the Banking business have grown together. Hand in hand, they've helped make Americans the saving-est people in the world.

Folks who save Bonds get the thrift habit. They soon learn other forms of saving and investment. They become better all-around bank customers. And Bond owners are better credit risks.

Another thing bankers are interested in: Bond dollars help keep America strong. A good reason for the banking business or any business to get behind the Bond program.

What you buy at the Bond Window. When your banker advises you to buy U.S. Savings Bonds, he's recommending an investment guaranteed to grow: $18.75 becomes $25 in 7 years, 9 months, and grows to $36.25 in another 10 years. They can be cashed in anytime with interest. And if they're lost or destroyed, the Treasury Department replaces them free.

Why not take this advice offered by the nation's bankers. Buy and hold U.S. Savings Bonds—for the things you want, and the Peace to enjoy them.

"America's Banks are proud to be part of the Bond Program,"

says Carl A. Bimson, President, Valley National Bank, Phoenix, Arizona, and President, American Bankers Assn.

"We believe it is good for America, an economic stabilizer; it is good for the individual and the community; and it is good for banking. The promotion of Savings Bonds has helped to make savers out of non-savers, to revitalize the American tradition of thrift, and to build savings in all forms to record levels.

"The American Bankers Association congratulates the Nation and the public on the 20-year success story of the U.S. Savings Bonds Program, and pledges its vigorous continued support."

Valley	0	3	.000

Allegany High School's defending champions registered their third straight victory of the season in the W.M.I. League by trimming the Valley Knights last night on the latter's court by the score of 70-58.

Beall High School's Mountaineers knocked Fort Hill out of a tie for first place by whipping the Sentinels at Frostburg to the tune of 57-43 and Bruce High's Bulldogs tied Fort Hill for the runner-up spot by knocking off Mt. Savage at Westernport, 61-37.

Coach Chet Payne's Campers, trailing at 1-0 and 3-2 in the first period, grabbed a 15-8 lead as the quarter ended, held a 33-25 advantage at the halfway mark and retained that eight-point lead as the third stanza ended, 47-39.

Gaffney Scores 16

Bob Gaffney and Gary Mulligan sparked the Allegany attack with 16 and 13 points and Jerry Pentoney aided the winning cause by garnering 11 tallies. Tommy James and Danny Young with 13 markers each, Marvin Miller with 11 and Wayne Johnson with 10 were the chief point-getters for the Black Knights.

Allegany held a 28-24 edge in field goals and hooped 14 of 28 free throws against the losers' 10 out of 14.

Clarence Kimble of Valley exited on fouls in the third quarter and Jerry Winner went out in the final period.

The win enabled Allegany to even up the series on the Valley floor at 4-4. The Campers have won 6 of 7 games from the Black Knights at Campobello.

Beall Posts First Win

Beall scored its first win of the season at the expense of the Sentinels in a game that got rough at times and which saw Glen Shipway, Fort Hill center, banished in the third quarter after losing his temper.

Fort Hill took a 9-4 lead at the quarter and held a 22-17 edge at intermission, but the Mountaineers forged ahead at 25-24 on a fielder by Jim Evans in the third period and was never headed. When the third period ended Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's quint held a 37-32 lead.

Marshal Hamilton, Beall center, was the game's top scorer with 27 points on 11 field goals and 5-13 fouls. Jim Evans contributed 18 tallies by hitting on nine shots from the field. Allan Eisel fouled out in the final period.

Bill Colbert with 12 points and George Twigg and Ronnie Manges with 10 tallies each were Fort Hill's leading scorers.

Fort Hill's junior varsity quint downed Beall in the prelim, 44-30.

Bruce Takes "B" Lead

Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce Bulldogs took over the lead in the Allegany County Class B race by trimming Mt. Savage. Bruce is now 1-0, Mt. Savage 1-1 and Valley 0-1.

Bill Wiltison sparked the Bruce offensive with a 22-point performance. He dumped in eight shots from the field and meshed eight of nine free throws. Ronnie Emerick led Mt. Savage with 10 points, all of them coming in the final period.

Mt. Savage failed to score a field goal in the third period and was outpointed 15 to 2 in that stanza. John Lowery of the Indians fouled out in the final quarter.

Bruce High's Jayvees topped Mt. Savage in the preliminary game, 54-33.

Carmen Basilio Draws Suspension

NEW YORK (UPI) — Carmen Basilio, who made good in his comeback attempt against aggressive Gaspar Ortega last week, Friday paid the price for the huge weight advantage he enjoyed over the Mexican when the New York State Athletic Commission suspended him for 60 days.

The 33-year-old fighter from Chittenango, N. Y., weighed in for the fight at 159½ pounds, 4½ pounds heavier than the weight limit he had agreed to in his contract. The suspension was effective from the date of the Ortega fight, Jan. 7.

ROME (UPI) — Former Italian lifeguard Giulio Rinaldi outpointed Sonny Ray of Chicago in a 10-round non-title light heavyweight bout Friday night before a capacity crowd of over 15,000 at the Olympic Sports Stadium.

The Italian clearly won the decision over the American Negro fighter after flooring him for a five-count in the second minute of the first round.

Canadians Set Pace At San Diego

Balding, Leonard Post 135s For 36

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Canada's Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C., shot a sensational 6-under-par 65 Friday to tie another Canadian, Al Balding of Toronto, and Eric Monti of Los Angeles for the lead at the halfway mark of the $20,000 San Diego Open.

Each had 36-hole scores of 135.

Monti, 42-year-old club professional, carded a 69 after leading in the first round with a 66.

Balding, among the last to finish, had a 66. But it was Leonard who shook up the house at the Mission Valley Country Club. He played the par 35-36—71 layout in 32-33—65 in a round highlighted by a 90-foot chip shot for an eagle 3 on the 493-yard 10th hole.

Young Gary Player of South Africa, former Pritish Open champion, shot a 69 to lag one stroke behind the leaders.

Arnold Palmer, the hero of professional golf in 1960, remained in close contention with a 68 for 137. Tied with him were Bily Casper Jr., 68; Frank Stranahan, 68; Frank Boynton, 69, and Jerry Barber, 70.

Bob Goalby, winner of the recent Los Angeles Open, had 70 for 138 and a tie with three others, including Dow Finsterwad, who shot a 166.

Petersburg Beats Keyser For 10th Win In A Row

Tornado Bows 68-52; Elk Garden Upset By Piedmont, 59-57

Petersburg High's unbeaten Vikings continued to roll along on the crest of the season's longest winning streak last night by downing Keyser High, 68-52, in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Petersburg. The win was the 10th in a row for Coach Carroll Michael's tossers and gave them an 8-0 conference record.

The Vikings' bid for the PVC title was aided immeasurably last night when Piedmont's hot-and-cold Lions stunned Elk Garden at Piedmont, 59-57, to snap the Elks' six-game winning streak and hand the visitors their second loss in the conference. Elk Garden is now 8-3 for the season and 7-2 in the league.

In other PVC engagements Southern High's Highlanders captured their third loop win with an easy 87-57 verdict over Romney High's helpless Pioneers at Oakland, and Fort Ashby's Eagles trimmed the West Virginia School for Deaf cagers, 85-35, at Fort Ashby.

Third Straight Loss

Keyser, suffering its third consecutive loss and fifth of the season, trailed throughout the game, but rallied in the fourth period to pull within five points at 57-52 before Petersburg spurted ahead again.

Lou Alt bombed the nets for 20 points before fouling out of the game in the third quarter for Petersburg. Harold Michael and Ernie Nelson chipped in with 15 and 16 points respectively for the winners.

Best for Keyser was Jim Courrier who contributed 19 points for the Tornado five before exiting on fouls with five minutes to play in the game.

Piedmont Rallies

Elk Garden, ahead by as much as 13 points in the third quarter, was rocked by Piedmont's late rally which caught the Elks with four minutes to play in the final stanza. Vincent Fagan's jump shot put the Lions ahead 48-47 and the winners quickly ran their lead up to 55-48.

With only seconds remaining Elk Garden scored to pull within one point at 58-57 but Paul Gates sank one of two foul chances to ice the verdict for Piedmont.

Fagan scored 28 points for Piedmont while Clifford Knotts tallied 21 for Elk Garden. Don Shillingburg chipped in with 18 in a losing cause for Coach Paul Kalbaugh's tossers.

At Oakland, Southern rang up its third conference victory and fifth win of the season, trouncing Romney for the second time this season and handing the Pioneers their sixth consecutive defeat.

Eagles Bounce Back

Fort Ashby's Eagles bounced back from a 52-51 upset loss to Ridgeley Tuesday to chalk up their sixth conference win of the campaign against the West Virginia School for Deaf Lions. The loss was the fourth PVC setback for the Romney quint. Accie Perry was the Deaf cagers' leading scorer with 12 points. Paul Price and Harold Kerns garnered 29 and 26 points respectively for Fort Ashby.

Paw Paw High's Pirates handed Mathias High its seventh PVC setback with an 89-80 triumph at Paw Paw. Tom Malcolm scored 34 points for the Pirates and Ronald Hamilton banged in 24. High for Mathias was Lowell Mathias with 34 points.

McCullough, 6' 8" pivotman, racked up 17 field goals and converted five times from the free throw line to account for his total. Charlie Robinson canned 22 points and Junior O'Neal collected 13 for the local quint. Five of the Investigators hit in double figures, led by Cunningham with 22.

The FBI led at the half, 48-46, but the "Y" came up with a 27-point third period, at the end of which they were in front by a 73-65 margin.

Pender Risks Title In Fight With Downes Tonight

Champion 9-5 Favorite In Boston Bout

Paul To Seek 13th Consecutive Win In Televised Contest

By JACK CUDDY

Their 15-rounder at the Boston Arena will be televised nationally by ABC at 10 p.m.

Because of two successive victories over Sugar Ray Robinson, 30-year-old Pender is recognized as 160-pound ruler in Europe, Massachusetts and New York. But the National Boxing Association recognizes Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah.

Rangy, dark-haired Paul is favored at 9-5 over the shorter, brown-haired challenger, Great Britain's most popular fighter in more than a decade. Pender, seeking his 13th straight victory, hasn't been beaten in four years.

Expect British Fans

More than 150 fans from across the Atlantic will be among the expected capacity 7,500, along with nine British sports writers, to see whether 24-year-old Terry can be the first fighter from the British Isles to win a world title on United States soil and return home with it.

Terry is a fair puncher with either fist. Going into his first professional American appearance, his record shows 21 knockouts in 32 fights. He suffered six defeats—four on "stops" because of facial cuts, one on a foul for a low punch and only one on a decision.

Despite the handicap of broken hands earlier in his career, Paul scored 19 knockouts in his 44 bouts. He suffered five defeats, including knockouts by Jimmy Beau and Eugene Hairston. And he had two draws. He hasn't been beaten since Feb. 14, 1955, when he lost a decision to Fullmer in Brooklyn.

Get $65,000 From TV

Promoter Silverman hopes for a gate of at least $50,000—with top tickets selling at $12. The television money is $65,000.

Pender gets 40 per cent of the net live gate and 60 per cent of the TV money. He may wind up with about $57,000. Terry, receiving 20 per cent of the net gate and only 15 per cent of the TV money, may get about $19,000—plus the chance at the title.

Should Downes win the title, he is contracted to grant Pender a return shot at it within 90 days; and Terry must place his entire purse—minus certain expenses—in escrow to guarantee the return bout.

Smith At Yorktown — Bossi, Rich To Split
"Mac" Gets New Post — Spring Grid Drills

By C. V. BURNS

CURTIS "GUS" SMITH, former coach of all sports at Franklin (W. Va.) High School, is now the head basketball mentor at York High School in Yorktown, Va. He is also assistant football and track coach.

GUS SMITH

Yorktown is ten miles from Newport News where William "Honey" Crites, former Petersburg (W. Va.) High School coach, is assistant recreation director of city schools.

Three years ago York High School's enrollment was 365, last year it was 500 and this year it exceeds 1,200.

Gus teaches six physical education classes and all of the coaching is after school. It is Smith's ambition to make the college level in coaching and he believes he has a good opportunity inasmuch as many of the Atlantic Coast and South conference coaches have moved up from high schools in that area.

Last summer Smith played with Moorefield in the Pen-Mar Baseball League. Since taking over the basketball reins at York High his team has won five out of seven games.

Gus, whose Franklin High basketball teams won 59 and lost 28 games in four years, sends his best regards to all in the Potomac Valley Conference and to John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, Fort Hill High School baseball coach.

WEST VIRGINIA School of the Deaf lost one of its most faithful teachers last week when Malcolm "Mac" Norwood moved on to Washington, D. C., to become program specialist in the Captioned Films for the Deaf Department of the Office of Health, Education and Welfare.

During his seven years at the Romney school, Norwood won many friends who regretted to see him leave but they're all wishing him the best of luck in his new position.

We liked "Mac" because he always had the welfare of his boys at heart and numerous times during his seven years as head basketball coach of the Lions we received typewritten notes from him with information about certain players.

"Mac," as his friends knew him, came to Romney in January, 1953, and served as boys' housefather in the School for the Deaf until June 1, 1953. In the fall of 1953, he was appointed to the teaching staff in the school for the Deaf. In 1954, he was made Director of Curriculum Planning, a position he held until he was appointed supervising teacher of the Intermediate and Advanced Department for the Deaf.

He served as head basketball coach in the School for the Deaf from 1953 until June 1, this year.

Norwood's best team was his 1957 quint which copped 21 of 24 games, won the P.V.C. title with a 9-1 record and finished third in the Eastern Deaf Schools Tourney at White Plains, N. Y. This team was sparked by Gene Smith who dumped in 474 points and Charley Beumi who chalked up 403.

The 1956 team also was a good one with a 13-8 record and a 6-4 showing in the P.V.C. Beumi was the "big gun" on this quint with 536 points to his credit.

Captioning films for the benefit of the deaf is a new activity of the federal government. Films are procured from the producers and abbreviated titles written from the text of the dialogue and superimposed on the films. The films are then loaned to organizations of the deaf and schools for the deaf free of charge.

Norwood will be in charge of programming educational films which will be used in schools for the deaf. Movie films and film strips are especially valuable in the teaching of social studies.

In recent years only sound films have been available for use in schools. Most of the value of the film is lost when the students cannot hear the dialogue. Captions on the films will make it possible for the students to understand the lesson that is being imparted.

Hollywood producers are releasing films to the government for captioning when they are taken off the circuit of movie theaters.

Norwood is a graduate of the American School for the Deaf, Hartford, Conn., and received his B. A. degree from Gallaudet College in 1949. He received his Master of Education degree from Hillyer College of the University of Hartford in 1958. "Mac" is married and the father of two boys.

THE POPULAR basketball officiating team of William J. Bossi and Alex Rich, both of Windber, Pa., will split up after the current season.

This pair has been working on the hardwoods for the past 13 years and their careers have carried them to numerous playoffs in Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia.

Bossi now is undergoing a training period as a supervisor for the Peoples Natural Gas Company at Wilkinsburg, Pa. When he finishes his training March 1 he will be assigned by the company.

Bossi and Rich are honoring their officiating contracts for this season.

We believe Arthur G. Ramey first brought Bossi and Rich into Allegany county for important schoolboy games almost 10 years ago and they've always made a hit here. They've worked the district tournaments here and also games in Bedford, Hagerstown and Martinsburg and at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Their careers have run a parallel course. Each won letters in basketball at Windber High School, served in the army during World War II and are employed by the Peoples Natural Gas Company.

This is the 30th season for Rich as a PIAA basketball official. He plans to team up with Andy Baranik, Jr., another Windberite, who has been an official for 10 years. Bossi has been officiating since the 1947-48 season.

10. WASHINGTON
Mickey Vernon is managing a last place club but is not coaching a first place team.

DANA "HORSE" LOUGH, the venerable coach of Potomac State College basketball and football teams, reports that the Catamounts will have spring football practice this year and that the only new team on the Cats' 1961 schedule will be Frostburg State Teachers College which will replace the Concord College Mountain Lions.

Spring practice was taboo last year but will be legal this year, the one-time Ironton tank informs us.

Frostburg State, incidentally, will have its first football team this year and the Bobcats plan to start spring drills the second or third week in March with an intra-squad game billed in May.

Coach Ron Van Ryswyk reports that Frostburg State is planning a six-game schedule and will open at Shepherd College, Sept. 23. Other home games are with Bridgewater, Waynesburg and Potomac State while D. & E. and Gallaudet will be met away from home.

Seventy candidates are expected to report for football at Frostburg.

Shepherd Plays At Frostburg State Tonight

Ridgeley To Host Moorefield Quint

Shepherd College's Rams, fresh from a prized 88-83 victory over Shippensburg (Pa.) State Teachers College, invade Frostburg tonight to do battle with Coach Ron Van Ryswyk's Frostburg State Bobcats in the opener of a two-game series between the teams.

Coach Flavius Smith's quint squared its series with Shippensburg Thursday night and is now 4-6 for the campaign. Shippensburg holds 71-61 and 54-37 decisions over the Bobcats who hit the century mark for the first time this season by whipping Coppin Junior College of Baltimore on Wednesday by the score of 100-55.

Frostburg State (4-5) could move into the .500 circle with a victory tonight.

Potomac State winds up a two-day road trip tonight by playing Montgomery Junior College.

Two high school basketball games are on tap for tonight.

Moorefield High's Yellowjackets (7-2) battle the Ridgeley High Blackhawks (4-6) at Ridgeley and the West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney (2-3) opposes Kendall School for the Deaf at Washington, D.C.

The Moorefield-Ridgeley game is a Potomac Valley Conference affair. Moorefield is 5-1 in the league and Ridgeley is 4-5.

Coaches Of Sunday School Teams Honored At Dinner

Mentors Presented "Y" Memberships

The Optimists Club of Cumberland and the Central YMCA staff combined to honor coaches of the Sunday School Basketball League teams last night at a dinner program held in the Community Room of the local Y.

Following the dinner a basketball game between the YMCA varsity team and members of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Recreation Association was played on the Y court. The coaches and members of their Sunday School basketball teams were guests at the contest.

The coaches were introduced and presented memberships to the YMCA in brief ceremonies prior to the start of the basketball game.

The dinner program, in recognition of the 33rd year of the church loop, was highlighted by the reading of a letter from J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, to the coaches and staff of the YMCA. It was read by Robert E. Hesse, Somerville, Ky., commissioner of basketball for the federal organization.

Letter From Hoover

The letter said in part "It is indeed a pleasure to extend greetings to the coaches of the YMCA Church Basketball League of Cumberland. Please accept my congratulations and best wishes for continued success in teaching our young boys the ideals of honesty, integrity and fair play. x x x

"They must be imbued with the highest principles of liberty and justice on which our great country was founded. One hour spent with our youth is an hour invested in the future of America.

"The coaches of the YMCA dedicated to the guidance and training of youth deserve the ardent support of all citizens."

Each of the 31 coaches in the league received a duplicate copy of Mr. Hoover's letter.

Robert Moore, vice president of the YMCA and chairman of the membership committee, was toastmaster at the dinner. Greetings from the Cumberland Ministerial Association were extended by Rev. Russell Fink, St. John's Lutheran Church, and Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney and president of the local Optimists club, spoke briefly.

Approximately 35 persons attended the dinner which was served by the YMCA auxiliary. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moreland lead the group in singing several songs at the completion of the dinner.

A majority of the team coaches were present at the dinner. Others who attended included Rev. and Mrs. W. Randolph Keefe of Grace Baptist Church, Rev. H. W. Nommensen of Trinity Lutheran Church; Robert Williams, general secretary of the YMCA and his two sons, Jeff and Doug; Earl Nonnenmann, president of the YMCA; Wallace Dow, program secretary of the Y; and members of the FBI.

Philley And Busby To Rejoin Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles moved to strengthen their outfield reserves Friday by signing veterans Jim Busby and Dave Philley, both of whom were released by the club last fall.

Philley, who hit .265 in 14 games with Baltimore last season, and Busby, who batted .258 in 80 games, were dropped last Oct. 13 before plans for expanding the American League with two new franchises were announced.

In helping stock the rosters of the two new clubs, the Orioles lost seven men on their major league list and two minor league farm players. Among them were four outfielders.

Dodgers Land Don Newcombe

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — All-time pitching star Don Newcombe will return to the Los Angeles Dodgers this spring — but only with the assurance of a spot with one of the Dodger farm teams.

Earlier Friday, Newcombe was made a free agent by the Cleveland Indians.

Dodger General Manager and Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi said Newcombe, last 20-game winner for the Dodgers, would go to Vero Beach, Fla., with other farmhands in the spring.

QUITS TULSA—Bobby Dodds quit as head football coach at Tulsa yesterday to take a similar job with the professional Calgary Stampeders of Canada's western inter-provincial football union. (AP Photofax)

West Virginia Plays Wildcats

Villanova Host At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A strong bench, steadily improving sophomores and a balanced scoring attack. That's the combination Coach George King has hit on as his West Virginia basketball squad has reeled off eight wins in a row.

And King & Co. will need all three aspects of that offensive punch when the Mountaineers take on Villanova here Saturday night.

Fred Schaus had a similar combination when he brought the Mountaineers here in 1957. The WVU cagers defeated the Wildcats 76-75 in the last three seconds of the game and the Villanova fans are still talking about that one.

Schaus had his Jerry West in that game and King has his Rod Thorn, who is proving an able successor to West.

Four WVU cagers are averaging in double figures with Thorn's 21.3-point average leading the way. Lee Patrone is hitting at a 16-point-per game clip followed by Jim Ritchie and Jim McCormick at 11 each.

The West Virginia - Villanova game will start at about 9:30 p.m., following a Penn - Brown game at the Palestra.

Pro Bowl Game Set For Sunday At Los Angeles

70,000 Will Attend NFL All-Star Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sunny skies, a 70,000 crowd and aerial fireworks from quarterbacks Johnny Unitas and Norm Van Brocklin are expected for Sunday's annual pro bowl game at the Coliseum.

Kickoff for the annual war between National Football League All-Stars is set for 1 p.m. PST. The game will be televised nationally over NBC.

Unitas will be looking for his second straight victory. He was voted player of the game last year after leading the Western division to a rousing 38-21 victory.

The Baltimore quarterback will be able to deploy a varied running game to keep the Eastern pass defenders honest. In the backfield with Unitas will be Jon Arnett of the Los Angeles Rams, Jim Taylor of Green Bay and Unitas' Baltimore teammate, Lenny Moore.

Sunday's game may be the swan song for Van Brocklin, who announced that he plans to retire after leading the Philadelphia Eagles to the league championship.

The East running attack features four-time NFL rushing leader Jim Brown of Cleveland, Jim David of St. Louis and Ray Renfro and Bobby Mitchell of Cleveland.

To Coach Canadians

Fast Buying Spree Gives Stock Market More Gains

NEW YORK (UPI) — A whirlwind buying spree at the close Friday gave the stock market a decisive capper on a full week of rising prices.

Volume mounted to 4,520,000 shares from 4,270,000 on Thursday for the sixth consecutive session that turnover topped 4 million.

Several hefty gains prodded the Dow-Jones industrial average 5.15 points higher to 633.65. DuPont rolled up 3, Procter & Gamble 2 and General Electric 2, checking its recent sharp decline.

Fractional movements dominated the rails that were ahead 0.31 to 139.63 at the close. Utilities gained 0.28 to 102.62 with Panhandle up 2 points following news of a big gas field discovery.

The market opened with an enthusiasm that swamped the ticker for the first half hour. Prices reached a temporary peak before noon, settled down to a drift until the final minutes when a sharp upswing left no question which way the market was headed.

The number of issues crossing the tape ran to a whopping 1,292, the most in recent history. These included 646 gainers, 81 to new highs and 414 losers, only 4 to new lows for 1960-61.

International Business Machines soared 14¾ points to 622¼, an all-time high, as the company reported 1960 earnings of 9.18 a share against $7.97 in 1959.

Steels and motors did little despite reports of better production in both sections. Jones & Laughlin lost 1⅛.

Despite higher prices for the metal in London, gold shares dropped. Homestake 1⅜.

Ling-Temco Electronics was the most actively traded stock with 127,600 shares, up 1⅞ to 30¾.

Stocks on the American Exchange moved irregularly higher. Fairchild Camera, settling the strike which has plagued it in recent months, climbed 14⅜ points to 144⅝.

Equity Suits Filed

Five new equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Joseph Acre vs. Mary T. Acre, Joseph Noonan vs. Lula Noonan, Dorothy Mae Shanholtzer, a minor, by Elizabeth Fishell, mother and next friend, vs. James William Shanholtzer, Julia E. Garlitz vs. Gilbert T. Garlitz, and Maud Mae Heilman vs. Charles C. Heilman.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Grain futures found a variety of inspirations Friday to stage a strong general advance on the Board of Trade.

Wheat closed up ⅝ to 1⅝, corn ¾ to 2⅜, oats ⅜ to 1, rye ⅞ to 1½, soybeans 1¼ to 2⅝, and drummed lard 17 to 28 points.

Soybeans gained support from byproducts, most of which climbed to new highs for the season. Pending export trade helped wheat, oats and rye.

Corn jumped more than 2 cents a bushel on a report the new administration is preparing a plan to boost price supports. Speculators were active buyers in deferred contracts of most gains.

Commercial and commission interests bought wheat. No export sales were reported, but about a dozen countries showed interest in wheat.

Corn advanced despite larger receipts and a mixed commercial trade. Mild weather apparently encouraged farmers to ship corn. July contracts found an active demand. Spot basis held steady.

Export subsidies were granted on 3,489,000 bushels of corn, 200,000 bushels of oats and 100,000 bushels of rye.

Oats and rye advanced in quiet dealings. Northwest brokers bought March oats.

Traders were more cautious than recently in soybeans, but the market continued active. Prices were less erratic, and many dealers showed less inclination to follow bulges. Commission houses were on both sides.

Drummed lard futures reached new seasonal highs on stop order buying and firmer vegetable oil futures.

Outside markets were mostly higher.

Johnson Will Be Powerful In New Role

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON (UPI)— In Churchillian terms, Lyndon B. Johnson didn't seek the vice presidency to preside over the liquidation of his political future.

And President-elect John F. Kennedy already has made it clear he intends to use his running-mate extensively — probably more fully than President Eisenhower utilized the talents of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Actually, the outgoing Senate Democratic leader may assume duties beyond those constitutionally assigned him only as the new President invites or approves.

Kennedy met that situation in a pre-Christmas announcement that Johnson will take over chairmanship of the President's Advisory Council on Space, oversee work of the Government Contract Committee which checks on job discrimination, and help out on security, defense and international relations problems.

The vice president's basic responsibility is the routine one of presiding over the Senate, where he may vote only in the case of a tie. Otherwise, the tasks of the office are largely ceremonial.

Nixon was given new and broadened duties by Eisenhower. He traveled overseas as the President's good will ambassador, participated in high-level cabinet and National Security Council meetings, and chaired the Government Contracts Committee. He also worked on legislative strategy.

Johnson as vice president will not let himself be tied to the presiding officer's chair. An active and restless man despite his 1955 heart attack, he'll more likely be found in areas where trouble-shooting is required.

That will include liaison with the White House, Speaker Sam Rayburn, his fellow Texan, and GOP congressional leaders as the need arises.

There have been signs that Kennedy may ask Johnson to represent him in some face-to-face negotiations abroad.

But Johnson's real value to Kennedy on Capitol Hill will be his personal influence with members of Congress. The Texan's ability to "wheel and deal" in close vote situations and to work out compromise agreements will stand the new President in good stead.

As Democratic leader Johnson has been responsible for committee assignments and other favors which have gone to Democratic senators in recent years. As vice president, he may be able to strengthen such influence because of his link with the White House and the new vista of patronage and political opportunity this unveils.

There is every prospect for greater rapport between the new President and his vice president than existed between Eisenhower and Nixon.

Attorneys On State Committees

A number of appointments on committees of the Maryland State Bar Association have been made by William J. McWilliams, president.

Earl E. Manges, Cumberland, has been named to represent the Fourth Judicial Circuit on the standing committee on legal education.

William C. Walsh, this city, former attorney general and judge of the Maryland Court of Appeals, has been appointed again on the committee to consider changes in the law to deal with widespread disaster.

It was this committee that set up legislation which was passed in the 1960 session of the General Assembly providing for succession of office for governor of Maryland in the event of widespread disaster.

Frederick A. Thayer, Oakland, was appointed to the young lawyers' committee.

On the committee for federal judiciary appointments is William B. Somerville, Baltimore, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Somerville, 110 Washington Street.

Representing Allegany, Washington and Garrett Counties on the same committee is Henry Holzafel III, Hagerstown.

Frank C. Wachter, Hagerstown, represents the fourth Judicial Circuit on the standing committee on legal biography.

David W. Byron, of Hagerstown, will serve until 1963 on the special committee on continuing education of the bar.

River Report Release Date Set In April

Recommendations of the Corps of Army Engineers on water supply and flood control projects to be constructed on the Upper Potomac River area will be released in April.

The announcement was made by Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Maryland, Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia and Reps Charles McC. Mathias of Maryland and Harley O. Staggers of West Virginia after a meeting attended by Col. John Allen, district engineer of the Corps of Army Engineers.

Among projects which will be discussed in the April recommendations—which will be known as the North Branch Report of the Potomac River Survey—will be proposed Savage River Dam No. 2 in Garrett County and Stony River Dam in nearby West Virginia.

Sen. Beall said he hopes that positive action on the projects will be possible shortly after the report is released.

Included in the Army engineers findings will be an analysis of the degree to which the federal and local government will profit from the projects.

Water Pressure Increase Sought

Several owners of property located on Bedford Road who are interested in developing home tracts met with city officials today concerning an increase in water pressure in the area.

Water Commissoiner G. Ray Light said the property involved covers about 100 acres and is located on a hill. Because of the terrain, the present 12-inch pipeline cannot adequately serve the additional area, which extends near the city limits.

Light said he is definitely interested in developing the section and getting it on the tax books.

As a result of the meeting yesterday, Light said he would request Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, and Simon K. Carroll, maintenance superintendent, to look into the matter.

Cost will be a major factor, Light said, adding if something can be done without spending a fortune, his department is definitely interested.

B&O Furloughs 25 Workers At Rowlesburg

Included are machinists and electricians and helpers. Known as M&K Shops, the facility has been operated for about 100 years and comprises the major segment of the economy of the town.

IT&T Set To Bounce Signals Off Moon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nutley, N.J., laboratories of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. were authorized by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Thursday to bounce signals off the moon as a part of their space program.

The commission allocated certain frequencies to the IT&T laboratories for one year to conduct experiments in space communications.

In advising the IT&T laboratories of the grant, the commission stressed that the "no determination has been made either nationally or internationally as to what portion or portions of the radio spectrum ultimately may become available for use by operational space communication systems."

Van Zandt Urges Job Aid Bill Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James E. Van Zandt of Pennsylvania Thursday urged House support for his distressed areas bill.

The Altoona Republican's measure would provide federal aid on a matching-fund basis.

He had planned to make a speech on the subject, but the House adjourned shortly after President Eisenhower's State of the Union message was read. As a result, Van Zandt placed his remarks in the congressional record.

Under Van Zandt's proposal, economically depressed communities would provide 10 per cent of the money that would be available as loans to help finance the establishment of new industry in their areas. The remainder would be provided on a 50-50 basis by the state and federal governments.

All payments on the loans would remain in the state, the federal share thus becoming a grant to the state.

PTA Meeting Set Tomorrow

The Parent-Teacher Association of SS. Peter and Paul Parochial School will meet Sunday at 2 p.m. in the parish hall, according to P. Raymond Shaffer, president.

The meeting will be featured by reports on upcoming activities, Shaffer said. Mrs. Marguerite Sloan, chairman, will present a progress report on the covered dish supper the PTA will hold on Sunday, January 29, and Edward Rider, chairman, will report on plans for the organization's prelenten dance which will be held next month.

Classroom visitation will be held following the meeting, Shaffer said.

Beer License Is Transferred

A Class D beer license held by Mrs. Jean Twigg on premises at 620 Columbia Avenue has been transferred to Lawrence V. Lowery.

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners approved the transfer yesterday pending receipt of the bulk sales permit from the state.

Cold Airwaves War

LONDON (AP)—The cold airwaves war is on again because, Moscow radio contends, the British Broadcast Corp. Russian language programs insult Soviet leaders. Moscow commentator Mikhail Volgin reminded BBC that Soviet jamming had been suspended for three months last year and said it got crackling again when BBC "resumed the cold war."

DEVELOPING SERIES

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The former executive director of "The Untouchables" is developing a new hour-long television series, "The New Breed," based on activities of Los Angeles' select Metropolitan Police Squad.

Quincy Martin said the new series will be filmed entirely on Los Angeles streets and show how the squad of 75 high-trained men operate under new police techniques. The series is being developed for ABC.

WINS ROLE

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Erika Peters will co-star in "Die Hochstapliren" (The Con Woman) to be filmed in Germany.

Teachers May Get Bigger Pay Hike

Tawes Insists On Sound Plan

BY HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Gov. Tawes Frida opened up prospects of a general pay raise for school teachers but indicated it would have to be limited in scope and backed up by a tax program.

F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT

The question of replacing the James Committee proposals for aid to education, costing $6.4 million but including school construction money as well as salary aid, was raised at a morning conference between the governor and legislative leaders.

Tawes said later he had told backers of a general salary bill to see what they could work up and submit it for further consideration. "If it's a reasonable program, I would agree to it," Tawes told newsmen. "But if anybody wants to go on a spending spree it would be a different matter."

The governor indicated he hopes to take up the proposals again before he submits his budget to the legislature Jan. 24.

Differing Views

Legislative leaders are widely split on whether it would be better to give school teachers a specific pay raise or whether to funnel the money to subdivisions as aid to education and let local governments decide how best to use it.

The James Committee recommends that $3.4 million go to subdivisions as state aid under school operation costs and $3 million as an incentive fund for school construction. It proposed an additional $2.5 million in welfare aid for local governments, of which $2.3 million would go to hard-pressed Baltimore City.

When Tawes endorsed the report on aid to subdivisions, by the Legislative Council Committee on Taxation and Fiscal Matters, he said he would propose a tax increase of about $10 million to finance it and salary adjustments for state employes.

"I endorsed the James Committee report because it seemed to be the unanimous opinion of the Legislative Council that it was needed for aid to subdivisions," the governor said.

Would Not Resist Change

"If they want to change it and don't go too far afield I would not have objections."

There is no firm indication as yet, however, that the program will be scrapped. Tawes said tables must be prepared showing how local governments would fare under both proposals, what kind of tax would be needed, and then a decision made as to which would be better.

Legislative leaders themselves are split on the issue. Sen. William S. James, D-Harford, chairman of the fiscal committee which bears his name, thinks it would be a big mistake to tamper with the distribution pattern worked out by the committee over the course of the summer. Sen. Edward S. Northrop, majority floor leader and chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee, also is against changing it.

Alternate Plan Backed

House leaders, principally majority floor leader Gordon Boone, D-Balto County, are sparking the move for an alternate plan. There are also a number of legislators on both sides of the hall who believe if the administration is to raise taxes this year it would be better to do it for a program that would do more to satisfy the demand for teacher pay.

A final figure is yet to be arrived at. The teachers are asking for general pay raises which would boost salaries by an average of more than $400 and raise minimum scales from $4,000 to $6,000. This would cost $13 million.

Weatherholt Heads Heart Fund Campaign

Drive Will Open On February 1

F. Allan Weatherholt, trial magistrate for Allegany County and local newspaperman, will serve as general chairman for the 1961 Heart Fund campaign, the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association announced yesterday.

Mr. Weatherholt, who is one of two charter members still active in heart association work, has served as a director and as vice president, and was a two-term president.

He was active in forming the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association, extending activities of the Allegany County Rheumatic Fever and Heart Association to embrace the two counties.

The Heart Fund campaign, which commences February 1, will climax on Heart Sunday, February 26, when hundreds of volunteers in all of the area's residential districts will call on residents for contributions.

Contributions make possible the support of cardiovascular research in Maryland, and aid scientists in clinics and university laboratories throughout the nation. The Allegany-Garrett association is a chapter of the American Heart Association.

Research Has Priority

Research has top priority in the heart program, and in the past 12 years has been responsible for progress in saving hearts through new methods of diagnosis, treatment and prevention. Dollars also support broad programs of public and professional education.

According to Chairman Weatherholt, "The heart and blood vessel diseases are still the nation's Number One health enemy."

Mr. Weatherholt, who has been serving as magistrate in Trial Magistrate's Court here since his two-year appointment by Governor Tawes, takes over the general chairmanship from George R. Hughes Jr., who filled the position two years.

A resident of 419 Fairmont Lane, Mr. Weatherholt is a native of Kitzmiller, Garrett County. He graduated from Allegany County High School in 1926.

Beall Seeks Meeting On Pinto Bridge

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall said here yesterday that he is arranging a conference with several federal agencies in connection with the needs of a new bridge across the Potomac River at Pinto.

Attending the conference will be officials of the Navy's procurement and yards and docks divisions, the Federal Bureau of Public Works and the Defense Department.

Senator Beall said he believes something can be worked out.

Efforts toward the construction of the span are also being pushed on the state and county levels.

Thomas B. Finan, who yesterday assumed his post as attorney general of Maryland, and Russell McCain, administrative assistant in the governor's office and former chairman of the State Roads Commission have been requested by Gov. Tawes to check into the proposal for a new Pinto bridge.

The two men were asked by the governor to compile as much data as possible on procedures and ways of handling the matter, according to Commissioner John J. Rowan, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Rowan said the governor gave assurances of his full support for the proposal at a meeting Thursday afternoon in Annapolis. County Commissioner John T. Mason also attended the session.

Pumping Unit Planned At Lake Gordon

Light Is Awaiting Estimate Of Costs

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said yesterday he is considering recommending the installation of a low-lift pumping station at Lake Gordon.

He said the Robert T. Regester Associates firm has advised it is mailing a breakdown of costs of installing the pumping facility which is needed to tap a 40-50-day supply of water which will not flow into the city's filtration plant by gravity.

Mr. Light said he will urge immediate action on the pumping station if the cost is not too great and funds are on hand.

Termed Protection

Citing the present water levels in Lake Gordon and Lake Koon, he said the city "should protect itself."

He said officials of the Baltimore consulting engineer firm advised that the project could be started right away.

Mr. Light said the pumping station will probably be needed later this year when rehabilitation of the Lake Gordon gate chamber begins.

After an inspection of the gate chamber late last fall, W. E. Bartles, project engineer for the firm, recommended that the dam's control chamber be taken out of service and that all gate valves and equipment necessary for the operation of the valves be replaced with new equipment.

Was Deferred

In his report, Mr. Bartles advised that before the gate chamber can be rehabilitated, it will be necessary to install low-lift pumps and have them in operation, as the gate chamber will be out of service for several months while it is being rehabilitated.

Mr. Light termed the pumping station a "very important step" in the modernization of the water treatment plant.

The pumping station was included in the original recommendations of the Regester firm for modernizing the city's water treatment and storage facilities.

It was deferred, however, as the construction of the six new filter units and the rehabilitation of the 12 original units were considered more urgent.

Local Couple Sues Railway For $7,500

A local man and his wife, who have filed two separate damage suits in Allegany County Circuit Court, are suing the Western Maryland Railway Company for a total of $7,500 as the result of an accident on a crossing here two years ago.

Evelyn B. Stitcher, wife of J. Henry Stitcher, 508 Dilley Street, who was hurt in the accident on January 15, 1958, is claiming damages of $5,000 for her injuries and medical expenses.

About 6:40 p. m. that day she was driving her husband's car across the railroad tracks near Franklin Street and was traveling west toward Centre Street.

The barrier gates on the crossing had not been lowered, according to the papers, which indicated that the car was hit on the driver's side by the rear end of a string of railroad cars being backed across the crossing.

The woman was injured and the car damaged beyond further use.

Mr. Stitcher filed a suit for $2,500 for being deprived of the services of his wife. Frederick A. Puderbaugh and Matthew J. Mullaney are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Census Bureau Plans Survey Next Week

GOP On Rise Rep. Mathias Tells Club

FREDERICK (AP) — Rep. Charles McC. Mathias, Maryland's only Republican congressman, said Friday night many factors in last November's general election show the GOP is on the rise across the nation.

Mathias cited three of the factors which he said indicate a broadening of the base of the Republican party which will permit it to regain the White House. They are:

1. A gain of 20 seats for Republicans in the House of Representatives, unprecedented in the year of a Democratic presidential victory.

2. A gain of 280 GOP seats in state legislatures.

3. The large number of student polls and elections which showed "support of youth for Republican policies."

Mathias made his remarks in a speech before some 100 members of the Frederick County Young Republican Club and the executive board of the Maryland Federation of Republican Clubs. The board met at the Francis Scott Key Hotel to accept the new Frederick group into the federation.

Mathias predicted "the basic health of the American economy will show an increase within the next six months unless the economic tinkerers with fuzzy fiscal philosophies place an obstacle in the path of this progress which sound economists now foresee."

"But it is not enough for us simply to denounce these Democratic policies," Mathias said. "We must recognize problems which do arise and find solutions for them ourselves in accord with our principles."

The Frederick attorney, who defeated incumbent John R. Foley to break a solid Democratic front in the House, called for expressions of grass-roots sentiment on all issues.

"With national leaders of our party dispersed, it is only the active members of our party, like you young Republicans, who can formulate these wise, constructive and positive policies and solutions," he said.

"We in Congress ask you to send us your suggestions, thoughts and opinions of all current legislation."

Parsons Couple Thwarts Holdup At Restaurant

Gunfire Exchanged; Intruders Captured

A couple who lives near Parsons, W.Va., thwarted an attempted robbery at their motel-restaurant near that community yesterday and also captured the two would-be thieves after an exchange of gunfire.

Mrs. Clara Purnell said she and her husband, Earl, were awakened about 2 a.m. by the sound of glass breaking in the front door of the restaurant. Their living quarters are back of the restaurant.

The woman said she and her husband each grabbed a shotgun and waited in the darkness inside a door looking out into the restaurant. Presently, she said, a hand reached inside the broken glass door to unlock it.

Purnell then switched on the lights and ordered the thieves to throw up their hands.

His command was answered by three quick shots, and one bullet whistled by the wife's head.

Undaunted, she let go a blast from her 16-gauge shotgun. The two thieves dived for cover, surrendered, and were held at gunpoint until Tucker County Sheriff James Phillips and Deputy Warren Nicely arrived.

The captives were identified as Floyd Kyle, 27, of Elkins, and a 16-year-old boy, also of Elkins. A third person was waiting for them in a car and sped away when the companions were caught.

Neither the thieves nor the Purnells were wounded. Both intruders were armed, one with a .45 caliber pistol and the other with a .32 caliber revolver.

'Monster' Sighted In County Areas

There is talk of a "monster" lurking around the Frostburg area, and LaVale.

Thursday night Maryland State Police received a call from a hysterical woman in Woodlawn, LaVale, who said she saw the monster but was unable to furnish a description.

Later they received a phone call that the monster was moving about the Finzel and Eckhart sections. It is reported to have green hair, and rumors have placed it in just about every small village around Frostburg.

A similar monster was reported recently in southern West Virginia. It supposedly invaded that state last year and put in another appearance approximately, around New Year's.

Winning Democrat Team Is Voluntarily Dissolved

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The winning Democratic team of J. Millard Tawes and C. Ferdinand Sybert was broken up voluntarily Friday.

As governor, Tawes swore in Sybert as an associate judge of The Maryland Court of Appeals.

Both took note that each had won statewide office under a Republican governor in 1954. Tawes was comptroller and Sybert attorney general under Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

Tawes then won election as governor in 1958 and Sybert was re-elected attorney general.

Sybert's removal to the bench started a chain reaction of Democratic administrative changes.

Tawes later swore in Thomas B. Finan of Cumberland as the new attorney general and Lloyd L. Simpkins of Princess Anne as secretary of state.

Finan, the state Democratic chairman, has been secretary of state and Simpkins executive assistant to Tawes.

"It has been a team that has been working pretty well," Tawes said in commenting on the wholesale changes. "I hate to see it broken up."

"I recall our many contacts of the past," said Sybert to Tawes upon relinquishing the attorney general's post to don a judicial robe.

"I am sure we can continue our close association, although not in political affairs which I must eschew from this moment. As an old political war horse, I must admit to some wrench at getting out of that arena."

Sybert had been considered a possible candidate for governor himself, in 1962.

Tawes was able to appoint him to the Court of Appeals after the voters last November approved increasing the number of judges from five to seven.

The close personal friendship between Tawes and Sybert was evident to the spectators packed into the big House of Delegates chamber when the governor in addressing him said "Ferd — I mean judge."

Sybert quipped during the ceremony "It was poetic justice for me to be sworn in this chamber, the scene of so many crimes when I was speaker of the House."

After being speaker, Sybert also served one term in the State Senate from Howard County before running for attorney general.

After he was sworn in, Finan expressed the hope "I can do half as well" as attorney general as one of his predecessors, William C. Walsh.

Finan is a law partner of Walsh, who attended the ceremonies with scores of other Democratic leaders from throughout the state.

Finan said the date of his becoming attorney general had double significance. He nodded toward his wife in a front row seat and said it was the same date he married her.

Local Youth Named Soldier Of Month

Pfc. Glen O. Shaffer, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tonie L. Shaffer, RFD 5, city, recently was named Soldier of the Month for the Army Storage Detachment in Metz, France.

A supply handler in the detachment, Pfc. Shaffer was selected for his soldierly appearance, knowledge and performance of duties, and military courtesy.

He entered the Army in June 1959 and arrived overseas in November of that year. He is a 1959 graduate of South Hagerstown High School.

Zoning Board Makes Changes In LaVale Law

The area bounded by Maryland Route 36 and the Western Maryland Railway at LaVale has been designated as "Commercial B" by the LaVale Zoning Board which held a public hearing this week.

Lloyd H. Buchanan, chairman of the board, said eight changes were made to the zoning ordinance which will be reprinted and available to persons who will be required to pay a printer's cost and mailing charges.

Mr. Buchanan said the board, which is responsible for enforcing the ordinance, has the authority to impose fines ranging from one to $100 for each day of violation.

He said trailers are known to be located in the community in violation with the ordinance, and some homes are known to be underway without permits.

These individuals must get in touch with the board immediately and comply with the ordinance, or fines will be imposed, he said.

No building permits were issued at the public meeting, according to Mr. Buchanan, who said T. L. Smith, David Whitworth and a representative of the LaVale Taxi Cab Company were among those who appeared before the board for information on projects under way or contemplated.

Mathias Has Breakfast At White House

Rep. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md. 6th, was among a group of 38 new members of Congress who had breakfast with President Eisenhower at the White House yesterday.

The President makes a practice of inviting groups of new Republican Congressmen to the White House for informal gatherings.

Later in the day, Rep. Mathias met with representatives of the Washington County Economic Development Commission who were in Washington to see him about Western Maryland's economic problems.

Rep. Mathias said he is studying possible legislation to help solve the problems.

On Thursday, he met with leaders of the Maryland Farm Bureau in Baltimore. About 35 farm leaders from places in the Sixth District were present.

CAB Explains Regulation On Plane Subsidy

Algonquin Files For Certificate

Algonquin Airways will have to hold a certificate authorizing the transportation of mail to become eligible for a subsidy, the Civil Aeronautics Board has advised Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

The information was contained in a letter from John W. Dregge, chief of the CAB's Routes Division, in reply to the mayor's telegram urging immediate action on a mail subsidy application of Algonquin Airways.

The CAB official said Montgomery Air Charter Service, Inc., trading as Algonquin Airways, filed a request with the CAB on January 4 for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to engage in air transportation of passengers, property and mail on a route between Cumberland and Washington.

Cites Federal Act

Mr. Dregge explained that as an air taxie operator, Algonquin may provide air service for passengers and property with aircraft not exceeding a take-off weight of 12,500 pounds.

He said that under Section 406 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, the board's authority to fix mail rates, which consists of compensation for the carriage of mail plus a subsidy element where required for the development objectives of the act, is limited to holders of certificates authorizing the carriage of mail.

He said the board could issue such a certificate only after formal proceedings, including a public hearing, is conducted.

Algonquin's application, he said, has been placed on the board's pending docket but has not been set for a hearing.

He added that Algonquin may, of course, continue to provide passenger and property service as an air taxi operator.

Suggests Mail Route

It was suggested that in addition to seeking authority to carry mail and become eligible for a subsidy as a certificate holder, Algonquin might wish to investigate the possibility of a grant of a star air mail route, but that it would not carry with it eligibility to receive a subsidy.

Mr. Dregge also advised that the issue of the possible renewal of Allegheny's certificate authority at Cumberland is pending, and that a copy of the decision will be sent. Allegheny halted service here in 1959 when its certificate authority expired.

Algonquin Airways began scheduled service between Cumberland and Washington early in November. It recently discontinued morning flights due to lack of patronage.

Plaintiff Wins Lawsuit Over Clay Payment

An Allegany County Circuit Court petit jury yesterday reached a verdict favoring the plaintiff in a case stemming from a dispute over payment for clay which was furnished to the Mt. Savage Refractories.

Philip Jenkins, of 101 Wood Street, Frostburg, was awarded $3,877.44 by the jurors who deliberated for about an hour. The plaintiff, through his attorneys, Milton Gerson and John Sullivan, sought $5,000 damages.

In the suit, Mr. Jenkins claimed that on September 1, 1959, he and A. J. Rost, president of the company, had entered into a verbal agreement whereby the plaintiff was retained by the company to buy clay for the defendant's factory at Mt. Savage.

In return for the services the plaintiff was to receive a broker's commission on every ton of clay that he purchased for the company.

From September 30, 1959 to January 15, 1960 the plaintiff had purchased 18,464 tons of clay, and was entitled to receive a commission of 25 cents per ton or a total of $4,616 which, according to the papers filed in court, the defendant refused to pay.

Papers filed in the case indicated that defendant had paid the commission on 858 tons of clay.

The company was represented by Hugh A. McMullen. The case was heard by the jury with Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris presiding.

Perry Como—'Mr. Nice Guy' To Fans, Many Associates

By CHARLES J. LEAVY

If ever you have the opportunity to meet Perry Como, be prepared to be surprised in one way or another. Those who have been associated with him for many years will confirm the face that he never fails to amaze his friends not only with his mild mannerisms, but with his uncanny knack for unexpected statements or actions.

Perry Como

Known as "Mr. Nice Guy" not only to his fans but to the over 248 associates—actors, stagehands, writers, dancers and clerical workers—who go into the production of his weekly show, Perry has more than earned this appellation.

If you've seen him on television, you can consider yourself as having met him personally: unassuming, soft spoken, warm, talented with a natural sense of humor. He's relaxed and easy-going, although he once told a newspaperman, "I'm not relaxed, I'm just tired."

His patience and true fondness for his fans provide the key to the man's personality. He'd rather be late for rehearsal or an appointment than fluff them off; they snap their cameras and press him for autographs at the stage door.

Despite the stature he has attained in the entertainment field, he still finds time to afford the press interviews. In our particular case an original interview had to be cancelled because of sickness in the family. He not only gracefully accepted our excuse but set a new time immediately, and sent a telegram wishing speedy recovery.

Fame hasn't tarnished Perry's sense of values. His contributions of time and money to benefits and charities are great but infrequently publicized—he prefers it that way.

A man of great faith, Perry admits: "I have the things money can buy now, but the things money can't buy, I've always had."

Borge Serious Type

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — A comedian's life isn't all one big joke. Neither is it the "laugh-clown-laugh" idea of the essentially sad man who manages a happy exterior.

Great comedians are human beings; to them, comedy is simply another trade. There are both good and bad things about the job.

Victor Borge, concert pianist as well as comedian, is saddled with one problem that perhaps is unique.

"They won't take me seriously," he groans. "I would like to conduct—that's my secret ambition. And I'm a good conductor, if you'll pardon my immodesty. They want me always to be funny."

That, of course, is understandable. He is very successful at being funny. And the humor is in him; it bubbles out at almost every provocation.

Obviously, it would be difficult to suppress a sense of humor so near the surface. And Borge doesn't want to suppress it entirely.

"When I go to a party, they expect me to be funny, and I usually am funny. I like it, I enjoy it.

"But when I'm not in the mood to be funny, I don't go to the party. I couldn't go and then just sit in the corner. We are what we are and we shouldn't try to avoid it.

"There are many things I could have been, but I chose to be a pianist and humorist. So why try to be anything else."

But he does hunger for a chance to be recognized as a serious musician—he'd like it if the audience didn't laugh when he sat down at the piano.

"When I fall off the piano bench," he says, "I am not doing slapstick. I am doing a satire on a pianist who is so carried away with his music that he falls off the bench. If I wanted to do slapstick, I could just let my trousers fall down."

These are, of course, relatively minor matters. Basically, he's content with his lot; you could easily mistake him for a happy man.

"Happy? What is happiness? I am not happy because I am a comedian, but I am happy because of other things entirely.

"I am happy because I have five children who are healthy so far, a wife I like and because I missed the gas chambers in World War II. These are what make me happy. They have nothing to do with the fact that I am a comedian."
